The Inramble Audio

2008

Hosted by Frank Edward Nora

In early 2008, Frank experimented with a video show, called Inramble. These "quick video trips" seemed perfect for the rapidly growing online video world. But when they failed to gain any significant viewership, Frank ended the project and decided to stick with audio. This is the complete audio from that project (the videos are still available on YouTube).

The Audio Field Trip #1 (7/24/03) 58:57 [202] Notes from Station Unlimited release, December 2005: ¶ "The Audio Field Trip" is a feature on The Overnightscape where I go out into the world and record various adventures and activities. Most of these are edited and played in their entirety on the show - but two of them are special cases. The first one is "The Audio Field Trip #1, which I was only able to play a very little bit of on The Overnightscape #20 (7/24/03). This is the complete recording. ¶ On this trip, I go on "The Iselin Run", driving down to my storage unit in Iselin, NJ. This full audio was played for a while in 2003 on the Bluffcosm "live stream", and was then released as one of the "Second Anniversary Bonus Releases" back on March 27, 2005. This release has much better audio quality.

The Forgotten Beercast (5/10/05) 40:54 [202] Notes from Station Unlimited release, October 2006: Recorded on Tuesday, May 10, 2005, at a bar called "One and One" (at the corner of 1st Ave. and 1st St. in Manhattan). Starring Greg Narain (Beercasting.com / Sparkcasting.com), Steve Warren (InteractiveNYC.com), Frank Edward Nora (TheOvernightscape.com), and waitress "Myar". ¶ Here's the story - Greg created the website "Beercasting.com", with the general idea of getting a bunch of people together at a bar, and then recording and podcasting their conversation on several different topics. At some point, Greg changed the name of the website to "Sparkcasting.com" and added a potential market research aspect to the project. This caused some controversy, as seen on this blog post. Then Greg posted on the NYC Podcasting Meetup forum, also causing a bit of controversy. ¶ In any case, I went to the Beercasting that night, and we didn't start recording till real late. Only Greg, Steve, and myself were left. Greg wanted me to use my recorder, so I recorded the Beercast. We talked on a number of different topics, including the Sparkcasting marketing idea, podcasting, Adam Curry, stats, and male aggression. Toward the end, waitress "Myar" joined the recording. I eventually went to the bathroom and the Beercast ended. ¶ The next day I sent the audio file to Greg, who said he would post it on Sparkcasting.com. But, as it happened, Sparkcasting was never updated. If fact, to this day, the site does not appear to have been updated at all since May of 2005. I think I emailed Greg a few times, but eventually I forgot about the whole thing. ¶ Then, at the Podcasting Expo in Ontario, California, in September 2006, who should I meet at the bar at the Marriott but Greg! It was good to see him again, and he said he was working on some new stuff. I mentioned the recording to him and he said I could go ahead and post it. ¶ I'm still not sure what happened with the whole Sparkcasting thing, but in any case, here is the complete, unedited "Forgotten Beercast" from that long ago day...

Frank at the Apple Store Fifth Avenue Opening (5/19/06) 2:36:50 [202] Notes from Station Unlimited release, May 2006: I went to check out the opening of the new Apple Store Fifth Avenue and I wound up recording over 2-and-a-half hours of audio! Instead of waiting weeks or months to edit it and play it on the show, I figured I'd release the raw audio right away for your listening pleasure... nothing edited (except a few phone numbers I had to bleep). Ben from CodedSignal.com pretty much became my co-host at one point. I met a bunch of other podcasters there - it was a lot of fun! (P.S. Gaurav got in at 9:50 PM.)

The Overnightscape Skypecast Experiment - Preshow and Postshow (6/11/06) 1:06:00 [202] The Preshow and Postshow of "The Overnightscape Skypecast Experiment". The main part of the show was heard on The Overnightscape #476 (6/12/06).

Frank Learns How To Make Yarn On A Spinning Wheel (6/17/06) 6:08 [202] "Frank Learns How To Make Yarn On A Spinning Wheel (6/17/06)" - recorded June 17, 2006 - 6:08 - 5.7 MB - StationUnlimited.com release #44 (June 21, 2006) - su-AFT-04_Frank_Yarn-044 ¶ Frank visits the Handspun Collective at the Renegade Craft Fair at McCarran Park in Williamsburg, Brooklyn. Complete spinning wheel audio. (Edited version heard on The Overnightscape #483).

Wedding at Woolman Hill (7/29/06) 1:52:36 [202] Notes from Station Unlimited release, August 2006: Recorded on Saturday, July 29, and Sunday, July 30, 2006. On this Audio Field Trip, my wife Denice and I travel from northern New Jersey to a wedding in western Massachusetts. Phil and Sarah, listeners to The Overnightscape, are getting married at a Quaker retreat called "Woolman Hill". On this recording, you'll hear about the long drive up, the creepy motel, arrival at the wedding, the wedding ceremony, walking through a cornfield the next day, visits to the Yankee Candle Flagship Store and the Hampshire Mall, and much more. ¶ I recorded this Audio Field Trip on my Edirol R-1 digital recorder. Unfortunately, the Compact Flash card had gone faulty but I didn't know about it. The total recording consists of 75 segments, totalling almost 2.5 hours. Unfortunately, 11 of the files were corrupt - so about 36 minutes of recordings were lost, all interspersed throughout. The lost segments include some commentary about the wedding, the night drive back to the motel, and an interview with Phil and Sarah. ¶ This release consists of the raw unedited audio (minus the corrupt segments). It is a long, rambling piece of audio, and the "narrative" suffers a bit from the loss of some of the segments. But there is a lot of interesting and very varied stuff in this audio. Hopefully I'll do an edited version at some point that will be an easier listen.

Mall Remastered (11/12/05 and 9/30/06) 1:06:12 [202] Audio of Frank visiting the Ontario Mills Mall in Ontario, California, on two separate occasions - November 12, 2005 and September 30, 2006. Both audio pieces were previously released along with the Podcast Expo audio - but now they are brought together for the first time - and remastered, too!!

The Porch Trilogy - Episode Zero (10/21/07) 20:35 [202] This is a recording from October 21, 2007 - being released now for the very first time. The rest of The Porch Trilogy was recorded right after this, and released on The Overnightscape episodes 651, 652, and 653. Topics include the romance of vinyl, Marshall McLuhan, Pearl Jam, The Outer Limits Marathon, Treo 680, Mercury Retrograde, science and the supernatural, time problems, catching the bus, the secret project, a failed project, failed recordings, and The Overnightscape Undergound.

Initial Exit Ramp (10/12/09) 2:16:08 [202] The first "Exit Ramp" live broadcast, on the Internet, from The Overnightscape Studio. Intended to be a quick test of the technology, but so many people got involved in the chatroom and called in the show lasted for well over 2 hours! ¶ Video: http://www.ustream.tv/recorded/2343640

Nightweek: The New Season (9/1/11) 1:03:13 [202] Welcome to the new show "Nightweek" - a program all about The Overnightscape Underground, here at the start of the new season... what it's all about, shows on the station, explorations in the night, recent comments, 6-year-old Frank from 1973 in "Bad Hole", history of Onsug, ideas for future episodes of Nightweek, and much more...

Exit Ramp Test (5/21/12) 54:40 [202] Frank and PQ test out the idea of using Google+ Hangouts to record group shows. The Hangout is automatically recorded and posted to YouTube, where the audio can then be extracted. Let us know what you think. ¶ Original video: http://www.youtube.com/watch?v=8DgwebjSScs

Litopia After Dark: Teledildonics (9/26/12) 54:43 [202] I had a great time being on Litopia After Dark! Posting the show here with the kind permission of Peter Cox, the host. ¶ Show notes from the original post: Internet legend Frank Edward Nora joins us for tonight's show; for nearly a decade, Frank has been the C21st Samuel Pepys of the 'net. Patiently and wittily chronicling the life of homo sapiens commuticus, Frank's audio diaries extend to more than 4300 recordings that would take over 5 months to listen to. It's a legacy, he believes, for future historians. "This is the most interesting time in history ever", he says. ¶ YA author Colin Mulhern has had a great week - his second book, Arabesque, has just been published to glittering reviews - but why did he suddenly self-censor, at the eleventh hour? We probe! ¶ Presented by Peter Cox with Dave Bartram and the refulgent Ali Gardiner in the chat room.

My Address Is Still Walton: A Play For The Set of Charlie Rose (6/10/14) 1:14:47 [202] A reading of Karinne Keithley Syers' "My Address Is Still Walton: A Play For The Set of Charlie Rose", presenting a host of interviewers and guests, and one intriguing translator. Directed and performed by Johanna McKeon, Caleb Bark, and Lacy Post. Music composed by Steve Lighty. Illustration by John Nora. ¶ Recorded for The Overnightscape Underground by Frank Edward Nora on June 10, 2014, in John and Johanna's kitchen in NYC. ¶ License for this track: Creative Commons Attribution-NonCommercial-NoDerivs 3.0 Unported License (creativecommons.org/licenses/by-nc-nd/3.0/). The Neverending Broadcast (with Frank) (12/21/14) 4:00:00 [202] An experimental recording exploring the idea of an endless audio transmission. ¶ It's an idea I've had for a long time, so I decided to do an experimental show today... it's related to the old Nightstation concept... I don't plan on doing anything else with the idea for the time being, but it was fun to record.

OnsugBox Intro 1 (10/18/09) 1:48:58 [202] The is the new Intro, recorded after some additional material was added to OnsugBox.

OnsugBox Intro 2 (8/30/09) 1:05:52 [202] This was the original Intro, recoreded before the additional material was added.

OnsugBox Intro Music - "Interlude 1500"" (10/18/09) 19:47 [202] Frank playing with his Kaossilator. This brings OnsugBox to exactly 1,500 hours :)

Listen to Frank on The Overnightscape 1:12 [202] In case you haven't heard, I've returned to doing my original show, The Overnightscape. It's available at TheOvernightscape.com, and also on iTunes. Come and listen today! ¶ Thanks, Frank

Pocket Overnightscape Intro (3/23/13) 3:34:14 [202] Pocket Overnightscape is released! Basic Overnightscape (2012) 18:46:17 [202] Back in May 2012, I was contacted by Rosanna from basic.fm - a Broadcast Art, Sound & Independent Culture project based in Newcastle, UK. She said they wanted to play some episodes from the world of The Overnightscape, which would give a broad overview of shows, both old and new. I sent her this list of seven tracks (over the course of a month or two):

The Overnightscape 876: Jugo De Paraguas (5/16/12) 3:37:57
The Overnightscape #8 (5/1/03) 1:00:00
Overnightscape Central - Rainy Day (5/28/12) 1:26:27
The Rampler #318 - ANALOG TV (6/12/09) 3:20:27
Overnightscape Central - No Longer - (7/4/11) 1:57:57
The Overnightscape #596 (5/12/07) 2:13:00
ug: Port/Pinchot (11/28/08) 3:45:24

She said there was a good response to these shows. It's always good to get more people to listen to The Overnightscape Underground!

At some point I got the idea that it would be a cool idea to combine all of these tracks into a single audio file - a great way for someone to learn about Onsug with a single 200 MB file! At the beginning is an introduction I recorded especially for basic.fm. Listening all the way through is sure to be rewarding. Enjoy!

This track is an "archive exclusive" - it was not released on the regular blog/podcast of The Overnightscape Underground at onsug.com. Since it is almost 19 hours long, and consists of (mostly) previously released material, I felt this was the best way to release it.

Place Sounds: Audio Street Fair Blues (6/11/07) 20:05 [222] Ambient audio of a street fair in Times Square, NYC. Recorded in Times Square, NYC on 6/11/07. Originally released on StationUnlimited.com (release #74, June 19, 2007). On Monday, June 11, 2007 I was walking through Times Square in NYC and I saw a street fair called "Taste of Times Square". I went for 2 blocks on 46th St. from Times Square to 9th Ave. I walked the full length of it and realized it would make a great "Place Sounds" piece (a recording of an audio environment). So I started recording and heading back through the fair. ¶ Unfortunately, things didn't work out like I planned. First of all a lot of the musicians I had seen on the first walk thru were taking their breaks. Then it started to rain... lightly at first and then it turned into a real downpour. And then I realized I had pressed pause by accident and lost a lot of the stuff I was recording. ¶ This piece is the final result - the first in the "Place Sounds" series. I look forward to recording more "Place Sounds" in the future - it is certainly a different kind of audio content than what people are used to, but in the right frame of mind such stuff can be very enjoyable and intriguing to listen to. ¶ Topics: Intro, Tony and Tina's Wedding, song "Celebration", world music style singer, Chef Mark, blues band, latin music band, guitar player, police radio, whistle, radio station playing an ad, car horns, bluegrass band, "that'll be perfect", Frank sees the recorder was paused, description of what happened, the remaining audio walking in the rain, radio station playing song, drumming, world music, doo wop singers, and the conclusion.

Audio Street Fair Blues 2 - Preamble (6/2/08) 20:16 [222] The "preshow" to "Audio Street Fair Blues 2" - walking over to Times Square on June 2, 2008.

Audio Street Fair Blues 2 (6/2/08) 1:25:29 [222] A "Place Sounds" ambient recording of a street fair called "Taste of Times Square" (46th Street between 7th Ave. and 9th Ave.) on June 2, 2008. Frank walks the entire length of the fair five times. The street fair consists of many food tents run by different local restaurants, with a number of live musicians playing along the way.

Audio Street Fair Blues 3 (6/8/09) 1:21:16 [222]

Frank visits the Taste of Times Square street fair food festival on June 8, 2009, recording the ambient sounds of the event, including an intro and an outro.

Audio Street Fair Blues 3 Pure (6/8/09) 1:05:46 [222] Frank visits the Taste of Times Square street fair food festival on June 8, 2009, recording the ambient sounds of the event. This is the pure ambient audio, without the intro and the outro.

Audio Street Fair Blues 4 (6/7/10) 1:27:08 [222] For the fourth year in a row, recording the ambient sounds of the "Taste of Times Square" food and music street festival in NYC. An interesting audio journey! Attribution: by Frank Nora - more info at onsug.com

Place Sounds - Riding The 7 Train (NYC-8/10/07) 22:47 [222] Some ambient sounds from waiting for and riding the 7 Train in the NYC subway system in Manhattan on August 10, 2007.

Bag City Clips (8/28/07) 1:36:30 [222] With new microphones from Jerry from SoCal, some ambient sounds of New York City from August 28, 2007. Including the sound of waiting a heck of a long time on line for the bus at the Port Authority Bus Terminal.

Vacuuming (9/14/08) 34:00 [222] The sound of Frank vacuuming his living room, while news of Hurricane Ike plays in the background, on September 14, 2008.

Yellow Denim Arcade (1/2/09) 46:35 [222] A cassette tape of the sounds of classic arcade video games I made with MAME circa 1999... with some reverb added to give it a new feel...

Sounds of NYC (4/2/14) 50:56 [222] Sounds of NYC

Sounds of 2:09 (4/2/14) 1:02:21 I had the idea of selecting 29 tracks from the Onsug Archive at random, and then randomly choosing a 2 minute and 9 second section of each, and presenting them in a random order. This is the result.

Sounds of TV (4/5/14) 1:09:53 [222] In the conclusion to the Sounds Trilogy, I flip through the channels of my cable TV. There are so many channels, it takes almost 70 minutes. It's a historical record for TV researchers of the future, and a fun, yet bleak, listen today.

The Overnightscape Grand Shuffle (12/2/12) 3:29:00 [222] Conceived of as an entry for "Reuse Aloud" on basic.fm, The Overnightscape Grand Shuffle consists of over 1,200 random 10-second sound segments from the entire run of The Overnightscape so far. ¶ Spanning from the first episode on March 27, 2003 to Episode 931: Granny Takes A Trip from November 28, 2012 (just a few days ago), the archive contains over 42 days worth of audio. This was split into over 350,000 10-second MP3s, which were then loaded into iTunes, and it took iTunes over 24 hours to process all the MP3s. From there, a 209-minute random smart playlist was made, and then played and recorded in real time. ¶ The resulting work is a dizzying trip of constantly changing yet strangely consistent ideas and topics, people and places. Synchronicities and weird thematic trends surface and submerge over the course of three and a half hours. It's a very different yet very familiar listening experience, maddening and soothing, mundane and insane all at once. Enjoy.

Sneaky TT

Sneaky TT began as an experimental video series where Frank commented on public domain videos. Then it became a show where Frank hosted various audio clips and music. Macho Condor used similar audio material, but without commentary. Additional experimental shows involved the curation of a wide variety of material. These ideas eventually led to the Other Side of The Overnightscape.

Sneaky TT - Test Broadcast 1 (4/17/10) 1:58:25 [221] This is the audio from the video of the first test of the Sneaky TT broadcasting system (at http://www.livestream.com/sneakytt), with me, Frank Nora. The idea of Sneaky TT is very simple - crazy public domain U.S. government videos with amusing commentary. During this first broadcast, I slowly figured out the best way to do things. Toward the end, I think the system was working pretty well. I really don't know if this is going to become any kind of regular thing, but I think it does have potential.

Sneaky TT - Test Broadcast 2 (4/18/10) 3:35:15 [221] This is the audio from the video of the second test of the Sneaky TT broadcasting system (at http://www.livestream.com/sneakytt), with me, Frank Nora. The idea of Sneaky TT is very simple - crazy public domain U.S. government videos with amusing commentary. During this second broadcast, I was able to do over 3.5 hours of broadcasting, showing and commenting on many videos, with around 8-10 people watching live. It was a lot of fun to do, but I am still unsure whether it's something I would do on a regular basis. Let me know what you think.

Sneaky TT - Test Broadcast 3 (4/21/10) 57:45 [221] This is the audio from the video of the third test of the Sneaky TT broadcasting system (at http://www.livestream.com/sneakytt), with me, Frank Nora. The idea of Sneaky TT is very simple - crazy public domain U.S. government videos with amusing commentary. I did this third broadcast right after I got home from work, to see if I could do a quick broadcast. I thought it went pretty well.

Sneaky TT Broadcasting System 1 (9/12/10) 4:46:18 [221]

Sneaky TT Broadcasting System 2 (9/5/11) 8:25:42 [221]

This is an experimental "concept show" that explores the outer limits of what an Internet radio show can be. While it is over 8 hours long, it is presented in a lo-fi audio, which sounds similar to an AM radio broadcast. It's 86.8 MB - about the same size as a 95 minute show at standard 128kbps quality.

I am releasing it without any show notes - and that's part of the concept - that you can listen with no idea what is coming next.

I suggest listening in a player that can keep track of where you last left off, which most programs and devices allow for.

Because of the experimental nature of this show, I am not including it on the podcast feed, because I know it may not work for everyone. But if you want to explore this little audio world, you can download it here.

I really think this could make for a very cool listening experience... or perhaps it just goes too far? ...let me know what you think!

Sneaky TT Tonight (September 2014) 31:05:49 [221]

Created to air on the Sneaky TT Broadcasting System, Sneaky TT Tonight is over 31 hours, 1,124 tracks of audio clips and songs, drawn from the Other Side of The Overnightscape.

The set is based on the same formula as the Earweird project - clips under 5 minutes, and songs under 2 minutes. In this case, it's ALL the clips from the Other Side meeting these criteria - including duplicates for tracks played more than once on the Other Side.

The result is a seemingly neverending transmission of smoothly weird audio pleasure.

See Other Side Cask notes for more details on these tracks.

Sneaky TT Epic (August 2015) 87:47:36 [223]

Frank has had a streaming station for various experimental broadcasts over the years. Since August 2015 it has been playing this 87-hour track, Sneaky TT Epic, over and over again, to very few listeners. It's a mind-bending collection of Other Side music and audio tracks. Now you too can listen to it over and over again!

Macho Condor 2 (6/30/12) 4:37:01 [221]

A collection of 71 amazing songs for your late night listening enjoyment! This one is all music, with no hosting.

As you may know, I've been spending way too much time plowing through vast mountains of Creative Commons music, where you might need to listen to twenty bad songs to find one good one. I've been collecting the best of the best of my discoveries in my Trash Am Records compilations (available here on Onsug).

Since Trash Am #6 back in April, I've ramped up my music discovery obsession, and have dug up a massive new collection of songs. So massive, that I've been completely overwhelmed by the process of organizing it. So, I decided to released the best of the best of this phase in this form - one big slab of music, using the Macho Condor show name.

The music is at 192kbps bitrate, and the tracks have been adjusted to keep them at a consistent volume.

One amazing coincidence I just found out is that the original Macho Condor, from September 2010, has the same opening song! Weird... but appropriate...

Enjoy! Listen all night long!

Macho Condor Deluxe (4/6/14) 3:59:10 [221]

104 random tracks from the Other Side, each under 4 minutes in length, with some mastering applied. I was able to do this fairly easily because I've been spending a lot of time keeping the Other Side tracks organized.

The result is a cool four hour broadcast that, to me, would be an ideal companion to a long night of working or driving or playing games.

Macho Condor was an experimental predecessor to the Other Side, so I thought it would be cool to bring back the name for this little experiment.

Macho Condor Palms (2/18/25) 6:07:38 [1007] Macho Condor is a concept show, last heard over 10 years ago, which helped inspire the creation of the Other Side of The Overnightscape. ¶ I recently thought of the idea of listening to a whole month's worth of Other Sides, and I chose May 2024, because it contains a very special audio piece called "Audio Collage Poetry Soundscape" which I was thinking of. (It also starts with a space launch, and ends with cavemen learning to fly, very "2001".) And at around 6 hours, it relates to the concept of "what can a night of audio be?" So I figured I'd bring back Macho Condor for this one-off release. ¶ Previous Macho Condor editions were called Deluxe, Gold, and Julius – so for this one I wanted another kind of superlative identifier. I chose "Palms", partially inspired by the TV show "Wild Palms", and also the whole "vaporwave" vision of a fake 1980s with palm trees. And, I suppose, the invocation of exotic places the phrase "Palms" suggests. ¶ So this then is a collection of all the Other Sides from May 2024, from The Overnightscape episodes 2114–2122. Recontextualized as a "night of audio" it makes for quite an interesting listen of night comfort and mystery. ¶ License for this compilation: Creative Commons Attribution-NonCommercial-NoDerivs 3.0 Unported License (creativecommons.org/licenses/by-nc-nd/4.0/). The Late Movie: Leo and Loree (1980, recorded in 1994) 1:51:44 [222]

This is the full audio (commercials and all) of a broadcast of "Channel 7's Late Movie" taped off TV circa July 1994 in New Jersey. The movie is "Leo and Loree" from 1980, starring Donny Most (best known as Ralph Malph of Happy Days). As far as I can tell, this movie has never been made available on home video. They should release it on DVD - it is a great movie.

I think this is a very interesting cultural artifact. If you fell asleep in front of your TV back in the 90s, this is the kind of audio your subconscious mind would be hearing... and maybe even incorporating into your dreams...

Onsug Explorer #1 (1/3/15) 2:00:00 [241]

Take a deep dive into The Overnightscape Underground (Onsug) Archive...

Onsug is a massive collection of audio - currently over 6,200 tracks, totaling over 251 days of audio. But what's in the archive? What does it sound like?

I chopped each audio track into 5-minutes segments, with the last segment of each being what's left, and so less than 5 minutes. Once completed, I had over 75,000 of these segments. By playing them in random order, we can deeply explore what's inside the archive, to get an idea of what it contains.

In this first Onsug Explorer, we hear two hours of segments, with one cross-fading into the next. I really had no idea what to expect, but I really enjoyed listening - and more importantly, it really starts to give a sense of what's inside the Onsug Archive.

For now, this is an experimental show, but hopefully it will lead to new ways of getting people into Onsug, and new ways of exploring it. Let me know what you think.

Here's the list of all the segments played:

Ramplers #1 (1/9/15) 3:59:56 [241]

Take a deep dive into The Overnightscape Underground (Onsug) Archive...

Onsug is a massive collection of audio - currently over 6,200 tracks, totaling over 251 days (over 8 months) of audio. But what's in the archive? What does it sound like?

I chopped each audio track into 5-minutes segments, with the last segment of each being what's left, and so less than 5 minutes. Once completed, I had over 75,000 of these segments. By playing them in random order, we can deeply explore what's inside the archive, to get an idea of what it contains.

Earlier this week I released the first mix of these clips, called Onsug Explorer. Since then, I've listened to 10+ hours of these random segments, and I've really been enjoying it - I just want to hear more and more. Something new and unexpected every 5 minutes, very compelling.

I decided to rename this project "Ramplers", and start compiling the clips into 4-hour blocks. This one in particular really blew me away - that's why I chose it to be Ramplers #1.

Let me know what you think,

Take a deep dive into The Overnightscape Underground (Onsug) Archive...

Onsug is a massive collection of audio - currently over 6,200 tracks, totaling over 251 days (over 8 months) of audio. But what's in the archive? What does it sound like?

I chopped each audio track into 5-minute clips, resulting in over 75,000 of these segments. By playing them in random order, we can deeply explore what's inside the archive, to get an idea of what it contains.

This is the third, and hopefully final, name for this project. I started off a few weeks ago calling it "Onsug Explorer", and then about a week later I changed the name to "Ramplers". Both these names implied a kind of guide or reference tool for the world of the "ramplers" (hosts) of The Overnightscape Underground. I tried various tests where I hosted and commented on the clips - but it didn't feel right and was a huge amount of work. And while eventually I would like to embark on such a project, I don't have the resources to do it right now. But I do love listening to these random clips - so I deciced to use a name that's been bouncing around Onsug since at least 2010 - "The Night Pool".

The Night Pool is just like drifting though all these random thoughts and ideas, soundscapes and songs, conversations and rants, no hosting, no context, just a pleasant swim though the humble weirdness of Onsug...

Take a deep dive into The Overnightscape Underground (Onsug) Archive...

Onsug is a massive collection of audio - currently over 6,200 tracks, totaling over 251 days (over 8 months) of audio. But what's in the archive? What does it sound like?

I chopped each audio track into 5-minute clips, resulting in over 75,000 of these segments. By playing them in random order, we can deeply explore what's inside the archive, to get an idea of what it contains.

The Night Pool is just like drifting though all these random thoughts and ideas, soundscapes and songs, conversations and rants, no hosting, no context, just a pleasant swim though the humble weirdness of Onsug...

Take a deep dive into The Overnightscape Underground (Onsug) Archive...

Onsug is a massive collection of audio - currently over 6,200 tracks, totaling over 251 days (over 8 months) of audio. But what's in the archive? What does it sound like?

I chopped each audio track into 5-minute clips, resulting in over 75,000 of these segments. By playing them in random order, we can deeply explore what's inside the archive, to get an idea of what it contains.

The Night Pool is just like drifting though all these random thoughts and ideas, soundscapes and songs, conversations and rants... no hosting, no context... just a pleasant swim though the humble weirdness of Onsug...

Take a deep dive into The Overnightscape Underground (Onsug) Archive...

Onsug is a massive collection of audio - currently over 6,400 tracks, totaling over 263 days (over 8.5 months) of audio. But what's in the archive? What does it sound like?

I chopped each audio track into 5-minute clips, resulting in over 75,000 of these segments. By playing them in random order, we can deeply explore what's inside the archive, to get an idea of what it contains.

The Night Pool is just like drifting though all these random thoughts and ideas, soundscapes and songs, conversations and rants, no hosting, no context, just a pleasant swim though the humble weirdness of Onsug...

This is the final episode of "season 1" of The Night Pool. Let me know if you'd be interested in hearing more.

Here's the list of all the segments played:

Onsug Radio – Test 1 (8/22/23) 3:57:07 [989]

Onsug Radio is a growing collection of over 14,000 hours of audio shows, meant to be preserved into the far future in the form of a book. For anyone who encounters this book, the first thing they will hear is a top-level "broadcast" which plays clips from the entire archive, with a host providing commentary. ¶ To create this broadcast, I split the archive into 209-second (3:29) clips – 228,150 at the time of this writing. My original thought was to randomize them, but then curate from the random clips. However, as this test shows, a purely random stream of these clips actually sounds great – no curation needed. ¶ This then is 70 random clips, with no hosting, as a test of concept. I was very pleased with how this sounds. The next step will be to incorporate host commentary.

Onsug Radio Shuffle Mode 1 (7/12/25) 1:18:28 [1012] Onsug Radio Shuffle Mode is an experimental continuation of previous project Onsug Radio Previews, from 2023–2024. That one had a semi-random, but curated, set of show clips, each 209 seconds long (3:29), and each introduced by a computer voice. ¶ This new concept uses the same set of clips (the full Onsug archive up to Sep. 2023), but has a different computer voice, talking faster and just saying the show title. It's also fully random (except for a first clip, which is chosen from random options). ¶ I like how this one turned out, and I'm planning on doing more episodes in the near future. It's a great way to listen to Onsug Radio, getting a cross-section of everything within the archive. ¶ (Since the show titles and clip numbers are spoken in the audio, I won't include them here. But the one without a title, due to a tag issue, was The Meanderer (7/21/21).) ¶ Ref: 965-14, 919-02, 961-39, 941-01, 960-14, 964-38, 944-06, 961-33, 902-04, 901-18, 920-03, 905-05, 941-09, 905-20, 906-12, 939-35, 972-16, 906-08, 918-25, 911-02, 908-08, 903-06.

Onsug Saloon 1 (7/18/25) 1:18:28 [1012] Onsug Saloon continues from last week's experimental show Onsug Radio Shuffle Mode. It's in the same format, with random 209 second clips from the entire Onsug Radio archive, shuffled, each introduced by a computer voice. The first clip is chosen from the shuffle, so things get off to a good start, but the rest are completely random, from a pool of over 259,000 clips. This time, the set of clips are updated to include the complete archive up to last month, June 2025. Like last time, I think it's better not to include show titles, as the titles are spoken in the audio. But I will include a reference list which will allow you to find the shows in need be. I really like how this one turned out, just like last time, and I intend to continue with this experiment. ¶ Onsug Saloon was originally a short-lived project that began ten years ago, in July 2015. It was a chat room where random Onsug Radio shows would be played on a live stream, 24/7. The name came to mind, and I thought it would be a great name for this new project. ¶ Ref: 211-42, 951-12, 308-06, 686-059, 109-11, 967-01, 305-01, 1001-08, 958-15, 451-75, 601-07, 1007-08, 791-18, 905-23, 903-09, 922-17, 712-41, 142-09, 691-18, 914-32, 117-10, 410-23.

Onsug Radio Shuffle Mode #4 (8/4/25) 1:14:30 [1013] Continuing the experiment of random Onsug listening! I decided to return to the original name, "Onsug Radio Shuffle Mode", with "The Onsug Saloon" as a subtitle. Once again, we listen randomly to 22 209-second clips from the entire archive. This one I had to record 3 times, since I just got a new computer and everything's a bit off-kilter. But I am very happy with how it turned out. ¶ Ref: 979-04, 253-03, 1001-04, 622-40, 505-15, 914-01, 232-27, 211-31, 221-06, 751-014, 305-33, 998-11, 980-10, 115-83, 604-48, 950-29, 118-22, 711-04, 712-46, 988-30, 614-10, 132-18.

Taken from the complete Onsug archive of nearly 16,000 hours, here are 22 random 3.5 minute clips! Somehow, there's one repeat clip from last episode, which seems incredibly unlikely, but is still within the realm of possibility. Onsug Radio Shuffle Mode Special (12/8/25) 4:04:30 [1017]It's a special edition experiment! Instead of the usual 22 clips, this time we're doing 70, without the computer voice introducing each clip. Also, the audio is a lo-fi mono, similar to old AM radio, which stimulates the mind differently. I listened to the whole four hours, and it's quite a trip! ¶ Ref: The Overnightscape 1241: Red Baron vs. Keystone Kops (12/12/15) – 27/49. Using AI, I was able to build a small web app that has a button, that when clicked, starts playing at a random moment in the entire Onsug Archive of over 16,000 hours of shows. All is explained in the introduction, and then my first listening session is presented. ¶ Try it out! Here's the very first web app:

https://onsug.com/shuffle1/ ¶ Here's an improved version, which lists that last 50 shows listened to: https://onsug.com/shuffle2/ ¶ I plan of putting the most up-to-date version here: https://onsug.com/shuffle/ ¶ It's still very early in the process, but I'm thrilled that we now have a working prototype to explore the archive at random. ¶ Segment list: ABM 2012 – The Pre-Show (9/28/12) 31:26 / 1:21:26, Falling Cow Compendium: Long Drive Home (12/19/21) 1:32:46 / 3:45:14, The Meanderer (4/23/21) 9:07:30 / 11:13:51, Narrating Edison (3/2/13) 55:32 / 2:09:55, Quaquaversal Satellite – Joe (12/22/13) 19:39 / 1:00:52, Eclectic Symmetry #41: Harold and the Headphones (5/17/15) 4:34 / 1:30:00, The Overnightscape 2071 – Tiger Tiger (12/5/23) 1:36:55 / 2:00:29, Highway 209 California 3:55:35 / 4:04:11, Overnightscape Central – December Holiday Special (12/17/12) 1:44:08 / 1:44:27, Radio Free Shambles: The Emperor of Crime! Frank Ralph Nora Forever

2005-2022
Hosted by Frank Edward Nora

Frank Edward Nora's father, Frank Ralph Nora, passed away on May 11, 2023 at age 81. To celebrate his father's life, Frank has collected all of the interviews he did with him on his podcast, The Overnightscape. Starting in 2005, FRN started telling stories from his days in the Navy, in Liberia in the early 1960s. After that he explored a multitude of topics, including trips, experiences working as a civil engineer in New Jersey, eccentric people he has met, and much more. Also included are several older recordings (1969-1986) featuring FRN.

THE COSM

Starting in March 2000, Bluffcosm.com was my first Internet radio project. My co- host Peter and I created original material for the station, but I also incorporated a lot of my older recordings. My friend Bryan eventually joined Peter and I to become "The Three Weasels", a side-project that still continues to this day. I also included my old college radio "Anything But Monday" recordings with "Mad" Mike – another side project that has continued. And I continue to delve into my old tapes in the Tape Land Project. So, The Cosm is the section for all these intersecting projects.

BLUFFCOSM.COM

Each recording on Bluffcosm.com was called a "Blufftoon", and they are all numbered. There were 147 in all, and they can all be found here in The Cosm.

Classictronica #2 (Distilled Highlights) (6/9/01) 3:24 [212] Originally released on Bluffcosm.com in November 2001. Edited from "Classictronica #2, recorded at a NAVA video game collector's meeting at Video Game Connections in Howell, NJ. ¶ Some potentially "offensive" content. ¶ This is one of my favorite "Blufftoons". Blufftoons were the audio pieces on my Internet radio station, Bluffcosm.com. The idea was that a piece of non-music audio could be listened to over and over just like a song. To me, this Blufftoon is a real nihilistic treat.

Failed Experiments

Over the years, Frank has experimented with many different ideas for audio shows. “Stormtoon” and “Obliviana Wander Radio” were attempts to combine the 209 system with an audio feature. “Window National” was an attempt to create a feature for the podcast “Dailysonic”.

The Weasels

Join Frank and Peter on their zany adventures, starting with Train Crap & Blood - a comedy show recorded in Peter's basement room way back in 1991... then revived briefly in 2000. Circumstances required that the show's be name changed, so The Motor Excursion Ruffians arrived in 2001, with 5 occasional episodes recorded up to 2010. Also included are a set of random shows from 1999 to 2013, including several where Frank and Peter are joined by Bryan, forming The Three Weasels...

Bluffcosm was Frank's first Internet radio station, with Peter as co-star. It was most active in 2000 and 2001. Highlights include Blufftoon Time, Beublin A. Richardson, and so much more. It's a vast treasure trove of audio!

Train Crap & Blood

In 1991, Train Crap & Blood was like a podcast, long before the age of podcasting. It was revived in 2000 as part of Bluffcosm, before ending, to be continued as The Motor Excursion Ruffians.

During the show I mention how I intended to do more episodes on a regular basis - but that never happened, unfortunately. There is #2, from 2003, which I will release at some point... Also, I realized that the end of this episode is a lot like the ending of the final episode of The Sopranos! We are in a restaurant and the tape ends abruptly with no warning!

The Woodstock 89 Tape (8/16/89) 1:30:41 [212] I started a magazine in college with my friend Mike. It was called Anything But Monday, and by 1988 we were distributing it to comic books shops nationwide. Unfortunately, we didn't sell enough copies to keep it going, and by the summer of 1989 the business was falling apart. ¶ On August 16, 1989, just 3 months before the final collapse of the magazine in November, Mike and I took a trip up to Bethel, NY, where people had gathered in an impromptu celebration of the 20th Anniversary of Woodstock, often referred to as Woodstock '89 (here is the Wikipedia article on it.) The idea was that we would take pictures and interview people for a feature in the magazine. We recorded a 90-minute tape of the event, primarily so we could transcribe the interviews for the magazine. ¶ After we left Bethel, our car broke down and we watched the lunar eclipse in the parking lot of some municipal building in the middle of nowhere. Eventually, our business partner Jim Lord came and rescued us. We put together the feature for our last issue, as seen below (click for larger pictures): ¶ And here are some hi-res scans of the photos we took (in chronological order):01-Dennis 02-Daniel 03-Steven 04-Ziggy_and_Bosco 05-Karen 06-Max 07-Gary 08-Robert 09-Maureen 10-Debbie 11-Murph 12-George 13-UnknownThe set on Flickr is here. ¶ The interview tape sat in a box for over 11 years. In January 2001, I finally listened to it and put in on computer, editing some segments for my Internet radio station, Bluffcosm.com. I was amazed at how vastly superior the audio itself was to the print piece we had derived from it. At that time, I put together 5 audio pieces ("Blufftoons"), totalling about 20 minutes. Plus, I exctracted a segment called "Mountain Madness" which I used in several other Blufftoons. ¶ Now, on December 17, 2005, I am finally releasing the audio of the complete tape. Absolutely nothing is edited out - this is the full, raw audio. Besides being quite entertaining, I think this recording also has some historical significance. I hope you enjoy it!!!

Old Cassettes

Frank has a lot of old cassettes, which he's releasing on the Tape Land project. Before that, he digitized and released a bunch of old tapes in the early days of Onsug. Listen to them here!

On Noyage (2/14/90) 1:34:56 [212] ¶ This is a very strange recording. It's me, Frank Nora, at age 22 back on Wednesday, February 14, 1990 (over 20 years ago!) driving from New Jersey to Rhode Island in the middle of the night. I brought a tape recorder and decided to record some thoughts on a project I was working on called "Nomadi" (and the related concept of "Noyage"). I was in some kind of weird mental haze back then. My ideas were incredibly bizarre and convoluted. But it is very interesting to listen to...

Betty Nora (5/28/00) 1:19:31 [212] Today, April 13, 2010, would have been my grandmother Betty Nora's 100th birthday. She passed away at age 97 in May 2007. She was a very important person in my life, so to remember her, I am posting this interview I did with her back in 2000 (released here for the first time). By listening to it, you will get to know her a little, too. ¶ Topics: Rileys, Pennsylvania, childhood, family history, scary movies, ghost stories, the kitchen as gathering place, teachers and school, the newspaper from New York, novel time, bullying, a light in the sky, using a cannon to shoot ice in the sky, Sears Roebuck Catalog, coal miners, fossils, sharing candy bars, mining accidents, hear the foxes going by in the snow, food for the winter, brothers and sisters, wars, black lung, honesty, welfare, Civil War, farmers, peddlers, bread, flour, coffee, soup, food, watermelons, chores, pets, hunting, garbage, snow, radio, baseball, cars, bootlegger, Bella, bathrooms, The May Queen (May 17, 1930), The Cranberry King, flies in brandy, Barr, end of World War I, bonfire, tar and feathering, Juniata College, working in the dining room, telephones, The Great Depression, shakedown, Latin, rumble seat, coming to NJ, the mountains, Florida, Metuchen, construction company, World War II, Pearl Harbor, inventing things, the house, Good Housekeeping article in 1952, television, Howdy Doody, talent show, penniless at the shore, trip to Europe in 1954 on the Andrea Doria, boiled potatoes, bread and sugar, rest stop, pets, Mercedes, TV set, Girl Scouts, return to teaching (1955-1970), riots in New Brunswick, staying overnight at the house, and indecision regarding toys.

City Cassette #1 (Jan-Feb 2001) 1:33:14 [212] Before the dawn of The Overnightscape in 2003, I used to make random recordings in NYC all the time. The idea was to capture interesting audio that I could use in my Internet radio project at the time, Bluffcosm.com. ¶ The "City Cassette" series contains these recordings, one cassette per release. They will not be in chronological order, because I don't think it matters that much. ¶ This first cassette in the series contains a lot of interesting stuff, including some of my thoughts on the future of Internet radio, lots of sounds from the subway system, a visit to an old place of work, and a whole lot more. A good portion of it is "ambient sound", rather than me talking. ¶ Here is how the tape is labeled: Side A: "1/31/01 - 2/14/01 NYC Audio". Side B: "2/16/01 - 2/22/01 NYC D&A Snow / Subway Crowd" ¶ -Frank Bluffcosm Cassette NYC (February 2001) 1:33:43 [212] Complete, unedited cassette recorded by Frank in February 2001. Includes a lot of ambient sounds of NYC, plus Frank's thoughts on the future of Internet radio. Also, a possibly prophetic dream dream about 9/11, a visit to an old workplace, weird subway security, arcades, and much more. ¶ Enjoy this raw window into the past - most or all of which has never been heard since it was recorded.

Tap-A-Mall (7/2/01) 2:51:33 [212] Frank attempts to go to 21 shopping malls in New Jersey on Monday, July 2, 2001, and "tap" each one with his brass "Jukewand". This is the audio record of the adventure. In the end, Frank gets to 17 malls: ¶ Cherry Hill Mall, Deptford Mall, Echelon Mall, Quaker Bridge Mall, Princeton Market Fair, Princeton Forrestal Village, Brunswick Square Mall, Freehold Raceway Mall, Ocean County Mall, Monmouth Mall, Woodbridge Center Mall, Menlo Park Mall, Bridgewater Commons Mall, Short Hills Mall, Livingston Mall, Wayne Towne Center, Willowbrook Mall ¶ This was the one and only time Frank ever did Tap-A-Mall. Xmas 1973 Mike (1973) 2:27 [222]

Merry Christmas!! This audio is from a cassette tape purchased at a flea market in New Jersey around 2001. It was labeled "XMAS 1973" on one side, and "MIKE" on the other side. This is the complete audio that was on the cassette.

This piece was originally intended for release on my old Internet radio station, Bluffcosm.com, in November 2001, though at that time, Bluffcosm was kind of in "hibernation", and it was not released. I evenutally released it on Daily Podcast From Another Place exactly 4 years ago, on 12/25/04. This current release has better audio quality than that release.

Bad Hole (11/25/73) 1:47 [111] Six-year-old Frank with an early “pleasantly insane ramble”. Recorded in Bridgewater Township, New Jersey, on November 25, 1973. Topics: Frank at age 6 recording on a tape recorder, John’s rant, Julie crying, “I won’t turn it off”, “big old bad hole”, “goodbye now I’ll see you in ten minutes”, Wacky Packages (“Grass Wax”, “Raw Goo”, “Choke Wagon”, and “Wormy Packages”), the monster story, and Frankenstein. (Tape recorder batteries were probably low, that’s why the voices sound sped up.)

Tape Land 1 – Anything But Monday (10/5/87) 1:00:54 [912] The first tape is "Anything But Monday 10/5/87" – from my college radio show with Mad Mike. ¶ While a few clips from this tape have been on Onsug before, the majority of it is being heard here for the first time since it was broadcast almost 30 years ago. ¶ Some trivia from this episode... one of our fellow students on the tape, Jennifer Niven, went on to become a successful author. She also visited us on our 2012 reunion show.

Tape Land 2 – Talk About 2001 – NYC (February/March 2001) 59:07 [912] On this tape I'm in NYC in 2001, and I'm recording just a kind of personal journal. At the time, I wasn't planning on releasing it. But it's striking how similar it is to The Overnightscape of today... walking around the Port Authority Bus Terminal and 42nd Street... yet it's such a different world, 2001... two years before The Overnightscape began...

Tape Land 3 – Video Game Meeting with Pete (4/3/04) 31:52 [912] Another great find! I played an 8-minute edited version of this on The Overnightscape #55. But the whole thing is well worth listening to (especially Peter playing Shenmue on Dreamcast). I guess back then I wasn't into the rambling, longform stuff as much.

Tape Land 4 – After the ABM Show (4/16/86) 28:41 [912] More impossibly obscure audio from the archive... this time from over 30 years ago. ¶ I had a college radio show with Mad Mike called Anything But Monday, which began in February 1986, but by April 1986, we were kicked off the air for our on-air antics. Two of our fellow DJs went on the air later that week and "dedicated" their show to us, making some nasty comments about us. I must have known they were planning on talking about us, because I recorded some of the show. I'm glad I did, because it's fascinating to listen to...

Tape Land 5 – Cosmos/Drunk (1984-1985) 1:14:25 [912] This is a great example of a cassette tape that was used multiple times and overdubbed, with layer upon layer of audio. I originally dubbed my vinyl copy of the Cosmos soundtrack onto the tape, but then much more stuff was added. ¶ On side one is the long-lost 1984 revival of my parody TV station "Channel 67 WWW", which I originally did in Montana 1980. I had completely forgotten that this existed. It is quite insane. ¶ On side two, what happened is, my college roommate got drunk and I wasn't there, but his friends used my tape and my boombox to record him. I didn't find out about it till later. This was most likely in the Fall of 1985. ¶ For my Internet radio station Bluffcosm in 2000, I released the first few minutes of this as A Hairy One. When I recently digitized the whole tape, I was completely surprised to find that the audio continued on much further... I guess I stopped listening after a period of silence. It's amazing audio of drunk college students in a dorm in 1985. ¶ Sprinkled throughout are other surprises, such as several radio airchecks and fragments of songs. So much happening on a single tape from over 30 years ago...

Tape Land 6 – ABM Show Cool! (1986) 49:04 [912] This tape is labeled "ABM Show Cool!", but doesn't have any dates written on it. It's from my college radio show "Anything But Monday", which I did with Mad Mike. ¶ Side One has one of our earliest episodes – I estimate it to be from March 3, 1986, though it could be the week before or after. It has a lot of prepared skits and jokes, and some of these clips have been released on Onsug before. ¶ Side Two is from September 29, 1986, and has a much different tone. I don't think any audio of this episode has ever been released before. The Weekly World News figures prominently, which is always good.

Tape Land 7 – Audio Field Trip – Stroudsburg, PA (6/20/04) 41:05 [912] Another audio adventure with Peter, originally presented as a 12-minute edit on The Overnightscape #68. But the full 41-minute version has remained unreleased... until now!

Tape Land 8 – ABM Show (10/15/87) 1:07:19 [912] Here's a full episode of my college radio show with Mad Mike, Anything But Monday. It was a fill-in show, from 9 to 11 AM on Thursday, October 15, 1987. I had transferred to NYU at this point, and I had to take the last train to NJ the night before to be there for the show. Like a lot of other ABM tapes, some bits and pieces from this recording have been heard on Onsug before, but the entire show is being heard here for the first time since it aired nearly 30 years ago. ¶ The word of the day is "coolant".

Tape Land 9 – OLD (1969-1973) 55:51 [912] Here's a very special tape from my childhood, which contains my earliest recordings. Labeled "OLD", I dubbed the tape in the 1980's to a new cassette to make sure it was preserved. This recording is taken from the dub. ¶ Side 1 is from September 15-16, 1969, a few weeks before my 2nd birthday. This is my first recording, as far as I can tell. My parents interview me and give me a bath. I may have played parts of this on Onsug before, but this is the first time it's being presented in its entirety. ¶ Side 2 contains several sections. The first part is my father interviewing me, on 11/16/69 and then 2/22/70. In the 1970 section, I talk a lot about Sesame Street, which had premiered just 3 months earlier. I previously released this section as Cut and Shoot. The next part is from 11/24/73, when I'm 6. My brother, age 3, is also on the tape. I previously released this part as Tornado Warning. The final section, which may be from that same day, or at least within the next few weeks, has me recording and talking alone and also talking to my brothers. I released part of this section as Bad Hole, but much of this section was previously unreleased.

Tape Land 10 – Baltimore (8/23/01) 20:00 [912] In August 2001 I drove down to Baltimore to see a college friend. This short tape mostly documents the drive down, though there's a little on the way back. Whenever I hear this tape, I think about how it was less than 3 weeks before 9/11... how I had no idea it was coming... ¶ I did keep in touch with my friend from time to time after the visit, but sadly, she passed away in 2012.

Tape Land 11 – Anything But Monday (11/17/86) 52:55 [912] Here's an episode of my college radio show from over 30 years ago. As with most of these recordings, a few clips from this show have been played on Onsug, but the whole thing is being presented here for the first time since it aired. ¶ It was an eventful time. We were in trouble with the school for what some viewed as objectionable content in the magazine we published based on the radio show. The week before I had just started dating my first girlfriend, and also went on my first "209 trip" with my friend Bryan. As well, I had just bought my Casio SK-1 sampling synthesizer, which I play around with incessantly on this episode.

Tape Land 12 – Stormtoon Time (Nov. 2001) 1:13:44 [912] On this tape from 2001, I talk a lot about an audio project called "Stormtoon", which didn't really go anywhere, but was an important step on my way to starting The Overnightscape 16 months later. Recorded on 11/13/01, 11/18/01 and 11/25/01, it also contains ambient sounds of commuting, World Trade Center, dreams, KISS, 209, driving in the rain, Earth Jerk audio movie idea, and more.

Tape Land 13 – Fen Dreams Et Al. (Oct. 1989) 1:34:32 [912] Recorded on Tuesday, October 24, and Wednesday, October 25, 1989, on this tape I'm "wallowing in the late 80s" and describing my deeply weird, intricately detailed dreams. It's right after my magazine, Anything But Monday, collapsed, and I'm living at home with my parents, unemployed. It starts off with me playing Tetris on my Mac Plus in the basement, talking about my life, and then getting into the dreams. ¶ I really enjoyed hearing this cassette – it is being presented here for the first time ever – as I hadn't even heard it since I recorded it over 27 years ago.

Tape Land 14 – NYC 2002 – Times Sq. Arcades (Feb. 2002) 49:24 [912] It was my first time back to the World Trade Center area since 9/11. I started off in lower Manhattan, and walked up along the Hudson River, to the World Financial Center, still being repaired. Later in the tape, I explore classic video game arcades in Times Square – visiting Laser Park and Broadway City Arcade – and talking about many other now long-lost landmarks of the area. Also on the tape are ambient sounds of commuting, notes on my Obliviana project (which would come to an end a year later), and much more... Recorded Feb 1-4, 2002.

Tape Land 15 – Anything But Monday (9/28/87) 55:51 [912] Another episode of my college radio show, Anything But Monday, with my co-host Mad Mike. Highlights include the solid waste management PSA, mansion story, Tom Kean and Ronald Reagan, and much more...

Tape Land 16 – Anything But Monday (March 1986) 38:50 [912] Another episode of my college radio show, Anything But Monday, with my co-host Mad Mike. There's no date on the tape, but I estimate it to be from 3/17/86. Mike reads an article about celebrity salaries from the March 10, 1986 People Magazine. We also play the first episode of "Sounds of the Commons".

Tape Land 17 – Anything But Monday (October 1986) 1:26:38 [917] More of my college radio show Anything But

Monday with co-host Mad Mike. ¶ From 10/6/86... Furniture Rental PSA, special dedications, safe sex, Cheryl Pollak from the Jordache commercials, Weekly World News, world statistics, Tornado Warning, drugs, The Charleston, art class, Weird University, Little Frankie Nora, The Mailman's Nightmare, The Soviet Union, reggae promo, and more... ¶ Plus part of a show from 10/13/86 or 10/20/86... movie quotes, Kaboom, Gucci, mystery sound, Gilligan's Island, The Brady Bunch, The Star-Spangled Banner, Carol Burnett, Floyd the Safety Droid, and more...

Tape Land 18 – Fuzzy Dauper at Acme Underground (5/5/01) 46:55 [917] Fuzzy Daupner live at Acme Underground (9 Great Jones St, NY, NY) on Saturday, May 5, 2001. ¶ Setlist: Monster Now, Christian Rock, Ten Minutes Cat, Dancing With Myself, Sliding Gardens, Possible Calhoun, Pent Breeze, Sign of the Malls, The Us Hounds, The Filmography of Ann B. Davis. ¶ Fuzzy Daupner was an obscure New Jersey rock band which, in the brief span of 3 years (1998-2001), created a catalog of 32 amazing songs. ¶ Fuzzy Daupner began in 1998 when Carrie Engdahl (now Carrie Ann Carroll) began collaborating with her sister Denice and Denice's husband Frank on creating songs. Awhile later, they joined forces with Rob DiCaterino (who later went on to co-host The Paunch Stevenson Show) on drums and formed the band Fuzzy Daupner. The final member, Phil Mould (from England) on bass, joined a little later. ¶ They produced two home-recorded, Internet-distributed albums, and played many shows around New Jersey and NYC. But they never got signed and they broke up in November 2001. ¶ This show from May 2001, recorded on a Walkman, is being released here for the first time.

Tape Land 19 – Dreams, Etc. Tape Land 20 – Dragon Mag. Archive! (Summer 2001) 1:31:02 [917] I used to do "audio mining" in NYC, recording the ambient sounds of commuting, hoping to catch some interesting stuff. That's how this tape begins. Then I go on a random drive, and talk about my creative projects... ¶ (Monday 8/13/01) Beggar on train, riding on the bus, subway, street, (Friday 8/17/01) Frank in Jeep talking about things, (Sunday 8/26/01) Wayne Hills Mall, Dragon Magazine Archive, Waldenbooks, driving, end of the quest, Trader Joe's, Obliviana, Bluffcosm, Ringwood Manor, New York State, Sterling Forest, audio ideas, passing by the Renaissance Faire, Greenwood Lake, getting gas, Mike Nesmith, abandoned comic shop, Route 23, Kinnelon Mall, Kakeout Connection, Veggie Heaven, more audio ideas, (another day), subway, (Tuesday 8/28/01) answering machine, (Wednesday 8/29/01) NYC, dream, beggar on train, singer, subway, (Tuesday 9/4/01) bus stop, 209.

Tape Land 21 – Unlabeled TDK D-C60 Compact Cassette (1980s) 41:20 [917] A mysterious tape in my collection, this one has a variety of stuff on, recorded in the 80s. There are some long stretches where you can hear vague sounds in the distance. Also, some interesting bits taped off radio and TV. ¶ Notes: cat meowing, vague sounds, Crazy Eddie commercial, kids talking, The Chocolate War, vague sounds, whistling, vague sounds, "hey Frank I fixed the videotape recorder", WPST radio, vague sounds, more radio, TV, The Brady Bunch, vague sounds. Some music edited out.

Tape Land 22 – ABM (circa March 1986) 17:09 [918] More of my college radio show Anything But Monday. This tape has no date written on it, but seems to be from around March 1986. It's the latter portion of the show – the first part may be on another tape... ¶ Notes: David Van Tieghem, jokes, Sniglets, Weekly World News, baby bigfoot, house bat management PSA, microphone comes off, waiting for Carson, late for class, another radio station bleeds through.

Tape Land 23 – Little Frankie Nora – Ending the Era with Calm Music (1987) 48:07 [918] In 1987, at age 19, I set up a rudimentary recording studio in my parents' basement. I created six "albums" of music as "Little Frankie Nora": Die!, The Good War, Demolition Curve, Original Tin, How Do You Feel About the Job?, and Ending the Era with Calm Music. I compiled the best of these to create two official cassette releases: Welcome to the Weasel Village Mall and Bicentennial Cane, which had very limited distribution. These two have been released on the Onsug Archive. ¶ However, the individual "albums" have never been released. So I'm starting with the sixth and last one – "Ending the Era with Calm Music", which I remember as having a very unique sound. The main instruments I used were a Casio SK-1 sampling keyboard and a small black-and-white TV. ¶ The first 14 song titles are from a paragraph in a book I had at the time, though I can't remember the title. "The Dharma Bums" comes to mind, but I don't think that was it. ¶ Also, at 45:37, there's a 74 second clip from a TV show, including the phrase "some silly, some not" – solving a mystery I talked about on The Overnightscape 1349: The Nineteenth Adventure (12/20/16). However, I have no idea what TV show the quote is from… does anyone know what show it could be? "The Old Curiosity Shop" comes to mind, it sounds like some kind of educational show, but that's not it – what we're looking for has a character named Rodney. ¶ Track list: Your Time, To This, Thing Man, You're As, Out Of, Place In, A Photographer's, Studio As, Joseph Was, In Pharaoh's, Prison Bring, Your Family, Up To, Dayton And, God's Ass, Fish-Car, Fuckin' "L", Bitch Caviar "N-5", Green Monarch, Butterfly March, Winds in Moon, Madness Five, Alice and Drinking, Water "Kids", Are Us Them, Darn Wilsons, Cincinnati Red, Tonight Black, Aggit Baa, Locked Glass Door, Mice Girder Spring Cartoon, Cartoon of the Gods, The Lockhorns, P.O., Sonic Drill, Sonic Drill II, Mystery of God, Dance of Spasms, Throatripper II, The Weather Whistle, Where is Albert?, Walking Along, Genesissy, Liberty 1985, Acirema Fo Setats, Detinu, Unum, Some Silly Some, Waiting, Right or Left.

Tape Land 24 – Weasels 90 (4/29/90) 1:30:26 [918] It's a Sunday afternoon in April 1990, and Frank and Peter, both in their early 20s at the time, go on a "zonal adventure" drive and record an audio letter to their friend Bryan, who is currently living in Michigan. The tape is very crude and toxic at times, and was actually never sent to Bryan, nor heard by anyone else, till today. Only a few snippets were used as part of the "Train Crap & Blood" theme song the following year. ¶ Notes: A&P in Pluckemin, NJ, Buxton's, negative sundae, zoning, heading northwest, the story of our previous zonal trip in Pennsylvania, I Love You to Death (1990), car crash in parking lot, Pete lost his wallet, what is Bryan doing right now, Netcong, they met Heinrich at his restaurant, how Frank and Pete met, heavy rain, factory work, scenic overlook, Fruit Juicers, Pete's opera singing, let's do Run-D.M.C., weirdos at another scenic overlook, Pete pays the toll, Route 209, MAC machine, Bushkill, Fernwood, sending messages back in time on billboards, Hare Krishna, The Hills, dirty copper joke, Binghamton, Yoo-hoo and V8 concoction, dinner in Allentown, turning off the zone, V8 and coffee, The Freaker, on the way home.

Tape Land 25 – W (XHE Extra High Energy 90) (circa 1980) 24:49 [919] A tape just labeled "W", from my childhood. This was the kind of tape that would be used over and over again, with various layers bleeding through. It starts with data saves from my home computer, which would have to be from 1981 at the earliest, but other parts of the tape seem to be older, possibly from the late 1970s. ¶ Notes: (0:00) TI-99/4A data saved to audio cassette, (3:34) weird musical tones, (4:05) fan sound, (4:38) tongue clicking horse sound effects and whistling, (5:33) more TI-99/4A, (6:27) Frank's time travel story, (15:10) TV (speed corrected), (16:02) classical music (edited), (18:47) TV, (18:55) Ronald McDonald has been fired, (19:28) songs (edited), (21:19) The Hobbit (edited).

Tape Land 26 – The Complete News From Civilization (11/20/85) 47:56 [919] Way back on September 5, 2000, on my Bluffcosm.com Internet radio site, I released a 2-minute audio clip called "News From Civiliation". It was from a tape labeled "FRANK DRUNK", and I described it as "Frank is a freshman in college and has drank way too much vodka. In a drunken stupor, he reads from a Walt Disney World guidebook…" ¶ Now, as part of the Tape Land project, I discovered that the tape is actually over 47 minutes long, with lots of interesting stuff going on. So let's step back 32 years to that night of drunkenness… in The Complete News From Civilization! ¶ Notes: In Brown Hall room 209, at Drew University, in Madison, NJ, Frank (or "Fen" as he is known then) is drunk, and his roommate John and fellow students Tom and Carson are recording him. He reads from a Walt Disney World guide and various comic books. They read from Dragon Magazine and talk about playing Traveller. Frank starts feeling sick. Later, Mad Mike walks in, and talks about the "vortex monster". Then Frank goes outside and they follow him, including another student ("Russ"?). Frank eventually wanders into the woods, and they follow. They find him and try and convince him to come back to the dorm.

Tape Land 27 – Dreams (August 2003) 24:18 [919] An interesting tape with a variety of dreams. I played a 4-minute clip from it on the Other Side as "Theater One Dream" on The Overnightscape 1047 and 1125. ¶ Notes: (8/21/03) Driving through North Carolina, boardwalk, sea god, ancient pottery, bookstore, laser rifles, sewing kit, Drew University, peanut butter and jelly sandwiches, gray Japanese Twizzlers, weird pinball machine, second basement, (8/23/03) at a gas station pumping goldfish into a car, audio download invoices, old laptop, surveillance systems, Theater One Dream, Michael Cane, Frankenstein, IBM, mall, list of words.

Tape Land 32 – Sounds from NYC (1/25/01) 1:26:03 [920] 2000 and 2001 were the big years for my Internet radio project Bluffcosm.com. My focus was on creating short audio pieces called Blufftoons. One way I got the source material was "audio mining", usually in NYC. I would walk around with my recorder on, hoping to capture interesting sounds. ¶ I was working at Scholastic Books at Broadway and Prince at the time. In the first segment, I walk from work to a vegetarian restaurant in Chinatown called VegeCyber, near Center and Howard. (At 16:54, I talk briefly). ¶ 25:51 – "About 6 o'clock now, and I'm walking up Broadway", 34:57 – Washington Square Park, 35:27 – Bluffcosm segment, 38:05 – Thoughts on audio, 39:05 – Another Bluffcosm segment, where a guy driving by offers to sell me speakers. Tape Land 33 – Fuzzy Daupner – Live at Acme Underground (Sound Board Tape) (3/27/01) 31:53 [920] Fuzzy Daupner live at Acme Underground (9 Great Jones St, NY, NY) on Tuesday, March 27, 2001. This tape is labeled "Sound Board Tape", so I think it was recorded by the sound guy at the venue. It's not great quality, but it's a different sound than most of the other live recordings. ¶ Setlist: Crazy Plonto (beginning cut off), Kids in America/Territorial Pissings, Cup of Joe, Pent Breeze, Sign of the Malls, Monster Now, The Filmography of Ann B. Davis. ¶ Fuzzy Daupner was an obscure New Jersey rock band which, in the brief span of 3 years (1998-2001), created a catalog of 32 amazing songs. ¶ Fuzzy Daupner began in 1998 when Carrie Engdahl (now Carrie Ann Carroll) began collaborating with her sister Denice and Denice's husband Frank on creating songs. Awhile later, they joined forces with Rob DiCaterino (who later went on to co-host The Paunch Stevenson Show) on drums and formed the band Fuzzy Daupner. The final member, Phil Mould (from England) on bass, joined a little later. ¶ They produced two home-recorded, Internet-distributed albums, and played many shows around New Jersey and NYC. But they never got signed and they broke up in November 2001.

Tape Land 34 – ABM – Fragment of a Rough Show (Circa 1987) 22:52 [921] More from my college radio show Anything But Monday, with co-host Mad Mike. project did not move forward at that time.

Tape Land 37 – Wolf Adventure (circa 1984) 39:59 [921] Here's a tape that I estimate to be from 1984, which features myself, my brother John, and our friend Chris on Side 1, doing a variety of features. The audio quality is horrible. Side 2 is just me, and the sound is a little better. ¶ Side 1: A "choose your own adventure" style story called The Mysterious Journey (which mostly involves getting killed by gargoyles and meteors), TI-99/4A programs, The NorNorFed Show, Brother Theodore, TV commercial parodies, Name That Fart. ¶ Side 2: Wolf Adventure (another "choose your own adventure" story), slow talking Fred, hypnosis?

This one is from from March 1986 – after we had been warned by station management about our on-air hijinks, but before we were kicked off. In fact, in our suspension letter, dated April 11, 1986 – many segments from this broadcast were cited as reasons for our removal. ¶ Notes: Mike has laryngitis, defying the radio lords, manipulating the equipment, military time, contraceptive sponges, Exercise Promo, Fred Small, pornography, National Rehabilitation Week PSA, (audio issue), Drew Security PSA, random word of the day – "laryngitis", the PSA PSA, Weekly World News, (audio issue fixed), horoscopes, Literacy PSA, Teen Scene: 1001 Groovy Hints & Tips, Laurie Anderson, Peace Corps PSA, The Charleston.

Tape Land 40 – Assignment: Mystery Box! (1994) 5:14 [922] "Assignment: Mystery Box!" was a feature I created for my 1990s ezine, OsoaWeek. The idea was I would give my friend Peter a mystery box, and he would open it and give his initial reaction to it. Then there were a series of challenges of things to do with the item. The feature was cancelled after 2 appearances. ¶ Assignment: Mystery Box! #1 – Polly Pocket Pretty Pandas, July 19, 1994 – opening the box, July 20, 1994 – experiences with the item ¶ Assignment: Mystery Box! #2 – New Kids on the Block cards, August 8, 1994 – opening the box, August ?, 1994 – experiences with the item Tape Land 41 – The Last Fuzzy Daupner Show (10/27/01) 2:08:12 [922] It's the end of the road for Fuzzy Daupner, as they play their last show, at The Underpass in Elmwood Park, NJ on Saturday, October 27, 2001. Awhile later, they joined forces with Rob DiCaterino (who later went on to co-host The Paunch Stevenson Show) on drums and formed the band Fuzzy Daupner. The final member, Phil Mould (from England) on bass, joined a little later.

Tape Land 43 – Anything But Monday (10/27/86) 1:04:46 [923] Here's another episode on my college radio show "Anything But Monday", with co-host Mad Mike. ¶ This one is very special – as long as I can remember, there was something wrong with this particular tape, and it couldn't be played. Today, February 3, 2018, I broke open the cassette and transferred the tape to a new cassette housing – and I was able to hear it, perhaps for the first time since it was recorded over 30 years ago. ¶ Notes: Starting the show, the rip in time, the cart machine's busted, The Mailman's Nightmare, the station want to go to 100 watts, Kaboom PSA, virgins, Drew Security PSA, Halloween costume contest, Anything But Monday Magazine #3, Public Transit PSA, The Mets, Tolley Pit bathroom, dying fly, Israel Kat & Matzoh Mouse vs. Shalom Gnome, supermarkets, the new secret mystery, Progressive Music, Blind Welder PSA, We Are The World backwards, anti-apartheid demonstrators, gross-out question, random phone calls, (some tape speed problems at this point), TV game shows, The Gong Show, Match Game, Wheel of Fortune, House Bat Management PSA, cable radio, freedom of speech, France, bag ladies, beggars, quadmates, putting the clock back on the wall, Gilligan's Island, Stephen Wright, Jonathan Round "In Quest of the Unicorn", end of the show.

Tape Land 44 – Little Frankie Nora – How Do You Feel About the Job? (1987) 47:43 [923] In 1987, at age 19, I set up a rudimentary recording studio in my parents' basement. I created six "albums" of music as "Little Frankie Nora": Die!, The Good War, Demolition Curve, Original Tin, How Do You Feel About the Job?, and Ending the Era with Calm Music (released in Tape Land 23). I compiled the best of these to create two official cassette releases: Welcome to the Weasel Village Mall and Bicentennial Cane, which had very limited distribution. These two have been released on the Onsug Archive. However, the individual "albums" have never been released. ¶ This is the 5th album, "How Do You Feel About the Job?" As I mention in the track "Box Spring", this album was begun on May 22, 1987, after a hiatus of 3-4 months from recording. The main instruments I used were a Casio SK-1 sampling keyboard and a small black-and-white TV. I think I also had a bass guitar pedal I borrowed from my friend Chris. ¶ Another interesting note, in the track "Frank's Dream", is a fragment of recording from November 24, 1979, when I was 12. I dreamed I was on a silver boat in 2043. ¶ One of my favorite Little Frankie Nora songs is on this album – "Going Off" – which I've played a number of times of the Other Side of The Overnightscape. ¶ Track list: Welcome Back, Reemiks, Recur, False Chest, Thaldarndog, Cream Opus, Hoehme, Box Spring, I, Ron, Detroit, Spencer, Recommended, Sands of Mercy, Master of Fools, The First Ones, The Last Ones, Their Hands, Try Fencing, White People, Frank's Dream, Doktor Bojangles, Previrginia, Virginia, Way of Life, Game #2, Fuck You, Mommy Furriest, Skill, Easy, Palsy Walsy, Going Off, Vampires, Young, Old, Bird, Turtle, Gate, Pillar, Sand, Rock, Come Again.

Tape Land 45 – I Slight Ice Light – Dreams (Late 80s) 59:15 [923] This is a very interesting tape. I recorded it my apartment at 170 Thompson St. in Manhattan, while attending NYU. ¶ The first part is the soundtrack to an animated film I made (in 1988, I think). I used my Casio SK-1 and used a similar production method to my Little Frankie Nora music. The rest of the tape is me talking about my dreams and my weird experiences in college. ¶ There are some audio problems – the volume is not consistent – I tried to amplify different sections to make it easier to hear. ¶ 1988? ¶ 0:00 – music for a stop motion animated movie I made in film school called "I Slight Ice Light" ¶ Thu. Jan. 12, 1989 ¶ 9:42 answering machine, 11:57 – annoying noises, 13:35 – recorder for dreams ¶ Fri. Jan. 20, 1989 ¶ 14:02 – dream – subway trips with girls, 24:04 – supernatural college stuff ¶ Mon. Jan. 23, 1989 ¶ 41:03 – dream – hole in the basement wall – fairy-like creatures, 54:52 – dream – interdimensional crawlspaces

Tape Land 46 – Studio Test / Commute (2002) 42:11 [923] I set up my home studio that would become The Overnightscape Studio a full year before I started The Overnightscape. This is the first test, with my Shure 55SH microphone, Joemeek channel strip, and Behringer mixer. After the brief test, I record on my NYC commute with a Walkman recorder. ¶ [3/29/02] (0:00) testing my new studio setup, [4/3/02] (3:28) morning ferry commute, (5:18) commute sounds, (7:34) elevator, [4/12/02] (9:26) street sounds, [4/26/02] (17:45) bus stop – Obliviana Wander Radio, (24:40) street sounds, (25:50) street protest, [4/30/02] (35:19) rainbow, on ferry, World Trade Center, (40:25) subway beggar.

Tape Land 47 – Anything But Tartarus with Hades and Poseidon (11/8/87) 1:26:09 [924] Here's another episode of my college radio show, Anything But Monday, with co-host Mad Mike. On this one, we take on the personas of Greek gods Hades and Poseidon. While some clips from this tape were previously released, this is the first time the whole thing has been heard since it first aired over 30 years ago. ¶ Notes: Anything But Tartarus with Hades and Poseidon, forest fires, Pan and Dionysus, Nobel Peace Prize, mines, Atlantis foot, Charon, death rays, Lethe Bridge, Subway Styx, deathbed, In The News, pandas, Brady Bunch Trivia, Sammy Hagar album VOA, Flaming Carrot Comics #14, Minorities Workshop, pineapple snacks, The Furies, The Acorn, Communication Needs Stressed At Forum, gold magnet invention, Medusa, Pati called in, Fortune Bubble gum, underwear, space for sale, questions and answers, three famous hot dogs, panda licorice, Hades' hobbies, The New Monkees, T Bone Burnett, The Mailman's Nightmare, Youth for Understanding International Exchange, Frank's magic reindeer dream, Barbi Benton, juggling, and waiting for the next DJs to arrive (Barnes, Pingitore,

Tape Land 48 – Anything But Monday – First Show (2/17/86) 23:35 [924] This is where it all starts, the very first episode of my college radio show Anything But Monday, with co-host Mad Mike. ¶ ABM fan TomKat recently messaged me and asked about the first episode – he remembered it used to available to download. I could have sworn I had already released it in the archive – but apparently, I never did. So here it is, freshly digitized from the original cassette – recorded over 32 years ago! ¶ Notes, Walking on Sunshine, rules of the radio station, swear words, Large War, House Bat Management PSA, incompetence, Jazz Promo, the word of the day, Weekly World News, mechanical difficulties, Heating With Wood PSA, the next DJ Carson.

Tape Land 49 – Anything But Monday – Third Show (3/3/86) 14:28 [924] Here's more of my college radio show, Anything but Monday, with co-host Mad Mike. This is Side 2 of the tape of our first show (see last week's Tape Land). It starts off with a pre-recorded bit we did, "The Shadow Traffic" (a parody of the Shadow Traffic reports heard on the old Howard Stern Show on WNBC). Then there's some production work on "Go Away", featuring alternate dialogue. At the beginning, you can hear a news report about the Space Shuttle Challenger disaster in the background. ¶ After this, it's the first part of our third show, from March 3, 1986. This is verified, as we say the date on the tape. The rest of the show has already been released, as the first part of Tape Land 6. I had suspected it was from 3/3/86, but some context on the first part confirms it.

Tape Land 50 – Anything But A Teepee In Ithaca Show (11/15/87) 1:54:04 [925] Here's another episode of my college radio show, Anything But Monday, with co-host Mad Mike. Tape Land 51 – Little Frankie Nora – Original Tin (1987) 47:28 [925] In 1987, at age 19, I set up a rudimentary recording studio in my parents' basement. I created six "albums" of music as "Little Frankie Nora": Die!, The Good War, Demolition Curve, Original Tin, How Do You Feel About the Job? (Tape Land 44), and Ending the Era with Calm Music (Tape Land 23). I compiled the best of these to create two official cassette releases: Welcome to the Weasel Village Mall and Bicentennial Cane, which had very limited distribution. These two have been released on the Onsug Archive. However, the individual "albums" have never been released. ¶ This is the 4th album, "Original Tin", recorded in early 1987. The main instruments I used were a Casio SK-1 sampling keyboard and a small black-and-white TV. I also had a bass guitar pedal I borrowed from my friend Chris – who recorded the bass solo "Kreation – 21J4]" for the album. "21J4]"was an attempt to write"CHRIS" upside-down. The first track is the earliest recording I have of myself, from 1969. ¶ Track list: Little Frankie (8:00), What Color (:31), Violetgoggle (:14), Ice Cream Cone of the Gods (:44), Fun With Chainsaw (2:53), Brat Pit (:58), Urgent (:32), Thirteen Masks (1:25), Down the River (:42), Bad Rabbit (:50), Retard Convention (:55), Pee Pee (:32), Baby Retards in Vienna (:36), Master Zone (:48), Demo Demon (:09), Five Minute Break (:20), Micro (:47), Business (:38), Kreation – 21J4](7:55), Wise War II (1:43), Smithsaurian (1:11), Black Lake with Rainbow (:52), In the Attic (2:09), The It (:55), Quiet Down (1:10), Original Tin (:31), Big City Then (:45), The One (:16), Drawer (1:03), Interlude (:04), And Our Strength (:58), Built Right (:23), Finally (1:01), The Wrong Paint (:21), Chickens (:24), More Books (:39), Rafter (:28).

(Tape Land 44), and Ending the Era with Calm Music (Tape Land 23). I compiled the best of these to create two official cassette releases: Welcome to the Weasel Village Mall and Bicentennial Cane, which had very limited distribution. These two have been released on the Onsug Archive. However, the individual "albums" have never been released. ¶ This is the 3rd album, "Demolition Curve", recorded in early 1987 (the date 1/8/87 is listed to the tape). It's being heard here for this first time since it was performed over 17 years ago. ¶ Set 1: The Mexican Hovercraft, Sliding Gardens, Only Saw Trucks, Transit Shivers, Hit Me With Your Best Shot (cover), Some in the Woods, Take A Nap, Pregnant Skateboard, 99 Red Balloons (cover), Deluge of Primacy, Video Niflheim, Weird Highway, Kids in America/Territorial Pissings (cover), Coping Saw Sunset Roads, The Us Hounds. ¶ Set 2: Possible Calhoun, Living in a Material World (cover), Christian Rock, Ten Minutes Cat, Crazy Plonto, Hungry Like the Wolf (cover), The Brown And Blue, The Armixhony Of Conrad, Sign of the Malls, Pent Breeze, Monster Now, Dancing With Myself (cover), Dear Anyone, Cup Of Joe, The Filmography Of Ann B. Tape Land 55 – New Tape Recorder/Gullhall (2001-2002) 1:24:34 [925] ¶ This tape is from late 2001 thru early 2002. It was a time where I was struggling to find the right creative direction – focusing on two projects – 209 and Severe Repair. I talk about these projects while walking around NYC and driving around NJ. Luckily for me, I was able to move past these stalled projects the following year and start The Overnightscape, which turned out to be a much better creative project for me. ¶ "Gullhall" was a name for some idea I had – it's written on the tape, but I don't talk about it in the audio. ¶ Notes: [11/29/01] subway?, [11/30/01] corner of Prince and Wooster, cheap new tape recorder, Obliviana, 40th Street, 209, [12/2/01] Route 3, cigars and storage, Thinkfang theories, sunset, junkyard, Severe Repair, Menlo Park Mall, the back way to storage, Woodbridge Center Mall, book about publishing, time travel scene from Severe Repair, [12/3/01] subway, more about the scene, later on, [12/5/01] Penn Station, more Severe Repair notes (the computer game Beautiful Disaster Area), street sounds, beggar, [1/25/02] doing 209 lately, dream, work meetings, [1/27/02] Best Buy parking lot, 209, Stormjaunting, do one thing – do it well, cults, Staples, creative projects, [1/30/02] 209 experience, lunch experience, Silmarillion. ¶ Here's the Severe Repair chapter I wrote based off the notes I was talking about.

Tape Land 57 – Little Frankie Nora – The Good War (1987) 31:50 [926] In 1987, at age 19, I set up a rudimentary recording studio in my parents' basement. I created six albums of music as "Little Frankie Nora": Die!, The Good War, Demolition Curve (Tape Land 52), Original Tin (Tape Land 51), How Do You Feel About the Job? (Tape Land 44), and Ending the Era with Calm Music (Tape Land 23). I compiled the best of these to create two official cassette releases: Welcome to the Weasel Village Mall and Bicentennial Cane, which had very limited distribution. These two, along with the Shatter Cider EP, have been released on the Onsug Archive. However, the individual "albums" have never been released before now. ¶ This is the second album, "The Good War", recorded in early 1987 (January, most likely). The main instruments I used were a Casio SK-1 sampling keyboard and a small black-and-white TV set. ¶ Track list: Too Much (:50), Flash (:47), Infinity (:25), Some Other Time (1:47), Days (1:18), Kill the Small One (Part II) (1:19), Doodoohoe (:40), Hack (:25), Retard (:39), Bad Sreet Theme (Part II) (:22), The Report (:21), Storm Season (1:16), The Good War (:38), Dance to the Hills (1:05), Done For (:23), Three (:17), You Are (:40), Moral Obligation (1:04), That Thing (:24), Murder in Martinsville

I created six albums of music as "Little Frankie Nora": Die!, The Good War (Tape Land 57), Demolition Curve (Tape Land 52), Original Tin (Tape Land 51), How Do You Feel About the Job? (Tape Land 44), and Ending the Era with Calm Music (Tape Land 23). I compiled the best of these to create two official cassette releases: Welcome to the Weasel Village Mall and Bicentennial Cane, which had very limited distribution. These two, along with the Shatter Cider EP, have been released on the Onsug Archive. However, the individual "albums" have never been released before now. ¶ This is the first album, "Die!". On the tape case label it says "Produced Dec. 31, 1986 to Jan. 1, 1987" – so it was actually started in 1986. The main instruments I used were a Casio SK-1 sampling keyboard and a small black-and-white TV set. The first track was clearly influenced by Laurie Anderson, who I was a fan of at the time. ¶ Track list: Left or Right (:58), Gilligan's Nightmare (:52), Radio and Television (1:51), What (:46), Bag of Garbage (:45), At Night (2:40), Baby Rats (:39), Hoobert Heever (1:26), Platinum (:44), Thunder Lizard (1:00), Die! Tape Land 61 – Beublin in Jail (5/12/01) 15:36 [927] Today's tape is the raw audio of a recording session for my audio comedy series Beublin A. Richardson – for the last episode – Episode 25, "All My Helicopters". ¶ Original description: "Beublin A. Richardson gets thrown in jail and meets his old friend Horace Doom and ice-cream-store-bomber Gene Bossel." ¶ It was recorded on May 12, 2001, at Video Game Connections, at a strip mall in Howell, NJ. There's a faint clicking sound in the background – there was something wrong with the Sony Walkman recorder. ¶ In the final version, I applied an audio filter to make it sound like they were indoors. Here, you can hear the original sound of the recording. ¶ Cast: Peter Litkey as Beublin A. Richardson, Frank Edward Nora as Horace Doom, Jay as Gene Bossel, Dustin as jailor.

Tape Land 62 – NYC – Scary PATH Ride (3/6/02) 50:40 [927] I used to do "audio mining" in NYC – carrying a tape recorder at all times in order to capture interesting audio, for use on my Internet radio project at the time, Bluffcosm.com. This tape is an example of "audio mining", along with me talking about stuff. ¶ Notes: (3/6/02), Tape recorders, audio project ideas, ferry boat incident, weird beggar in subway, World Trade Center, J&R Computer World, elevator, another beggar, siren, Towers of Light Memorial, on the ferry boat, Hoboken, signal problems, scary PATH train ride, (3/14/02), war dream, Obliviana Wander Radio idea, elevator.

Tape Land 64 – Little Frankie Nora – Bumper Tape Galaxy Reel (1987) 55:12 [928] In 1987, at age 19, I set up a rudimentary recording studio in my parents' basement. I created six albums of weird music as "Little Frankie Nora" (previously released on Tape Land). ¶ The studio consisted of a tape deck, a tape recorder, a mixer, a microphone, an old black-and-white TV set, and a Casio SK-1 sampling keyboard. My method of recording was to record to tape, then play along to that tape to the other recorder, allowing for a kind of rudimentary multitrack recording. ¶ "Bumper Tape Galaxy Reel" is one of those temporary "bumper" tapes – with a bunch of song fragments and pieces – along with some material never heard on the main "albums". It's very interesting to listen to. ¶ At one point on the tape (23:54), I say "Galaxy Reel, stand by". As I recall, Galaxy Reel was a collection of my old Super 8mm animated movies, which was part of a compilation video I released. I think this was the music I played in the background of the silent films. But the music also became part of a tape called "Shatter Cider" or "Shatter Cider Suite" (available in the archive).

Tape Land 65 – Bluffcosm Test #1 (March 2000) 1:42:36 [928] I had completely forgotten about this tape! It's the first tape I made with my new tape recorder, at the start of my first Internet radio project, Bluffcosm. It mostly consists of ambient audio of NYC – including walking through the original World Trade Center and playing video games at some now long-lost Times Square arcades! ¶ Notes: Wednesday, March 15, 2000, 6:55 PM, Park Row, NYC, just got a new tape recorder, officially kicking off the "Age of Bluffcosm", ambient sounds of the city, microphone test, World Trade Center, subway, 50th Street, Times Square, cigar, Laser Park Arcade, Crazy Taxi, Broadway City Arcade, Port Authority Bus Terminal, buying a snack, giving directions, Thursday, March 16, 2000, 10:00 AM, on the bus, more ambient sounds of the city, subway, Varick Street, got coffee from Jack, auto reverse, elevator, arrived at work.

Tape Land 66 – T-5 (1978-1982) 1:32:24 [928] I got my own tape recorder for my tenth birthday in 1977. I recorded a set of tapes, labeled them T-1, T-2, etc. This is T-5. ¶ At the very end of the tape, I give the date, Monday, November 20, 1978. But back then, I would dub over parts of the tape later for various reasons. For example, the "Sneak Previews" I taped off TV is from 1982. ¶ I released a short edited version of this tape in Bluffcosm many years ago, as "T5". ¶ Notes: Playing a record on my grandparent's Edison Phonograph ("On Yonder Rock Reclining, Fra Diavolo, Auber, Soprano and Tenor Orchestra Accompaniment") – with a brief conversation overdubbed in the middle, brief clip of a Star Wars record, Frank introduces "The Danse Macabre", more of the Star Wars record, Frank skits (Miss Checkerboard's Story, Guest Star: Beethhoven), Micronauts TV commercial, public library PSA, Hanna–Barbera's World of Super Adventure, The Impossibles – with Frank's scavanger hunt clue in the middle, The Frank Nora Show, Mellie and Doodoohoe, Frankenstein Jr., The Impossibles, Battle of the Planets, TI-99/4A data, Sneak Previews with Siskel & Ebert (The Secret of NIMH/The Devil's Playground/Gregory's Girl/Tron), Space Academy ("The Rocks of Janus"), Gilligan's Island ("The Kidnapper"), Frank's Gilligan's Island annoucement, Frank introduces "The World of Music Boxes", Frank talks about the other tapes.

Tape Land 67 – Bandage F (August 2001) 48:38 [928] This one starts with an improvised story, then I talk about my creative project Obliviana, then some birds and trains. The first part of this tape was played on The Frank Nora Show 1680 – The Rampler Weekly #1 (4/23/11). ¶ Notes: [8/5/01], Bandage F, Bandage Elf, Tanapa, Forjooms, a comic book altered reality, symbolic language, The Amazing Mysteries of Ian Hanclair, Osaka, NJ Turnpike, The Windy Barrier by Ian Hanclair, Vocawks the Space Memories, birds, Obliviana Phase 2, What About Bluffcosm?, good fortune, train station, train, [8/10/01], bus stop, college friends, subway.

Tape Land 68 – Fuzzy Daupner – Live at Loop Lounge (9/8/01) 37:00 [928] Fuzzy Daupner (Carrie Engdahl–vocals & guitar, Rob DiCaterino–drums, Phil Mould–bass) live at Loop Lounge in Passaic, New Jersey, on Saturday, September 8, 2001. ¶ This show is notable for having two of the rarest Fuzzy Daupner songs – Dirt Bike Fun and Ridiculous Fortune, which weren't heard many times before the band broke up. Also, the show was just 3 days before 9/11. ¶ Setlist: Sliding Gardens, Pent Breeze, The Us Hounds, Dirt Bike Fun, Ridiculous Fortune, Possible Calhoun, The Filmography of Ann B. Davis.

Tape Land 69 – ABM: Shadow/Phil (1984-1986) 25:35 [932] This tape was used for multiple purposes by me, over the course of perhaps a year or two. First, it was music I taped off vinyl, to listen to. I edited these songs out for copyright reasons (see list below). Also, it was used as a production tape for two features for my college radio show Anything But Monday (with co-host Mad Mike) – The Shadow Traffic and Go Away. It also contains live recordings of us wandering the campus – taped on my stereo boombox, and an aircheck from the show. Some of the audio from the tape has been heard on Onsug before – but some has never been released. The ABM stuff is from late 1985 to early 1986. ¶ Notes: End of song "Turn Me Loose" by Loverboy, end of TV commercial, channel ID?, Mr. Ed theme song, annoying alarm noise, WPST radio aircheck, Herman's Sweater Barn commercial (partial), start of I Take The Dice by Duran Duran, production work for ABM feature The Shadow Traffic, helicopter noise, The Shadow theme song, Frank's roommate John says the date (12/10/85?), The Shadow Traffic, John again, Mike and Frank wander the campus (previously released on Bluffcosm as "Umbrella"), production work for ABM feature Go Away, more campus wanderings, ABM aircheck – Go Away premiere, wandering the campus, Eight Ball Deluxe pinball in the game room at The Commons and asking for copies of the radio schedule, interview with Phil (with TV report on the Space Shuttle Challenger disaster in the background (meaning this part of the tape is some time after 1/28/86)), wandering the campus some more. ¶ Other songs that were on the tape, which I edited out: Had A Dream by Roger Hodgson, Do They Know It's Christmas? By Band Aid, Feed The World by Band Aid, Dissidents (The Search For Truth Part 1) by Thomas Dolby, Making Flippy-Floppy by Talking Heads (12"), Slippery People by Talking Heads (12"), Wait by Wang Chung.

Tape Land 70 – Frankshow (circa 1986) 6:12 [932] I vaguely recall recording this in the studios of WMNJ at Drew University, probably in 1986. It was recorded to tape, not broadcast live. It may have been a test for me doing a music-based show. As there are only a few songs, I must have quickly given up on the idea. ¶ I edited out all but the beginning and end of each song for copyright reasons (except the W. C. Fields bit). ¶ Songs: Theme From Rocky And Bullwinkle by Birdsongs Of The Mesozoic, William Tell Overture by Spike Jones, W. C. Fields, Genesis Ch.1 V.32 by The Alan Parsons Project.

Tape Land 71 – God's Ass I & II (Mid 1990s) 1:33:46 [932] God's Ass was an audio project I briefly worked in in the mid 1990s – probably sometime from 1994 to 1996. The idea was to collect my old childhood recordings (from the 70s and 80s) and repackage them as a kind of weird audio experience – actually quite similar to this current Tape Land project. ¶ On a Maxell XLII 90-minute cassette, side 1 is labeled "GOD'S ASS I", and side 2 is labeled "GOD'S ASS II". There may be more God's Ass tapes – though I'm not sure. As I continue forward with the Tape Land project I'll find them if they exist. ¶ On the name "God's Ass" – it was the name of a song on the sixth and last "Little Frankie Nora" album, "Ending the Era with Calm Music" from 1987 (see Tape Land 23). It was also the name of a poem from my "Abaxial Usufruct" collection from a few years later (available in the Onsug Radio Vault ZIP in Channel 202). ¶ The tape itself contains segments from a variety of tapes – many of which I have yet to encounter in the Tape Land project... ¶ [0:00:00] A Saturday afternoon in the Mid 1980s. The original tape had "Alvin and the Chipmunks" music, with us recording over it, but also using it as part of our parody of MTV. We read from the newspaper – comic strips, soap opera recaps, etc. – which could date this audio more precisely with more research. Then you hear a younger me talking about the Chipmunks music, and attempting to do the chipmunk voice by talking slow and paying it on fast forward. ¶ [0:19:33] Random stuff: TI-99/4A data, Herculoids?, Odd Couple, 2XL. ¶ [0:21:37] Montana 1980 (Part One) (previously released in Onsug) ¶ [0:27:52] March 3, 1984. John talks about the situation. Then he reads from a Star Trek game book. ¶ [0:34:19] DRAGONMAP. I've been trying to find this audio for a long time. It's a parody of Spinal Tap, circa early 1985. Interviewing the band Arrowhead about their new album "Dragonmap". Playing clips from The Herculoids, The Little Rascals, and a Disney record. Imitating Merv Griffin. Listening to Montana 1980 Prelude (previously released on Onsug). ¶ [0:59:03] Nova Ravenwood. Story about pirates, Loch Ness Monster, Puff the Magic Dragon, Star Trek, Lord of the Rings, etc. ¶ [1:09:43] Manhattan Project documentary, us talking in the background. ¶ [1:15:00] TV – Learning Disabilities PSA, commercials (Life Savers, Neet, Bain De Soleil) ¶ [1:16:36] Stereo Test #47 ¶ [1:17:22] Twilight Zone stories (Pickle Story, Green Light Story). ¶ [1:23:24] June 24, 1983, Christmas Music, Interview with Chris, Hitchhiker's Guide.

It's me recording audio notes on my creative projects and what directions I wanted to go in. This was a little over a year before I started The Overnightscape, and I was struggling with a number of ideas, which eventually led to The Overnightscape and The Overnightscape Underground... ¶ Notes: [Gullhall 4] Tuesday 2/5/02, 9:14 AM, sitting in my Jeep at the bus stop, post office trip, subway flute music, 3:19 PM, Lispenard Street, Stormjaunting, Pearl Paint, people fighting, Wednesday 2/6/02, 2:57 PM, 54th Street, Davidoff, Thursday 2/7/02, 9:45 AM, espresso incident, Timothy's World Coffee, 3:00 PM, books, tapioca tea, Shasta at K-Mart, Friday 2/8/02, 10:00 AM, hurt my knee, late for work, subway, 1:00 PM, Temple in the Village, Stormjaunting observations, 6:30 PM, feasibility testing, Gene Simmons at Virgin Megastore, Saturday 2/9/02, 6:29 PM, Obliviana Radio, 209, Severe Repair, pine air freshener in my Jeep, computerized audio entertainment, Intel Pocket Concert MP3 player, Dragnet, Morpheus, Digital Llama Radio, RetroGaming Radio, The Silmarillion, Jean Shepherd archive, bitrates, Cheapo3, Petco, 7:12 PM, 209 vs. Bluffcosm, Gullhall, Fuzzy Daupner, audio ideas, odometer, [Gullhall 5] audio show downloads, computerized audio entertainment, Monday 2/11/02, NYC, espresso patterns, payphones, Tuesday 2/12/02, ferryboat, dreams, 3:04 PM, Stormjaunting, lunch, Dean & Deluca, licorice information, Wednesday 2/13/02, 9:54 AM, coffee stuff, Delawanna incident, Thursday 2/14/02, sense of time, bookstore, pita, espresso, Severe Repair, Broadway City Arcade, finished The Silmarillion, creative directions, ticket plaza, Severe Repair, Monopoly pinball, Racing Jam, 10:05 PM, waiting for the bus,

Tape Land 75 – The Jeep Obliviana Recordings (July 2001) 1:31:22 [933] In July 2001 I was struggling to implement a new phase of my overly ambitious creative project "Obliviana" – and I recorded my thoughts about it in my Jeep while waiting for the bus over the course of several days, and also while walking around NYC. ¶ One location I recorded in twice on the tape is the plaza between the Twin Towers at the World Trade Center. Little did I know that less than two months later, 9/11 would happen. ¶ There's a double sense of impending disaster on the tape – the approach of 9/11, and the inevitable failure of Obliviana. ¶ Once I finally gave up on Obliviana in 2003, it led to the start of The Overnightscape, which has been a much better creative project for me. ¶ Notes: (7/9/01) ambient sounds of the subway, (7/10/01) smoking a cigar in my Jeep, job stuff, Obliviana, Dashic Deeds, (7/11/01) Big Brother 2, financial difficulties, Frank in the future, (7/12/01) missed the bus, Fonosta Device, a flaw in Obliviana Phase 2, (7/13/01) more thoughts on Obliviana, cigar, (7/16/01) walking in World Trade Center plaza, Obliviana Day, singing beggar, taxi protest, (7/17/01) more thoughts on Obliviana, Bluffcosm CD idea, (7/19/01) World Trade Center plaza, more Obliviana plans, introducing 209 to the world, keystone idea.

It's a rare glimpse into the behind-the-scenes creative process of the band. ¶ Setlist: Sliding Gardens, The Mexican Hovercraft, Pent Breeze, Possible Calhoun, Sign of the Malls, Monster Now, Only Saw Trucks, Pregnant Skateboard, The Us Hounds, The Filmography of Ann B. Davis, Video Niflheim, The Us Hounds, Back To Circles, Dirt Bike Fun.

Tape Land 77 – Dreams, Etc. (October 1989) 1:33:23 [934] After college, my magazine business had failed, and I was unemployed and living at home with my parents in Central NJ, and having weird dreams. Tape Land 79 – God's Ass III (Mid 1990s) 45:30 [934] God's Ass was an audio project I briefly worked in in the mid 1990s – probably sometime from 1994 to 1996. The idea was to collect my old childhood recordings (from the 70s and 80s) and repackage them as a kind of weird audio experience – actually quite similar to this current Tape Land project. ¶ I previously released the first two parts in Tape Land 71 – God's Ass I & II (Mid 1990s). This third part is full of more bizarre, surprising, and disturbing audio. Get ready for a window into some weird times of the mid 1980s! ¶ Some of the audio (0:00:48 to 0:13:40) was previously released in Tape Land 25 – W (XHE Extra High Energy 90) (circa 1980) ¶ Notes: [0:00:00] Interview with Chris, [0:00:48] Weird sounds, [0:03:10] Frank's time travel story, [0:11:35] Skipper commercial, CHiPs, B. Tape Land 80 – Fen – 1990 into 1991 – Fen (1990) 1:01:12 [934] I had a tradition for a few years of recording weird music on New Year's Eve. This tape starts off earlier in the year, in June, and I'm "seeing visions" to try and understand the nature of 209 (11×19=209). On 12/31, I'm playing music on my Casio SK-1 sampling keyboard. One segment, "Walking Along", wound up on the Little Frankie Nora album "Shatter Cider Suite" (previously released in Onsug). In fact, I had given the date for that album as 1987, but with this new information, it must be 1991 or later (though much fo the music was from circa 1987). ¶ Other than that, this is the first time any of this stuff is being heard. ¶ 9:39 PM 6/19/90, in bed, visions about the nature of 11 and 19, [14:17] 6/21/90, 7:50 AM, more visions, [31:32] 12/31/90, playing with a synthesizer and talking about my dream, [33:16] walking around outside, drumming on something, [35:03] synthesizer, [43:24] "Walking Along" from Shatter Cider Suite, [44:01] synthesizer, [46:57] singing, [57:36] outside lying on the ground, 10 minutes to midnight, [1:01:09] happy new year.

Tape Land 81 – Thoughts & Rain (July 2003) 1:53:12 [935] I made this tape to record my thoughts on the status of my creative projects, and to come up with plans for the future. This was just a few months after I started The Overnightscape in 2003. My ideas were all over the place and quite unrealistic, but somehow, all these years later (February 2019 now), it's all kind of worked out... ¶ [4:26 PM, Thursday, July 10, 2003], going on a trip to storage, The Master Cleanser, suspended Obliviana, got laid off from my job, plans for the future, Fonosta Device, massively multiplayer online role-playing games, MUDs, Garden State Parkway toll plaza, Dashic Deeds, bring Obliviana back?, cult, creative projects, Zope, new batteries, Bob Grant, Iselin, Bluffcosm, Severe Repair, arrived at storage, release the waste, accumulating junk, Toys "R" Us, The Overnightscape, Blufftoons, Thinkfang, New Fonjo, Internet radio station, new travel weathervanes, [Monday, July 14, 2003, 1:26 PM], thoughts, passions, Obliviana, trying to do something innovative and different, science fiction writing, a new way of playing with the world around you, 2-XL, the audio entertainment factor, 209, Forge of Wander, game system with entertainment, the urge for control, look at the world in a different way, creating entertainment, phone calls, self-publishing, total control, core passions, life goals, a new kind of radio, looking for a new direction, going over it again, Obliviana Super Occult Amusement, eight subdivisions, the keystone idea, a simple addictive little game which could scale up into the complete system, Interweb, [Tuesday, July 22, 2003, afternoon], walking outside in the rain, sitting in my Jeep in the parking lot during a thunderstorm, smoking a cigar, thunder, Office Space, Bluffcosm.com streaming live, Super Objects, Jean Shepherd, radio stations selling their own products, the idea is sound, watching the birds, blue animals, let's go inside, listen to the stream.

Tape Land 82 – Obliviana Wander Radio Thoughts (3/3/02) 36:50 [935] I made this tape driving home in the middle of the night after one of the NAVA video game collectors meetings at Video Game Connections in Howell, NJ. I recorded "Classictronica: Arcade Memories (3/2/02)" at that meeting (available in Onsug). On the drive, I'm talking my ideas for "Obliviana Wander Radio", an early concept of what would eventually become Onsug. A lot of my ideas here are based on technological limitations in 2002 that no longer exist. ¶ Notes: 3/3/02, 2:37 AM, driving in the rain up Route 9 North, Obliviana Wander Radio, history of recorded audio entertainment, Bluffcosm, Internet radio, RealPlayer, audio streaming difficulties, detour, lost, iFilm, toll, downloading vs. streaming, file management, CD-R, the "Wander Radio" concept, the interactive factor, intelligent playlists, audio computer games, 65-hour CDs, 100% cool.

Tape Land 83 – ABM Writing Session (5/13/93) 37:38 [935] In 1993, Mike and Frank briefly brought back Anything But Monday Magazine in a bizarre "packet" format, for one issue – with virtually no distribution. On this tape, they write the introductory "Words of Wizdumb" section, at Mike's place while he's cooking pasta.

Rob DiCaterino–drums, Phil Mould–bass) live at Tierney's in Montclair, New Jersey, on Tuesday, February 20, 2001. Includes the rare full lyrics version of "Transit Shivers". ¶ Notes: Ambient recording of birds by a roadside. Open mic night at Tierney's. Talking about Frank's old recordings. Unknown performer. People talking. Fuzzy Daupner takes the stage. Setlist: The Armixhony of Conrad, The Brown and Blue, Christian Rock, Transit Shivers. After the performance. Unknown performer.

Tape Land 85 – Little Frankie Nora: Shatter Cider (compiled 5/4/92) 15:40 [936] I have previously released Shatter Cider – but with the wrong date (1987), no track listing, and in some cases, a different name (Shatter Cider Suite (just the first 5 songs)). For this release, I made a brand new transfer from the original cassette, and present the title and track listing below, exactly as written on the tape label. ¶ I recorded most of my "Little Frankie Nora" music in 1987, which is why I originally thought this tape was from that year. But apparently, I recorded music over the next few years, and collected it in "Shatter Cider" – making it the final Little Frankie Nora release.

Tape Land 86 – The Frank Nora Show (12/3/83) 10:00 [936] This was a mysterious tape – "Computron Cassette – Low Noise – High Output" – with an "X" written on one side and an "I" on the other. On it, I discovered this previously unknown ten minute recording, "The Frank Nora Show", from December 3, 1983. We were waiting to watch Michael Jackson's Thriller on MTV, which had premiered the day before. This is an amazing time capsule from 1983, being heard for the first time here in 2019. Notes: Frank, Laura, Julie, Men Without Hats, Chris, special announcement, another Chris, Michael Jackson, another room, John, MTV, Thriller.

Tape Land 87 – Fuzzy Daupner at Barnes & Noble Open Mic (Clifton, NJ, 5/24/00) 13:03 [936] Fuzzy Daupner at the Clifton Commons Barnes & Noble Open Mic, Clifton, NJ, on Wednesday, May 24, 2000. Setlist: Weird Highway, Christian Rock.

Tape Land 90 – The Severe Repair Tape #1 (12/31/88-1/1/89) 1:25:12 [937] [937] While "Severe Repair" (meaning something like "extreme travel") eventually became the name of a science fiction story, it started off as the proposed name of a band project which never happened, and then, as heard on this tape, as an idea for a kind of audio magazine on cassette (which also never happened). Starting on New Year's Eve 1988, and continuing into New Year's Day 1989, this tape has a wide range of content, and is a really cool re-discovery for me (as I have little-to-no memory of recording it). – Frank Edward Nora, 4/5/19 ¶ Notes: The Severe Repair Tape #1, 12/31/88, Parsippany K-Mart parking lot, driving, childhood tape recorder plans, New Year's Eve plans, random phrases, weird noises, editing idea, eating popcorn and screams, interactive audio publication, In the Attic 2, Severe Repair audio magazine idea (#1 – God's Ass, #2 – Freon George Maniac Mania, , #3 – That Street Sign You Saw When You Were, #4 – Reflector Time For Now Orange Points of Antenna Beam Forever), back home, weird singing and whistling, noise I make in the shower, the patio, laundry, Mickey Mouse visor, Severe Repair – The Nomadi Sonic Magazine, the drawer, setting up a recording center in what had been Nomadibasement, anything's possible with computers, TI-99/4A programs, bag of random stuff, quicklime, Atari glitching, milk box full of stuff, New Year's Eve TV broadcast, Zone Code #2, 11:53:27 PM, Song: From Eight To Nine, 1/1/89, noises, synthesizer, walking down a highway at night, painted white metal, Do-Re-Mi, noises, weird singing, dialing the time, the ABM office answering machine, shall we go outside, light pollution, kind of a strange time, caffeine hallucinate scarecrow alive, my NYC apartment, walking to NYU, pizza, Gemstoned, film school, buying candy, Houston Street, get well balloons, motivation, up on a soapbox, mouth noises, skin noises, the boiler room, darts, piano, getting ready to go to Long Island, MTV News.

Tape Land 91 – ABM on News Radio (11/7/86) 47:29 [937] I taped 1010 WINS news radio on November 7, 1986, hoping to catch the story about ABM magazine. For some reason, I thought I had missed the story, and it wasn't till several years later that I discovered that I had actually gotten the audio. This is the full audio of that recording – 47 minutes of 1010 WINS from 1986 – very interesting to listen to from a historic perspective. Toward the end of the tape, I break in a few times, overdubbing some audio. ¶ That's Mike in the interview – they mistakenly call him "Frank". ¶ Notes: Roosevelt Island ramp, Verbal Advantage ad, Cambodian battles, Florida man in jail, Black Panther surrenders, Paris terror spree, British early election, Fur Innovations ad, business news, veteran burial plots ad, Accuweather forecast, headlines, Shadow Traffic, American Home Center ad, Lotto fever, priest feeding tube, Philippines coup, clean needles, cleaning up the city, More For Your Money – fruits & vegetables, White Rose ad, Accuweather forecast, Travelers Insurance ad, unemployment figures, police corruption, ABM college humor magazine publishers reprimanded, Accuweather forecast, US Healthcare ad, sports, replacement windows ad, shop in November ad, headlines, emergency test, Shadow Traffic, Fur Innovations ad, hostage returns home, Iran arms, France and terrorism, South Africa, business news, Israel exhibit ad, Accuweather forecast, Bronx assaults, garbageman heroes, Taiwan Flu, Roosevelt Island ramp, Personal Business Report – non-alcoholic beer, (Frank doing a recording test), florist ad, (Frank's synthesizer music), Accuweather forecast, (Little Frankie Nora intro), safety belt laws ad.

Tape Land 92 – Reflection Brake (circa Fall 1988) 21:20 [937] I was working on the soundtrack for a stop-motion animated movie I was making in film school called "I Slight Ice Light", circa Fall 1988. This tape is labeled "Reflection Brake", and has some interesting sounds, performed on my Casio SK-1 sampling synthesizer. ¶ As I recall, I recorded different sounds for different characters, then synched them up while editing the film. So this is the raw tape of those sounds.

Tape Land 93 – Fuzzy Daupner at Tierney's (3/6/01) 44:03 [937] Fuzzy Daupner (Carrie Engdahl–vocals & guitar, Rob DiCaterino–drums, Phil Mould–bass) live at Tierney's in Montclair, New Jersey, on Tuesday, March 6, 2001. ¶ Notes: Open mic night at Tierney's. Before the show. Various performers. Fuzzy Daupner takes the stage (30:23). Setlist: Back to Circles, Take a Nap, 99 Red Balloons (cover).

Tape Land 94 – NYC Bus/Fights/Rain/Etc. (Spring 2001) 1:02:48 [938] Notes: Bus, street, 5/16/01, waiting for the bus, computer troubles, difficult decisions, Bluffcosm recordings, 209, Thinkfang, subway, bus, fare issues, 5/23/01, Kingsland Train station, subway, angry guy, street, 5/24/01, Hoboken Train Station after midnight, street, 5/25/01, argument, saw "Startup.com" at Film Forum, cigar incident, Washington Square Park, hiccups, subway, 6/1/01, bus stop, returned videos to Blockbuster, Buffcosm.com back up, Blufftoon Time #2, Weird October series, political rant, 6/2/01, raining, Jeep.

Tape Land 95 – Incoming Message Cassette (acquired 4/29/01) 6:13 [938] Inspired by "The Audio Kitchen" (a show on WFMU), I spent a few years (around 2001) buying used answering machines with cassettes in them, hoping to find interesting audio for my Internet radio project, Bluffcosm. I got this tape at a flea market in Lyndhurst, NJ, on April 29, 2001. It's short, but has some interesting stuff on it. I bleeped out phone numbers and last names. ¶ Notes: Dinner arrangements, message for Dad, message from Mom, cracks in the concrete, slosh the paint, seating arrangements, carpet installation, shower disappointment, air conditioner, call me when you get a chance, poor guy swallowed a puzzle piece, message from Joe.

Tape Land 96 – Lullaby of Birdland (date unknown) 12:50 [938] I have no idea how this tape came into my possession. It's unlabeled, and seems to be a practice tape, with someone singing "Lullaby of Birdland", "Mood Indigo", "Bill Bailey", "Basin Street Blues", and "Autumn Leaves".

Tape Land 97 – Session for Lisa (August 1992) 1:10:44 [938] I have no idea how this tape came to be part of my collection – maybe I bought it at a flea market or garage sale. It's unlabeled, and I don't think I ever listened to it before. It's a recording of a psychic reading for someone named Lisa. Information on the tape dates it to August 1992. The content of the reading is very generic, mostly about typical new age stuff and relationships. One interesting vision is that Lisa is associated with "seven universes".

Tape Land 98 – Frank's Dreams (1993-1994) 19:27 [939] It was a tape by The Clash – "Cut The Crap" – which I taped over part of to record my dreams, and also talk about my life in general, on 11/17/93, 11/29/93, and 1/20/94. A very cool discovery – I don't think I had ever listened to it since I recorded it way back then. ¶ Notes: Describing my dreams, at 8:30 AM, on Wednesday, November 17, 1993: down by the reservoir, looking for myself, David Dinkins, train tunnels, cliffs, waterfalls, aquarium, coelacanths, electronic music tape, playing a record, she regained her youth, religious food store, Salt Lake City, green oil, medical stick, insurance card, Bryan, Los Angeles at night. Also: old tapes, pennies, Fovy. 11/29/93: my answering machine greetings, Obliviana, Utah. Dreams from Thursday, January 20, 1994: classroom in Canada (cut off).

Tape Land 99 – Fuzzy Daupner live at Lovesexy in Hoboken (11/18/00) 59:04 [939] Fuzzy Daupner (Carrie Engdahl –vocals & guitar, Rob DiCaterino–drums, Phil Mould–bass) live at Lovesexy in Hoboken, New Jersey, on Saturday, November 18, 2000. Setlist: The Armixhony of Conrad, Video Niflheim, The Mexican Hovercraft, Some in the Woods, Dear Anyone, Sign of the Malls (live premiere), Deluge of Primacy, The Us Hounds, Christian Rock, Sliding Gardens, Pent Breeze, Cup of Joe, The Filmography of Ann B. Davis.

Tape Land 100 – Moodbruck #1 (8/5/10) 27:28 [939] It's Tape Land 100! For this occasion, I wanted to delve into a new category of recordings for Tape Land – digital recordings that were never released. There was a time when I recorded a lot of stuff that was never released, for one reason or another. I have always intended to start adding these to Tape Land, and #100 is a good place to start. This first digital recording is the first "Moodbruck" – where I talk about my thoughts on the Onsug project in general, and a range of other things. I did this more to get my thoughts recorded, and didn't necessarily plan on releasing them. But in retrospect, they are very interesting in the history of Onsug. (And notice how I pronounced "Onsug" differently back then). ¶ As far as the Tape Land project as a whole, many hundreds of cassettes remain to be explored for release – not to mention recordings in other audio formats, tape collection I have from other people, video tapes with original content (VHS and Beta), and the aforementioned unreleased digital recordings. So, Tape Land has more than enough raw material to keep going for years and years. ¶ Notes: First recording talking about "Moodbruck" – a thought experiment for a new Internet radio project, social media, media theory, "your late night broadcast", first impressions, virtual audio worlds, "framing", Schmerltz shopping, automated systems, WFMU, "spearhead", cultural trends, concentrated meaning – down to the level of letters and numbers, "traveling partners", video aspect.

Tape Land 101 – Daily Podcast From Another Place (2004-2005) 11:20:59 [939] Daily Podcast From Another place ran for 101 days, from October 20, 2004 to January 28, 2005, and was among the very first wave of podcasts. I had just started podcasting my show, The Overnightscape, earlier in the month, and started this one as an experiment, using material from my Bluffcosm.com Internet radio station. ¶ DPFAP was meant to be mysterious and lacking in context. The name was inspired by the "Little Man From Another Place" from Twin Peaks. The last episode, #101, included a portion of The Overnightscape #100 (1/23/05) with a message about the end of DPFAP. ¶ While all the tracks played on DPFAP are available elsewhere in the Onsug Radio archive, I combined the tracks here so you can hear the entire thing in one audio file, in the original order and bitrate.

Tape Land 102 – Frank's Day (10/13/00) 1:19:21 [939] I played part of this tape on Overnightscape Central – SECRETS – (9/26/11) – where I say I'm going to get a haircut – but the secret was that I got the haircut in the World Trade Center, pre 9-11. ¶ Notes: Cars passing by while a clicking sound is heard (tape recorder issue), Frank at the bus stop, first Fuzzy Daupner show tonight at LoveSexy in Hoboken, cigar incident, mentioning the clicking sound, ambient bus noise, job interviews in NYC, working on a new song (Ridiculous Fortune), Vending Yamp, fear of a haircut, supernatural stuff going on, wishful thinking, heading to the World Trade Center, Halzapular Fuzz (trading cards, bowling, and religion), balloons, bathtub, sound effects, Obliviana, Bluffcosm, the audio format has so much potential, bathroom, in the World Trade Center Concourse, haircut indecision, Nantucket Nectars Orange Mango, J&R Computer World, Addiction Pinball, Wacky Packages, got the haircut, looking for a garbage can, rebellion, success and failure, be here more, World Financial Tape Land 103 – The Frank Nora Show – Mystery Episode (9/30/10) 1:16:55 [940] "The Frank Nora Show" was one of the alternate names for The Overnightscape I used in that chaotic time of 2009-2011. ¶ Back then, there would be times when I would record, but feel uncomfortable with the show I did, and then not release it. That's what happened with this episode – though listening to it today (July 2019), it's hard to figure out what was wrong with it. ¶ Falling between episodes 1577 and 1578, this "mystery episode" has a lot of interesting stuff going on in the "lost episode" – including an idea for "Overnightscape Tonight", which would become "Overnightscape Central" just a few months later. ¶ I covered many of the same topics on the show the next day, on Frank Nora Show 1578 – UFO (10/1/10). ¶ Notes: Cat food on the giant umbrella, it's not even raining, drinking mate instead of coffee, A View From Space, UFOs, getting on the bus, aliens in the sky, sirens, alien theories, Times Square, having a giant umbrella, Coffee Mate, Beatles video billboard, Jackass, dwarf planet Makemake, Disney Store, Storm 16, Ruby Wax, Shock Treatment (1981), Chinese cooking competition, Steely Dan, American TV personalities in Britain, Rich Hall, The Spice Girls, Oliver Reed, Katie Puckrik, the idea of doing a live show, the idea for Overnightscape Tonight, violent art, Tony Curtis dead at 85, Rutgers student suicide, UFO predictions, 50th anniversary of The Flintstones, misanthropy, good and bad aliens, behind the scenes of The Frank Nora Show, Chinese Culinary Competition in Times Square, Earl of Sandwich.

Tape Land 104 – Moodbruck – Greetings (3/16/12) 49:15 [940] Here's another unreleased digital recording, with more of my thinking on the nature of The Overnightscape Underground, trying to come up with ways to contextualize it all. ¶ Port Authority Bus Terminal, definition of The Overnightscape, the magic of audio recording, the plural of concourse, the day world, money, The Overnightscape Underground, annoying noises, Save Tibet, difficulty interfacing with the day world, embracing Onsug in its own space, The Twilight Zone, explore at your own leisure, mainstream media attention, permanent patchwork field-o-stuff, person to person, Southbound, Creative Commons music, the Grand Central Station of the mind, 209, day vs. night, hippies, dividing people into groups, the mysteries of the universe, Oceana plaza, 8/8/08, WFMU, Andy Kaufman, Nightstation, Futurebunch, tough process, The Endless Tour, Times Square, Lagavulin, heavy stuff, freaky environment, something...

It's part of a series of tapes I made about my creative project at the time, Noyage – the first tape of which is also in the archive, On Noyage (2/14/90). ¶ Notes: 10:45 PM, driving to Rhode Island, need oil for car, Rt. 22, dream of exploding city, grandmother's dream of a Ferris wheel, flying Ferris wheel, police lights, The Hollow Fantasia, Nomadi, Noyage, Nomadi Ubiquity, Anything But Monday Productions, Existence Nora Nothingness, Nomadi Framework with 457 elements, Alka-Seltzer, Poland Spring water, eggplant parmigiana, confused people, 181,000 miles, driving, Gorbachev, Lithuania, Hungary, technology, virtual reality, bringing a video camera into your dreams, creating gold and diamonds in your dreams, how to make a video camera you can take into your dreams, Nomadi Framework, experiencers existing beyong the realm of human understanding, reality logic, a progression of sensations, finger issue, paid a toll, inertia, object permanence, subdivisions of dream reality, need gas, news radio (situation in Lithuania), 1:37 AM in Connecticut, coffee, falling asleep, fire engine, music radio, arrived in Rhode Island, deadlines, Elm and Imperial, 3:01 PM, 3/25/90, Zoning at Ele 3 and Nen 10, large yellow ferryboat, easy access with Nomadi, pediatric center, Beatlefest, at Nanny's house for John's party, neo hippie girls, Nomading E3 and N12, Grover Cleveland Area, caffeine, poem quote, out of money, tape recording has a lot of potential, computer voice interface, Nomadi will provide a reason to do things, airplane, second job interview, plans, approaching The Meadowlands, Nomadi and Noyage, time perception, desktop publishing, paying the toll, Nomadi plans, trying to find the hotel, 11:14 PM, my experience at Beatlefest, exhibit hall, panel discussions, logic fingerprint, falling in love, Beatles cover band Liverpool, Battle of the Beatles Bands, numerous meanings of life, different types of experiences as different worlds, Magical Mystery Tour, Holiday Inn sign, more thoughts on The Beatles, it's just common sense.

Tape Land 106 – GE C-30 Answering Machine Tape (circa 1990s) 11:50 [940] Inspired by "The Audio Kitchen" (a show on WFMU), I spent a few years (around 2001) buying used answering machines with cassettes in them, at flea markets and thrift shops, hoping to find interesting audio for my Internet radio project, Bluffcosm. ¶ This tape in unlabeled, but I probably got it around 2000-2001, and the recordings are most likely from sometime in the 1990s. I bleeped out phone numbers and last names. ¶ Notes: Deals in the hopper, managerial promotion, leaky roof, grab a bite to eat, shoot for 7:30, perfecto, backyard was flooded, what time's your flight, Sandy sent me an electronic card, wild weekend, The Hills, thanks for being a friend, Long Branch Half Marathon, Interfaith Hospitality Network, orgy of food, keep it under your hat, busy organizing, still a bit drunk, worst taxi driver, how's your new job going.

Tape Land 107 – Moodbruck: Nightweek Notes (9/22/11) 33:31 [941] I used to record audio notes for my various ideas under the name "Moodbruck". In this recording, from 2011, I'm talking about Nightweek, an project for organizing Onsug that I wound up canceling and never moved forward with. But it was another step that eventually led to the current Onsug Radio archive. ¶ Notes: Nightweek, fractal snapshots, the Foon concept, bustle in the hedgerow, a Smurf in your pocket, creative listening, Nightweek logo, totems, casks, humility, The Onsug, bring Nightweek to a long walk in the city, underlaps, Nightweeking, a little radio world in your pocket, too freaking hot out here.

Tape Land 108 – Driven (FN 3/19/10) 35:37 [941] Here's an episode from 2010 I decided not to release at the time, because it got kind of intense with the topics I was exploring. But hearing it now (Aug. 2019), I think it's worth releasing from the "vault". ¶ This episode is from a transitional time in Onsug history, when I continued doing my show under a variety of different names (in this case, "FN"), before finally returning to "The Overnightscape" in May 2011. ¶ Notes: Relaxed phase, great comments, my new MP3 player, Alanis Morissette, American Idol, conspiracy theories, the changing face of Times Square, the entertainment industry, reincarnation, wrath, "drivers", kindness, cruelty, a pecking order, put this in the vault. ¶ Tape Land will go on hiatus for the next few weeks, but should be back sometime in September.

Tape Land 109 – DREAMSETC – Nov/Dec '89 (1989) 1:22:37 [949] Welcome to Tape Land! On each episode, I'll present the audio of a cassette tape or historic recording from my collection. It's a way to help motivate me to release more of my archives. ¶ Tape Land is back, today, April 25, 2020, after a hiatus of over 8 months. In that time, I went on an big trip to Europe, bought a new house, visited Texas, moved into the new house, and am now in the midst of the lockdown of the Coronavirus crisis. With so much going on, it was hard to get back into Tape Land, as it can be so mentally and emotionally draining to go through the old tapes. But in any case, it's back, with one episode per month for the time being. ¶ The tape for this episode is very interesting – it's from late 1989 (and a little in early 1990). I record many bizarre dreams, including one, about my grandmother's missing cat Fuzzy, which prompted me to go and search specific areas in the following days. Also, I record on a trip to Boston, where I hung out with some Moonies, and then back to staying with my brother in Providence, Rhode Island. Toward the end, I relate part of a dream about gods and goddesses living in a hotel, which I subsequently used as the basis for one of my Severe Repair stories. As I say on the tape, the rest of the dream is recorded on a tape called "1989 into 1990 #1", which I do have, and which will be a future Tape Land release. ¶ Notes: 11/11/89, synopsis of dreams, 12:54 AM, women, phone number on my pants, hitman question, ice cream, hippie, family dinner, dirty bread, game room, arcade game, sell the rockets, phone number confusion, dogs, Ginger the cat, analyzing the dreams, 1:18 PM, elevator, virtual reality generator, infusing the machine with moisture, pathway of the giant bird, N hand, 11:05 PM, at a school, little arcade, Phantom Spiritzone, Rocketship Spaceship Destroyed Planet XM4 Phantom Planet Spaceship, Beatlemania, communists in the audience, Frank Nora and his little gang of lackeys, Debbie Gibson, girl in hallway gave me a tape, copies of Anything But Monday, sleep analysis, going to work, show confusion, 11/15/89, 3:09 AM, fell asleep in the TV room, climbing up a structure, a pencil, bathroom, calling my home reality, Ringo Starr, supermarket, wall of cereal, video games, museum, red pencil falling, video ports, monster guy, 6:14 AM, gas station, bathroom graffiti, The Bride of Frankenstein, Souvenir typeface, Nanny found her cat, Jack LaLanne, 11/16/89, 2:41 AM, jester going around to different buildings, looking for Fuzzy the Cat, around 6:00 PM, forgot my dreams, 11/17/89, 12:25 PM, circular black lake drained, 11/19/89, at a parking lot in Boston in reality, gas station dream, went Zoning, gas station in reality, parking lot, wharf, The Sharper Image, 3 most important things in my life (publishing, creative use of technology, philosophy/theology), hanging out with the Moonies, "How Far Can We Push The Moonies", artificially-generated fate, driving back to Providence, translating Duran Duran, addressing the tops of trees, Julian from Tennessee, successful Zonal trip, 11/20/89, just went to the mall, sick dream, driving to another mall, new Laurie Anderson tape, people by the car, 1/3/90, 3:54 PM, becoming other people in other worlds, causing changes in reality on the staircase, train tracks, theme park town, row of doors, in a movie theater with redhead goddess Janine, hiding in a coffee cup, message from the goddess, gods living in a hotel, sushi bar, the rest of this dream can be found on a tape called "1989 into 1990 #1".

It's a way to help motivate me to release more of my archives. ¶ On this tape, Frank interviews his grandmother, Betty Nora, about family history, at her house in New Brunswick, NJ, on Saturday, March 9, 2002. Frank is 34 and Betty is 92 at the time of the recording. Frank called his grandparents Nanny and Nonno. The story goes, they were meant to be called Nonna and Nonno (Italian for grandmother and grandfather), but as a yound child, Frank pronounced Nonna as "Nanny" and it stuck in the family. ¶ They talk about a wide range of subjects, especially Betty's memories of growing up in a coal mining town in western Pennsylvania. Also of note on the tape are the origins of Frank's visit to the town, later in 2002, to meet and talk to Betty's brother Ralph (that tape upcoming in Tape Land). Also, Frank talks about starting to listen to old Jean Shepherd tapes every day, which would lead, a year later, to the dawn of The Overnightscape. ¶ Notes: Brothers and sisters. Bella the dog. Tape Land 116 – Centralscans (11/16/20) 4:00:32 [956] Welcome to Tape Land! On each episode, I'll present the audio of a cassette tape or historic recording from my collection. It's a way to help motivate me to release more of my archives. ¶ For the occasion of the 10th Anniversary of The Overnightscape Central, enjoy this presentation of 4 hours of random 2-minute clips from the entire history, so far, of the Central! ¶ On the recent Central episode "10 Years of the Central 2 (11/10/20)" I presented a 20-minute block of random 2-minute clips. Since I had the whole system in place, I figured I'd make a longer block to present here on Tape Land. ¶ When I loaded the over 30,000 random 2-minute clips into the music program, I hit random just once, and the first clip of the random sequence was the very beginning of the Central episode "Onsugland (9/1/15)" – which is the track I have on the main Onsug Radio page on Archive.org! What are the chances? ¶ The very last random track was the penultimate segment of "Magic (6/5/17)", so I manually added the remaining 22 seconds to reach a fitting ending. ¶ Enjoy this deep and wandering stroll through 10 years of the Central... (the name "Centralscans" is inspired by my original alternate name of The Overnightscape, "Nightscans") ¶ Notes: Onsugland (9/1/15) – 01/84 (PQ, Frank), 1982 (12/2/13) – 19/43 (Frank), Collections (3/25/13) – 12/53 (Chad), Lunch Money (2/26/18) – 09/57 (Chad), The Letter G – (6/6/11) – 34/45 (Neal), Deliciousness (2/4/13) – 03/36 (Chad), Show of Shows Again (8/11/15) – 045/105 (Chad), Inbetween (6/30/14) – 24/38 (Frank), Ramplers (1/8/13) – 21/66 (Frank), Silent Movies (7/7/20) – 69/71 (PQ), The Unexpected (1/14/19) – 57/69 (Frank), Show of Shows 2019 (2/26/19) – 56/85 (Doc Sleaze), Facebook (1/18/16) – 17/50 (Frank), Science Fiction (11/3/15) – 03/82 (Ruben), This is a Test (7/14/20) – 16/38 (Frank), 3 Things (4/1/13) – 34/55 (Geoff), Other Podcasts (3/15/16) – 34/59 (Clara), I Love Lucy (8/19/20) – 45/45 (PQ), Corner Store (11/17/15) – 76/76 (PQ), Collecting (6/1/15) – 20/51 (Eddie), The 1950s (1/29/19) – 53/85 (Frank), December Holiday Special (12/17/12) – 23/53 (Doc Sleaze), 1996 (1/20/14) – 25/60 (Chad, PQ), Free Pass (5/27/13) – 36/48 (Frank), The Radio (9/17/18) – 53/93 (Doc Sleaze), Disc Jockeys (10/22/18) – 39/43 (PQ), Show of Shows IV (4/14/15) – 011/140 (The Meanderer), Museums and Museums (10/1/12) – 48/67 (Frank), The Law (4/14/14) – 30/69 (Jimbo), Show of Shows 2019 (2/26/19) – 48/85 (Frank), Hanna Barbera – (3/19/12) – 33/55 (Neal, PQ), YouTube 2019 (8/6/19) – 32/88 (Frank), Predictions n Movies – (12/27/10) – 32/36 (Chad), Old Monster Movies (8/20/18) – 33/62 (Frank), Strange Places (9/6/16) – 40/67 (Frank), Hollywood Part 2 (8/7/18) – 38/81 (Frank), Embarrassment (9/4/17) – 13/24 (Jimbo), Expensive Things (10/22/12) – 24/75 (Chad), Relax (3/31/14) – 38/61 (Carrie Michel), Library (1/5/16) – 13/75 (Frank), Automobile (12/15/15) – 006/101 (Doc Sleaze), Free Pass (5/27/13) – 46/48 (PQ), Hollywood Part 2 (8/7/18) – 03/81 (Doc Sleaze), Video Game Stories – (8/8/11) – 22/31 (Geoff), Midsummer Madness (8/6/12) – 29/45 (Frank), Dream Job (2/6/17) – 35/40 (Jimbo), Comedians (10/6/14) – 13/68 (Frank), Captain Marvel (10/13/20) – 30/47 (Frank), Old New Year (1/1/18) – 40/49 (PQ), Science (5/21/12) – 12/61 (Eddie), Weird Holiday Memories (12/1/15) – 73/94 (PQ), Cars (1/29/18) – 41/76 (Chad, PQ, Doc Sleaze), Danger (6/11/12) – 24/50 (PQ, Neal), Cars (1/29/18) – 76/76 (PQ), The Mandela Effect (1/23/17) – 46/70 (Frank, Peter), Breakfast Especially Cereal (9/29/15) – 07/68 (Ruben), Forgotten TV (6/12/18) – 52/83 (Dave in Kentucky), Anything But (3/24/20) – 68/79 (Doc Sleaze), Time and Aging (10/27/15) – 44/91 (Frank), Fun Times (9/17/19) – 25/85 (PQ), Star Wars (2/2/15) – 13/40 (Frank), Film Fest 2013 (2/11/13) – 05/34 (Frank), Jean Shepherd (4/6/16) – 32/71 (Frank), Sleep and Insomnia – (11/7/11) – 23/45 (Mike Boody), Boredom (7/30/19) – 100/100 (PQ), Places (12/1/14) – 49/68 (Frank), Open (2/9/16) – 71/80 (Doc Sleaze), Franchises and Series (5/24/16) – 14/80 (Doc Sleaze), Flight (6/2/14) – 53/63 (Frank), Your Choice (10/23/17) – 35/94 (Frank), World War II (4/10/18) – 15/62 (Doc Sleaze), Watching Stuff (4/21/20) – 071/122 (Mike Boody), Abstract Novel Again Again (1/1/20) – 21/62 (Ruben), Halloweeny (10/30/18) – 66/82 (Doc Sleaze), Mars (3/10/14) – 10/62 (Frank), Pick Your Own (11/12/12) – 06/51 (Shambles), Anime (2/5/20) – 53/70 (Frank), Free Parking (7/9/12) – 07/56 (Scottlo), Forgotten TV (6/12/18) – 06/83 (Frank), Sleep (8/19/13) – 18/39 (PQ, Frank), Reality (9/8/15) – 055/131 (Jimbo), 50s Movies (8/18/15) – 07/88 (Chad), Phonography (12/24/19) – 22/58 (Doc Sleaze), terrible television (7/7/15) – 47/98 (Frank), December (12/11/18) – 06/90 (Eddie), Addendum: Things Have Changed (5/8/17) – 13/15 (Becky), Rampling Together (3/31/20) – 38/94 (PQ), Automobile (12/15/15) – 052/101 (PQ), RANDOM – (11/28/11) – 06/43 (Frank*), No Longer – (7/4/11) – 38/59 (PQ, Bob), Self Help (9/23/13) – 18/51 (Frank), Open (10/27/14) – 38/73 (Frank), Marvel Comics (10/1/19) – 44/53 (Chad), 2018 (12/25/18) – 03/54 (Frank), Archaic TV (8/25/20) – 54/70 (Chad), Old New Year (1/1/18) – 24/49 (Doc Sleaze), Show of Shows IV (4/14/15) – 079/140 (Chad), UFOs – (4/25/11) – 02/39 (Bob, Miles), Onsug on Onsug (11/13/17) – 28/43 (Jimbo), Musical Recommendations (9/11/18) – 48/65 (Frank), Paid Week Two – (4/11/11) – 45/48 (Chad, PQ), Unexpected (1/29/13) – 36/57 (Doc Seaze), We've Got Ideas (4/24/17) – 64/92 (Mike Boody), Cars (1/29/18) – 20/76 (PQ, Simon), Boredom (7/30/19) – 019/100 (Frank), Monkees (3/12/18) – 44/67 (Frank), Too Far (8/14/18) – 36/53 (Frank), Halloweeny (10/30/18) – 62/82 (PQ), 2012 (1/1/13) – 10/30 (Frank), Mars (3/10/14) – 36/62 (PQ, Shambles), Next (6/17/13) – 46/46 (PQ), History (9/9/13) – 10/39 (Frank), Current Favorites (4/9/12) – 11/59 (Frank), UFOs Are Real!!! Tape Land 118 – Severe Repair: The Broken Text (Audiobook Part 1 of 4) (December 2020) 10:22:05 [957] Welcome to Tape Land! On each episode, I'll present the audio of a cassette tape or historic recording from my collection. It's a way to help motivate me to release more of my archives. ¶ I'm finally doing a full audiobook reading of my "failed science fiction novel", Severe Repair. In this first part of four, I read the first three "Cuplines": CUPLINE 1: GOODBYE POPCORN, CUPLINE 2: OFFICE COMPLEX, CUPLINE 3: PECULIAR LATHER ¶ Back in the 1990s, with Severe Repair, my ambition was nothing less than to create an epic science fiction universe to rival the likes of Star Wars, Marvel Comics, and The Lord of the Rings. And if I had focused all my energy on the project, who knows what might have happened. But it was one of many creative projects I was trying to juggle. As it was, I spread myself too thin, and none of my 90s projects reached their full potential. ¶ As the 90s turned to the 2000s, my capacity and desire to work on Severe Repair waned, and what I was left with was a huge, disorganized mass of writing, released at various times in various forms, some of which was quite good. So eventually, in 2008, I gathered it all together and released it as a complete work online called "Severe Repair: The Broken Text". It weighed in at around 1,000 pages. ¶ I tried several times to read parts of it as an audiobook. I did a short-lived audio series in 2010 called "The Severe Repair Universe", where I read from the book, and annotated and discussed it as I went along – but it didn't last. ¶ I have always meant to record a full audiobook of Severe Repair, and now, having a week off at the end of 2020, I decided to go for it. Doing some quick calculations, I realized the full book would take something like 36 hours to record, so I decided to split it into 4 parts. This is the first part. ¶ Recorded over the course of four days, and coming in at 10 hours and 22 minutes long, it's me reading the book, without commentary. It's quite rough around the edges, but it gets the job done. I plan on doing the other three parts in 2021. ¶ Find the text version of the full book here: severerepair.com –Frank ¶ Released 12/31/20.

Tape Land 119 – Vault Talk (Complete Series) (Feb-Jun 2010) 4:58:17 [958] Welcome to Tape Land! On each episode, I'll present the audio of a cassette tape or historic material from my personal archives. ¶ Here's an unreleased, never-before-heard Onsug series – Vault Talk. I recorded 11 episodes from February-June 2010, but I decided not to release it at the time. It was meant to be included in a future "Vault" release, similar to a previous series, "In The Box". ¶ 2010 was a strange time, as I was rebuilding things after the madness of 2009. As the series progressed, it became more focused on a kind of indulgent self-analysis, as I was trying to figure out new directions for the project. Still, it contains a ton of great material – the vibe of midtown Manhattan back in 2010, during the very early days of The Overnightscape Underground as a group channel. ¶ It's a mixed bag, but a truly amazing find – I had actually completely forgotten about it. ¶ Notes: Vault Talk 1, 6:40 PM, Monday, February 22, 2010, introduction, In The Box, stats, 45th Street in NYC, Rum Sleg, recent episodes of my show, train store, clown & secretary, Chipotle, he lost his glasses, show formats, Planet Hollywood, MTV, Toys "R" Us, Times Square, my state of mind in the past, other shows on the channel, The Severe Repair Universe, old tapes, Exit Ramp, old recordings, Vault II, Vault Talk 2, 6:29 PM, Wednesday, February 24, 2010, Vault III, blizzard tomorrow, WFMU, The Great American Bathroom Book, goals, lack of ambition, microfame, hockey, bells, conspiracy theories, horses, Atlantis, what should I do, American Idol, Sonic 2, time loops, guy rambling in the bathroom, Vault Talk 3, 5:37 PM, Monday, March 1, 2010, going beyond, radio show idea (Diner City Nights), WFMU, Obliviana Super Occult Amusement, delusions and creations, Audioworlders, Hull TV, Howard Stern, If I Can Dream, Port Authority Bus Terminal, line argument, Vault Talk 4, 5:48 PM, Tuesday, March 2, 2010, too limited in the scope of my thinking, seaweed review, FN, recontextualization, Diamond Row, Times Square Visitor Center, self-analysis, $3 shirts, Times Square, getting punchy, Dave & Buster's, sign guy, dive bar dreams, a middle class existence with computers, Vault Talk 5, 5:35 PM, Thursday, March 4, 2010, franknora.com, promotion, confusion, show names, my history in recording, Vault Talk 6, 5:46 PM, Monday, March 8, 2010, Lion Acid Post, trying to figure things out, Rockfeller Plaza, Digital Cafe, previous

Tape Land 120 – Core Game Using Scrip – Development (6/24/00) 4:58:17 [958] Welcome to Tape Land! On each episode, I'll present the audio of a cassette tape or historic material from my personal archives. ¶ Almost a lost "Audio Field Trip", on this tape from June 2000, I drive down to Video Game Connections in Howell, New Jersey, and record my ideas about a game I'm working on called called "Dashic". This idea would eventually become the much simpler "Dashic Deeds" concept, which I did a limited release of a few years later, before finally giving up on the idea. You can see it here: theovernightscape.com/209 ¶ Notes: Saturday, June 24, 2000, "Core Game Using Scrip", driving down to Video Game Connections, cigar, 7-11, Obliviana, bank, Zippo, lighter fluid, long hair, tolls, game design ideas, Garden State Parkway, Airport Meadow, Fonjo, Vamershee, Marketplace 31, Obliviana Primal, OsoaWeek, Fonosta, Halfevil Graphics, Czarball, Unreal Systems Tester, Buildings of Yontaro, E-17 Deck, Nanobook, Shady Afternoon, Scrip, pony beads, Storm Codex, Dashic, Stormjaunting, Friction Enhancer, toll plaza, E-ZPass, motivation, Luckmood, rambling, hi to myself in the future, Place Scrip, Metropark, my old apartment, Tarbs, fixed the wind sound, tabletop game ideas, Route 9, The New Octagon, abstract strategy games, randomness, Looney Labs, Origins, Freehold Raceway Mall, Franklin Mills Mall, mall carousels, mall wander, sushi and french fries, game goals, building little worlds, pipe cleaners, Video Game Connections parking lot, Mr. Driller and Bust-a-Move 4 for Dreamcast, driving home, identity in the game, handmade aspects, Game Scrip, sub-games, Impglein, rarity levels, motorcycles, exact change, High Glyph Overland, Forge of Wander, avoiding violence in the game, shareware, players making their own Scrip, licensing, back home, no parking spots, goodnight people of the future. ¶ Released 1/23/21

Tape Land 122 – Late Eighties Nuke (circa 1987) 1:24:04 [959] Welcome to Tape Land! On each episode, I'll present the audio of a cassette tape or historic material from my personal archives. ¶ This is a tape from the late 1980s with a lot of material collected on it. It seems to have been started around 1987, with more material added in 1989. As written on the insert: Side A: "Kreation-2IL4D ¶ Soh Daiko – Part II ¶ Raw LFN Material ¶ The First Tape – Side 1 ¶ Hot Escort/Echodj ¶ Govar Material (4) ¶ NUKE ¶ Motion Exerp ¶ Side B: Religious ¶ Prank Calls ¶ Soh DaikoPart 1 ¶ (Side A #4 – 8 added 3/31/89) ¶ Notes: (A1) – This is a bass solo performed by my friend Chris circa 1987. The "2IL4D" is supposed to be the name "Chris" upside-down. A longer version was released as part of my Little Frankie Nora album "Original Tin" in 1987 (available in the archive). (A2) – Recording of Japanese drum group Soh Daiko at Drew University circa 1987. At the end you can hear people leaving and me talking to someone. (A3) – I had borrowed an effects pedal from Chris and used it to record these work-in-progress Little Frankie Nora segments. (A4) – Side 1 of the first tape I recorded on my new tape recorder, at my 10th birthday party, on 10/2/77 (available in the archive as "Birthday 1977 (Full Version)"). (A5) – Excerpt of the song "Hot Escort" from a 1979 Sanyo Demonstration Tape – the tape reverses somehow causing a weird sound. Then, a section of me recording a mix tape, introducing the songs with an echo effect, recorded at the Drew University radio studios circa 1987. At the end, is a reverse sample from the the Weird Al Song "Nature Trail To Hell". (A6) – I don't recall the meaning of the term "Govar Material" (it may have had something to do with my theory that there were messages about interdimensional travel hidden in pop music) – but it's the songs "Secret Oktober" by Duran Duran and "Leipzig" and "Urges" by Thomas Dolby (removed from this release, as they are commercial releases). (A7) Soundtrack to a Super 8mm movie I made called "The Nuclear Movie", as a school project about nuclear war. (A6) – short excerpt of a song (called "Motion"? Shazam couldn't identify it.) (B1) – using a primitive suction cup phone tap from Radio Shack, my brother and I prank call a religious hotline. First my brother pretends to be a Satan-worshipping hoodlum. Then I pretend to be a nervous drug addict. (B2) – The first part of the Soh Daiko recording, with my introduction. Then, after that, some more of "Kreation-2IL4D". ¶ Released 2/20/21

A "sound board" version of this show was released as Tape Land 33, back on 11/25/17. I recorded this version on my tape recorder, like most of the other recordings. It has a different sound, and is also more complete (the first song was missing on the sound board tape). ¶ Setlist: Possible Calhoun, Crazy Plonto, Kids in America/Territorial Pissings, Cup of Joe, Pent Breeze, Sign of the Malls, Monster Now, The Filmography of Ann B. Davis.

Fuzzy Daupner was an obscure New Jersey rock band which, in the brief span of 3 years (1998-2001), created a catalog of 32 amazing songs. ¶ Fuzzy Daupner began in 1998 when Carrie Engdahl (now Carrie Ann Carroll) began collaborating with her sister Denice and Denice's husband Frank on creating songs. Awhile later, they joined forces with Rob DiCaterino (who later went on to co-host The Paunch Stevenson Show) on drums and formed the band Fuzzy Daupner. The final member, Phil Mould (from England) on bass, joined a little later. ¶ They produced two home-recorded, Internet-distributed albums, and played many shows around New Jersey and NYC. But they never got signed and they broke up in November 2001. ¶ Released 4/11/21

On each episode, I'll present the audio of a cassette tape or historic material from my personal archives. ¶ Another great find! The tape itself just has "FEN" (my initials) written on it, and I don't think I've ever heard it since I recorded it. It's a rare window into the world of 1990 – 31 years ago! At the time, I was working on my "Nomadi" project which I would rename "Obliviana" soon thereafter. After going through many bizarre phases, Obliviana would eventually lead to The Onsug that we know and love today. ¶ Notes: 8:36 PM, Thursday, March 15, 1990, been asleep all day, strange dreams (lost in France, telekinetic cheese stones), The Eight Practices of Nomadi, logic, changing reality, police car, school, thrust, groove, Nomading, arrived at Quality Comics, 9:40 PM, weird things happening, a line to get into 7-11, beyond the range of the groove, 6:03 AM, Friday, March 16, 1990, dot matrix printer, feeling of optimism, 1:50 AM, Saturday, March 17, 1990, on a nocturnal schedule, job in NYC, how my life is going, Red Alley Earth, Some Berry Basalt of Brine, The Hollow Fantasia, Be, Zope, Route 22, another 7-11, Tiny Tots, Furs by Guarino, streetlights, driving up an unknown hill, cul-de-sac, airport, supermarket, Noyagers, Nomadi places, decentralizing your home, spinach fettuccine, Caffeine Free Diet Coke, steer clear of becoming a cult, drugs, relationships. ¶ Released 6/4/21

Tape Land 132 – Hazy Transit (Summer 2009) 2:47:33 [964] Welcome to Tape Land! On each episode, I'll present the audio of a cassette tape or historic material from my personal archives. ¶ Even now, 12 years later, I look back on the summer of 2009 with cringe and awe. It was a time of chaos for my radio projects – which ultimately resulted in the birth of The Onsug as we know it today – a vital, unique group project. This recording, "Hazy Transit", was done in the heart of the crisis – and it's never been released before. It's tough to listen to, as I was delving into my deepest thoughts, fears, and hang-ups on the matter. But the good news is that something wonderful came out of that dark and confusing time. ¶ Note: back then, I pronounced Onsug as "own-sug", but since then have settled on the pronunciation "on-sug". ¶ Notes: [Monday, August 31, 2009 in NJ and NYC] Exploring a new idea in the world of audio, stand-alone works vs. series, the podcasting craze of 2005, OnsugBox, The Rampler, history of my shows, WFMU, The Rampler Limited, bagel twists, spray paint, Dasani display, conspiracy theories, ATM, In The Box, "Ticket Ordeal", 855, 1423, I Ching, vague lofty goals, audiobooks, current plans, a time of transition, Dressed For Success, my state of mind, Obliviana, Oceana fountain, origin of The Rampler, vague memory of a bookstore, like a therapy session, keeping control, cosmic situations, self-analysis,

Tape Land 133 – Stormtoon Origins (Fall 2001) 1:35:07 [965] Welcome to Tape Land! On each episode, I'll present the audio of a cassette tape or historic material from my personal archives. ¶ In the fall of 2001, I had two major projects – Obliviana, a kind of occult entertainment system, and Bluffcosm.com, an Internet radio project. With short-lived project Stormtoon, I attempted to combine the two. While it didn't go very far, I think it helped me see that combining the two sides was not worthwhile – and little over a year later I completely gave up on Obliviana and started The Overnightscape – which has led to The Onsug of today. ¶ Note that for Bluffcosm, I would do "audio mining" which was bringing a tape recorder everywhere to capture weird or interesting audio to include in audio segments. That's what you're hearing on the first and later part of the tape. ¶ Monday 10/22/01, "audio mining" (ranting in bathroom, inside somewhere, subway, street, beggar, on a train, weird singing, siren, trains going by, fire safety talk, jackhammer, train going by, subway, car starting), Sunday 11/3/01, Frank talking about Obliviana, Stormtoon, computer being repaired, audio in 1980, 9/11, Fuzzy Daupner broke up, details of Stormtoon, 209, Fortunoff, Willowbrook Mall, audio content, flexibility, back to "audio mining" (train, inside various places, on a train, sirens, announcement, construction sounds, street, child babbling on subway, outside somewhere), Friday 11/9/01, 8:48 AM, my apocalyptic dream (an alcoholic beverage called "Poison" from Scandinavia, end of the world, volcanoes off the coast of Georgia, trapped by polar bears and a lion in Washington state, a zen monastery in Japan, driving around at dusk looking at Christmas lights covering things, the lion enemy across a river, where the polar bears live, misunderstandings with the polar bears and more volcanoes, earthquake news, escape from the creatures, advice in Japan). ¶ Released 8/12/21

Tape Land 137 – Moodbruck Ideation – The New Nightstation (Feb-Mar 2012) 5:19:29 [967] Welcome to Tape Land! On each episode, I'll present the audio of a cassette tape or historic material from my personal archives. ¶ Step back to 2012 in this never before released recording of me working on ideas for a new direction in my audio projects. There are a lot of interesting ideas discussed. And while I never moved forward with these ideas specifically, some aspects of them have lived on. Specifically, the current concept of "A Radio Station Inside a Book" establishes a sense of place, much like I was talking about on these audio notes. And the concept of welcoming the listener in – while not formalized as much as in these 2012 ideas – is still very much at the heart of The Onsug. ¶ Notes: 2/21/12, talking about what is going on with my various radio projects, PQ, Shambles, Bob, Eddie, the archive, a static form, Nightstation, focusing on one thing, Nightstation Pocket City, You Live In Pocket Audio City, Pocket Radioland, New Pocket Radio, Aerie Obliviana, Nightstation: A Pocket Audio City, Weasel Village Mall, Nightweek, the analogy of a place, Devastating Nightscape, Rockefeller Center, GTA IV, 2/22/12, patch in and broadcast on Nightstation, transcending time and space, Hello Kitty has become a criminal, Times Square, Ash Wednesday, new idea for Nightstation, 3:05 PM, Wednesday, 2/22/12, decentralized system, very warm this morning, 8:39 AM, Thursday, 2/23/12, new perpectives, imaginary broadcasting, a new imaginary place, range of content, philosophies, hierarchies, subdivisions, doubt, Moodbruck intro, 9:43 AM, Monday, Feb. 27, 2012, Aspects of Ideation, idea of a place with doors, The Rampler as the imaginary person, being taken on a trip, the wanderer archetype, Nightport, Grateful Dead, recording as if you're taking the listener on a journey, idea of taking strangers on a trip, L-Theanine, Talkport, lunchtime Tuesday Feb. 28, 2012, You Are The Rampler, Weasel Village Mall, 9:43 AM, Monday, March 5, 2012, history of recorded audio, day world vs. night world, step on through, transit center of the mind, past and future, Welcome to the Weasel Village Mall, the audio format, 6:42 PM, Wednesday March 7, 2012, pack the very minimum, The New Nightstation, Jenny Ondioline, subway, the magic of audio doorways. ¶ Released 10/6/21

Land! On each episode, I'll present the audio of a cassette tape or historic material from my personal archives. ¶ This tape was recorded just one month before I started The Overnightscape. At that time, I was still struggling with my poorly-defined and overly-complicated creative project called "Obliviana". Listening to the tape, it's clear in retrospect that I needed to let go of the project – and that's exactly what I did – a few weeks after making this tape, I shut it all down. This then opened the door for a much healthier creative outlet for me – The Overnightscape – which I am still doing over 18 years later. ¶ Notes: (Late January 2003), Geese, protest, "don't take the flyer", weirdness, (2/6/03), elevator, structure of Obliviana, subway, long hair and beard, Bluffcosm, Tower Records, "in the 90s things felt more alive", the website, walk around Times Square, invent something new from the ruins, establishments closing in Times Square, Laser Park, "Opmarquees – how's that for a moldy oldie?", (2/9/03), MadPlayer, changes in Obliviana, Guinness, the end of Obliviana, multi-faceted entertainment company, disconnecting, Dashic Deeds, (2/10/03), waiting for the bus, Thinkfang, Creative Commons, Times Square subway station, "yellow alert", snowing, subway, Astor Place K-Mart, PATH train, The Obliviana Underground, (2/11/03), birds in the subway, (2/12/03), card game idea. ¶ Released 11/13/21

Tape Land 141 – Day of Attempts (9/2/10) 1:05:07 [969] Welcome to Tape Land! On each episode, I'll present the audio of a cassette tape or historic material from my personal archives. ¶ Thursday, September 2, 2010, a day where I tried to record a lot of stuff but nothing seemed to work. Starting at 9:36 AM walking to work from the Port Authority Bus Terminal over to Third Avenue, I started Frank Nora Show 1560, but I decided to dump the recording because I wasn't feeling it. At lunchtime (or after work), I recorded a Moodbruck segment – my series of personal audio notes on my projects. After work, on the walk back to the bus station, I tried again to record Frank Nora Show 1560, but again I wasn't feeling it. Later at home, I try and record a new experimental show called Cybernightcast, but this, as well, doesn't feel right. At 10:30 PM I end the day of failed recordings. ¶ I saved all these recording to a hard drive, and discovered them in December 2021. Listening to the whole day of failed recordings is quite interesting. Note that I did finally get it right the next day with Frank Nora Show 1560 – Oppressive Weather (9/3/10) – where I covered a lot of the same topics. And two days later I used the same sequence of audio from Cybernightcast on Macho Condor #1 (9/4/10) 1:19:54 [221]. ¶ Notes: === FRANK NORA SHOW 1560, ATTEMPT 1 === 9:36 AM, Cinnabon fixed their gate, most tracks in one month, heatwave, Bushmills on the rocks, Irish politics, Hurricane Earl, Labor Day weekend, terrorist takes over the Discovery Channel, manifestos, Sanrio store, sets of characters, B. On each episode, I'll present the audio of a cassette tape or historic material from my personal archives. ¶ "Mad" Mike and Frank Nora "Master of the Airwaves reunite for an ill-fated attempt to revive their college radio show, Anything But Monday. ¶ Notes: The return of Anything But Monday, start the show off with a bang, Roger Rabbit laserdisc, hamster power, ducks are mammals, Classic ABM – Santa Claus and Jack the Ripper, Sony MiniDisc, Realistic mixing board, On Today's Program, Whitewater, Bill Clinton, water-based scandals, the ancient gods, a fun dictator, edicts, Tonya Harding and Japanese wrestling, first segment over, Segment 2, big star, Frank's wearing a soiled Beavis & Butthead T-shirt, brainwashing, mental powers, Random Personalities – Bruce Springsteen and Barney Rubble, Dead Body of the Day – John Candy, Donkey Kong, The United States of America, Ross Perot, imaginary numbers, Quick Queries, we've reached the end. ¶ Behind the scenes: This was our first ABM recording since 1990 (though we did record a writing session in 1993). We recorded after hours at a chiropractic office Mike was working at in the Clifton, NJ area. I was living at my apartment in Iselin, NJ, and I drove up with a bunch of equipment to record the show. The show didn't go well. We were very rusty and unprepared, and we didn't record very much. On the drive home, I was pulled over by the police, and they saw the equipment in the back of my Jeep. They said they had received reports of thefts in the area and accused me of stealing the equipment. Somehow they let me go, and when I got home I called Mike to let him know what happened, but I must have woken him up, so we wound up having a fight. This soured things, and we didn't try and revive the show again till 1997. (I never heard back from the police.) ¶ Released 12/12/21 within Tape Land called "Video Phase 2022". I recently began transferring a ton of old video tapes to digital, and have been posting selections to YouTube. Richardson – Season 1 (1991) ¶ www.youtube.com/watch?v=NQjeqZPmMq8 ¶ Original video series about an eccentric entertainment producer named Beublin. A. Richardson who becomes obsessed with a stone egg. Filmed in Somerset County, NJ, in 1991. Written and directed by Frank Edward Nora. More info at onsug.com ¶ Beublin A. Richardson has had a complex existence in The Onsug. I continued the series in audio during the Bluffcosm era (2000-2002). In 2005, I played the audio version of all the episodes on weekends when The Overnightscape was a daily show, in a feature called Weekend Showcase. The response to this was very negative from my listeners, which led, down the road, to my creating The Overnightscape Underground as a place for alternative audio that wouldn't "interfere" with the main show. This then led to The Onsug of today. ¶ The edit used in the video has never been released before. It separates the content into 13 episodes, with some silence in-between. It also has a brief audio clip of me as a baby over the title screen. There is also an end credits sequence. ¶ It's been a long time since there's been any new Beublin material, but Peter and I talk about it whenever we get together, so who knows, Beublin may continue someday. ¶ Released 12/18/21 ¶ Internet Archive link: https://archive.org/details/Tape_Land_Video_143-Beublin_A_Richardson-Season_1-1991

Thought lost, director Frank Edward Nora found a Beta dub of the original VHS, over 36 years later in December 2021. ¶ The audio of the raw videos shot for Polarized Worlds have long been available on The Onsug in a series called Video Kids 85. But this is the first time the final movie has been released. The beginning of the video didn't transfer – it included a title card reading "Glynnora Productions", an introduction by writer/producer Jim Glynn, and scenes of the first six Doctors from the BBC series, establishing Paul Bergen as the Seventh Doctor. I'll restore the beginning at some point, if at all possible. I'm also planning to release more of the "behind the scenes" footage. ¶ Released 12/18/21 ¶ Internet Archive link: https://archive.org/details/Tape_Land_Video_144-Polarized_Worlds-Doctor_Who_fan_film_from_1985-Summer_1985

I recently began transferring a ton of old video tapes to digital, and have been posting selections to YouTube. Here, I'll be releasing the audio tracks of these videos, as well as linking you to the YouTube videos, and The Internet Archive. ¶ The Evil Farm (January 1987) ¶ https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=cEfCCs-nWFg ¶ In January 1987, in Somerset County, NJ, Frank learns of creepy local urban legends such as "The Pigwoman's Castle", "The Glowing Grave", and "The Devil Tree". He decides to make up one of his own, "The Evil Farm", and film a movie about it with a group of local teens. In basements, bowling alleys, shopping centers, fast food restaurants, movie theaters, supermarkets, parking lots, and beyond, the mystery unfolds... and takes a tragic turn... ¶ Frank was on a "Jan Term" break from college, and decided to make a movie. His childhood friend Chris, through the music scene, was friends with a group of teens from the area who would hang out at various locations, and who were more than willing to participate in the filming. The plot involves the group visiting the real "Pigwoman's Castle" and "Devil Tree", then the fictional "Evil Farm". Hugo turns evil and starts murdering people. Charlie then confronts and kills him, ending his murder spree. The real value of the project, though, was documenting these New Jersey teens at their various hangouts. ¶ This version is based on the original released video version – though very few copies were ever distributed. It was originally divided into 21 sections based on tarot cards, each using commercial music clips. I decided to remove these to allow the scenes to seamlessly flow together. Also, the opening titles, end credits, and the horse-riding scene used commercial music, which I replaced with my own "Little Frankie Nora" music, recorded at the same time as the movie. The end credits used strobe lights, which I removed by doing my best to make static frames. ¶ This is the first time it's been released on video on the Internet, though in 2000, I produced an audio version completely re-conceived from the raw footage. I do plan on releasing an expanded video version at some point, including as much of the raw footage as possible. ¶ There are dozens of people in the movie – but the core group is Chris, Hugo, Charlie, and Pete. These are the four in the signature image, in the field with The Devil Tree. ¶ Notes: [00:00] Opening Titles (song: Sojourn X by Little Frankie Nora) [00:27] Bunch of people, basement hangout, Charlie's house, Raritan (note: on TV, end of Genesis video Land of Confusion) (key quote: "There'll be no zooming in") [00:49] Hanging out at the bowling alley, Somerville Circle (key quote: "Hey baby wanna make some movies?") He decides to make up one of his own, "TIn January 1987, in Somerset County, NJ, Frank learns of creepy local urban legends such as "The Pigwoman's Castle", "The Glowing Grave", and "The Devil Tree". He decides to make up one of his own, "The Evil Farm", and film a movie about it with a group of local teens. In basements, bowling alleys, shopping centers, fast food restaurants, movie theaters, supermarkets, parking lots, and beyond, the mystery unfolds... and takes a tragic turn... ¶ The Compleat Evil Farm is an expanded version of the original, including all the footage that was shot, for a much deeper dive into the world of 1987. ¶ End credits music: Out Of / Place In / A Photographer's / Studio As by Little Frankie Nora (1987) ¶ Released 2/13/22 ¶ Internet archive link: https://archive.org/details/tape-land-video-152-the-compleat-evil-farm-january-1987

Tape Land 153 – Boring Conversations on a Train (July 2002) 1:36:40 Welcome to Tape Land! On each episode, I'll present the audio of a cassette tape or historic material from my personal archives. ¶ The title says it all – the majority of this tape consists of extremely boring conversations on a train. The tape is labeled "6/22/02-7/27/02 – Good Stuff!!! NYC etc.", though it seems to start on July 10. I don't clearly remember now 20 years later, but I think I was trying to capture the sound of a train ride (in this case, from Delawanna to Hoboken in NJ) – with the train sounds, announcements, overheard conversations, etc. It's an interesting historical audio reference, if nothing else. There's also a very weird guy on the subway, and me talking about my Obliviana project (which I would finally let go of the following March, when I started

The Overnightscape) in my Jeep during a thunderstorm. ¶ Notes: Unknown music, boring conversations on a train, Wed. July 10, 2002, 9:46 AM, subway, weird guy, busker, guys talking about something, papers, lots of people, on a bus?, more boring conversations on a train, PATH station?, thunderstorm, Fri. July 19, 2002, 5:44 PM, went to the MacWorld Show, sitting in my Jeep at the Delawanna Station, my progress in Obliviana, Dashic Deeds, the 8 subdivisions, motor sound, inside? ¶ Released 2/14/22

Tape Land 154 – Weird University (1986) 47:19 Welcome to Tape Land! On each episode, I'll present the audio of a cassette tape or historic material from my personal archives. ¶ This episode is part of a sub-project within Tape Land called "Video Phase 2022". I recently began transferring a ton of old video tapes to digital, and have been posting selections to YouTube. Here, I'll be releasing the audio tracks of these videos, as well as linking you to the YouTube videos, and The Internet Archive. ¶ Weird University (1986) ¶ https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=AzfseA0tUSY ¶ In 1986, "Mad" Mike and Frank Nora "Master of the Airwaves", not satisfied with just doing their comedy radio show "Anything But Monday", decide to produce a video series based on a fictional version of their college called "Weird University". With their new personas "Franco Wolfini" and "Iggy Szalzo", they investigate and report on interesting students, the dining hall, campus security, a nearby supermarket, and much more… plus, strange happenings on a Weird Halloween. This is the "best of" edit that was made available for mail order (VHS or Beta), though few copies were sold…. ¶ There were three episodes of Weird University. They were shown in the university center. This edit draws from all three episodes, but leaves some stuff out. The Compleat Weird University, coming soon, will include much more. ¶ Released 2/21/22 ¶ Internet archive link: https://archive.org/details/Tape_Land_Video_154-Weird_University-1986

Tape Land 155 – Unreleased Audio: Rampler Ustream Test (1/9/11) 39:11 [972] Welcome to Tape Land! On each episode, I'll present the audio of a cassette tape or historic material from my personal archives. ¶ The show art for "The Overnightscape 1893 – The Rampler Mini Radio (3/10/22)" was an old concept image from 2011 for a printed playlist of shows, that never came to fruition. This audio piece was on the playlist, but never released – so I figured I should finally release it. ¶ Notes: Frank tries to connect with PQ on a Ustream live stream test, with much technical difficulty. ¶ Released 3/10/22

Tape Land 157 – Onsug Music Clubhouse – Codamagger Lullabies #1 (Edit) (1/29/11) 47:40 [972] Welcome to Tape Land! On each episode, I'll present the audio of a cassette tape or historic material from my personal archives. ¶ In 2011, PQ and I tried to set up a streaming station that was legally licensed to play commercial music. Tentatively called "Onsug Music Clubhouse", the project never got off the ground due to the cost and complexity of setting it up. I only recorded this one test broadcast for the project. ¶ "Codamagger" was an super-masculine fake brand I invented, mentioned on The Rampler #363 (8/24/09), along with art for the logo: ¶ "Codamagger Lullabies" was originally a song in one of my music projects, Choston Bands & Junkard Sane – Oval Bay (EP). The idea was that a "Codamagger" was a pistol, and being pistol-whipped and knocked out by it was a "Codamagger Lullaby", in the slang of some fictional alternate world. ¶ I played the DJ clips from this on The Overnightscape 797: Orange Egg Lotion (7/10/11), but for this release I kept a few seconds from the beginnings and endings of the songs, to give a better idea of what the original sounded like. ¶ Notes (songs edited out): We Love Dancing by Arling & Cameronn Your Name Is Snake Anthony by Medeski, Martin & Wood, Can You Dig It (Alternate Version) by The Monkees, Church Of The Poison Mind by Culture Club, Blues Beach by Steely Dan, Resurrection by The Demons Of Negativity, DJ 1, Galvanize (feat Q-Tip) by The Chemical Brothers, Makin' Memories from Journey Into Imagination, Bottled Up by Devo, Stalag 123 by Big Audio Dynamite, Lucifer Sam by Pink Floyd, I Want To Be A Hulkamaniac by Hulk Hogan & The Wrestling Boot Band, DJ 2, Front Row by Alanis Morissette, '84 Pontiac Dream by Boards Of Canada, Chant Of The Wanderer by The Sons Of The Pioneers, Satanic Rites of Drugula by Electric Wizard, The Bell (Edit) by Mike Oldfield, What Are Those Things (With Big Black Wings) by Roger Miller, DJ 3, Smoke Rings by Laurie Anderson, Star Shpongled Banner by Shpongle, Black Dog (Live) by Led Zeppelin, The Modern Age by The Strokes, Song From The Wood by Jethro Tull, Come and Play in the Milky Night by Stereolab, DJ 4, John Cleese: Is He Funny? by Human League, Caught A Lite Sneeze by Tori Amos, The Analog Kid by Rush, Look Out, There's A Monster Coming by Bonzo Dog Doo-Dah Band, Los Angeles by Frank Black, The Juggler's Song by Incredible String Band, DJ 5. ¶ Released 3/12/22

Tape Land 159 – On Noyage – Tape 2 – Plus Dreams (Feb. 1990) 1:33:40 [972] Welcome to Tape Land! On each episode, I'll present the audio of a cassette tape or historic material from my personal archives. ¶ "On Noyage" is a series of tapes I recorded in 1990, in a weird kind of mental haze, about a bizarre and convoluted amusement system called Noyage, which was related to a larger entertainment concept called Nomadi. These ideas eventually became a project called Obliviana, which I worked on for years, until finally giving up on it in 2003. In retrospect, it almost seems like I was tuned in to ideas from another world, not meant for this one. In any case, in 2003 I started my show The Overnightscape, which has been a much healthier creative outlet. ¶ This is part 2 of the first On Noyage session, with me driving up to Rhode Island in the middle of the night (and also some dreams, recorded later). The first tape was released on Onsug 12 years ago – "On Noyage (2/14/90) 1:34:56 [212] [released 3/22/10]". I released a later tapein the series 3 years ago – "Tape Land 105 – On Noyage 7 (3/23/90) 1:34:35 [940] [released 7/20/19]". I plan on finding and releasing the entire series of tapes, eventually. ¶ Notes: Starting tape 2, driving to Rhode Island, Feb. 14, 1990, 4:27 AM in Connecticut on Rt. 95 by Exit 71, the word "Nomadi", theories, communication, objects, aspects of the system, flea market crap, biblia rasa, Bauble and

Tape Land 160 – The Throatripper (1987) 40:53 [972] ¶ Welcome to Tape Land! On each episode, I'll present the audio of a cassette tape or historic material from my personal archives. ¶ This episode is part of a sub-project within Tape Land called "Video Phase 2022". I recently began transferring a ton of old video tapes to digital, and have been posting selections to YouTube. Here, I'll be releasing the audio tracks of these videos, as well as linking you to the YouTube videos, and The Internet Archive. ¶ The Throatripper (1987) ¶ One night in 1987 in Somerset County, NJ, Frank made a short film while hanging out with his good friend Chris (star of many of his videos), and some of Chris's friends. It starts off with some interviews about drug-related incidents, plus the turtle puppet "Throatripper". Then they head out to have dinner at Wendy's, and dessert at an ice cream place, as Frank makes (what he thinks are) deep observations about the situation. Back at one of the friend's house, the group interview each other and play music and make up songs. Then the turtle puppet returns for some final words. ¶ Frank released the audio from The Throatripper on Bluffcosm.com back in 2000. But this is the first time it's being released on video. ¶ Released 3/26/22 ¶ Internet archive link: https://archive.org/details/Tape_Land_Video_160-The_Throatripper-1987

Tape Land 161 – Frank Nora Show 1587.5 – Deranged Qualagy (10/20/10) 1:01:56 [973] Welcome to Tape Land! On each episode, I'll present the audio of a cassette tape or historic material from my personal archives. ¶ This one was labeled "FN Fail 10-20-10" in my files. Listening to it, it's clear that my rant in the middle of the episode is the reason why I decided not to release it at the time. While it is a bit cringy, I think it's deserving of release, 11.5 years later. (Had it been released it would have fallen between Frank Nora Show 1587 – Chrysler Mirage (10/19/10) and Frank Nora Show 1588 – Coatimunditron (10/21/10)). ¶ Notes: The new Stereolab album Not Music, my honeymoon, trends in music, Times Square, pop culture is stalled, music from another source, Aeropostale, giant video screen, MTV, Blowout Video, Chilean miners rescue, conspiracy theories, UFOs, bobbleheads, Sleestak and Bossk, the aliens arrive, Candy Coburn, New Years glasses, Nerf armaments, wear purple today, bullying, divide the people, compassion, religion, give 'em enough rope, lunchtime, heavy topics, The River Line, Light Rail Meetup, bad areas, Mac OS Lion, technology problems, Health Harvest, The Frank Nora Show website, filtered bottled water. ¶ Released 4/7/22

Tape Land 162 – Weasels 89 (2/4/89) 49:57 [973] Welcome to Tape Land! On each episode, I'll present the audio of a cassette tape or historic material from my personal archives. ¶ This episode is part of a sub-project within Tape Land called "Video Phase 2022". I recently began transferring a ton of old video tapes to digital, and have been posting selections to YouTube. Here, I'll be releasing the audio tracks of these videos, as well as linking you to the YouTube videos, and The Internet Archive. ¶ Weasels 89 (2/4/89) ¶ http://www.youtube.com/watch?v=9TEr695vOjA ¶ Saturday, February 4, 1989, Frank, Peter, and John driving down Route 46 in Pine Brook, NJ, heading to Drew University in Madison, NJ, The Dramatic Admission of Friendship, Dunkin' Donuts, arrived at Drew, checking the mailbox, game room, handing out magazines, comedy show, Physics Phil arrives, Tullio confronts Frank about his filming, ping pong, chatting with Ella, Zoning, visiting Bryan in his dorm room, playing a Marvel Superheroes role-playing game, heading out. ¶ I attended Drew for two years, but transferred to NYU in 1987. John was a friend of Peter's, but I don't remember him, beyond this video. This was the last (or near the last) time I ever saw Physics Phil. I was able to determine the exact date by finding the comedy show listed in an archive of the student newspaper. I released the middle portion of this in audio on Bluffcosm.com in 2000, as "Ping Pong (Early 1989)". This is perhaps the earliest piece of media where The Three Weasels (Frank, Peter, and Bryan) appear together (thought there is a short video clip circa September 1986 where Peter and Bryan are hanging out in Frank's dorm room). –Frank ¶ Released 4/9/22 ¶ Internet archive link: https://archive.org/details/Tape_Land_Video_162-Weasels_89-2-4-89

Tape Land 164 – The Compleat Polarized Worlds (Summer 1985) 7:53:48 [979] Welcome to Tape Land! On each episode, I'll present the audio of a cassette tape or historic material from my personal archives. ¶ This episode is part of a sub-project within Tape Land called "Video Phase 2022". I recently began transferring a ton of old video tapes to digital, and have been posting selections to YouTube. Here, I'll be releasing the audio tracks of these videos, as well as linking you to the YouTube videos, and The Internet Archive. ¶ The Compleat Polarized Worlds (Summer 1985) ¶ "Polarized Worlds" is a Doctor Who fan film made by a group of teens in Bridgewater Township, NJ, in the summer of 1985. Thought lost, director Frank Edward Nora found a Beta copy of the original over 36 years later, and released it online in December 2021. ¶ "The Compleat Polarized Worlds", at nearly eight hours long, is the entire contents of the two VHS tapes they used to film the movie. It includes numerous takes and bloopers of all the scenes, the cast and crew goofing around, "behind the scenes" interviews, a number of conceptual videos inspired by art films, and other miscellaneous stuff. It's a fascinating real look into the world of Generation X teenagers in the mid-1980s. ¶ The audio of most of this was released as "Video Kids 85" on The Onsug between 2007 and 2009. But this is the first time the video version has been released. ¶ Released 10/23/22 ¶ Internet archive link: https://archive.org/details/Tape_Land_Video_164-The_Compleat_Polarized_Worlds-Summer_1985

Tape Land 165 – The Compleat Inramble (2008) 5:09:49 [982] Welcome to Tape Land! On each episode, I'll present the audio of a cassette tape or historic material from my personal archives. ¶ This episode is part of a sub-project within Tape Land called "Video Phase 2022". I recently began transferring a ton of old video tapes to digital, and have been posting selections to YouTube. Here, I'll be releasing the audio tracks of these videos, as well as linking you to the YouTube videos, and The Internet Archive. ¶ The Compleat Inramble (2008) ¶ https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=hFtp6bV4yRc ¶ Frank Edward Nora had been doing his podcast, The Overnightscape, since 2003. In early 2008, he experimented with a video show called Inramble (subtitled "go on a quick video trip") which seemed perfect for the rapidly growing online video world. Filming in Midtown Manhattan and elsewhere, the first 26 episodes suffered from poor quality, as he was filming on his Palm Treo 680. He soon got a Flip Video Ultra, which was used for the rest of the series. Lack of interest led Frank to slow down on the project. On 8/8/08, he tried to revive the series, only to find the Flip Video Ultra had stopped working. Taking this as a sign, Frank gave up on Inramble and soon started the next chapter of his audio journey, "The Rampler". 142 episodes of Inramble were released, plus 11 that were not released at the time. The Compleat Inramble includes all these videos. ¶ Released 1/22/23 ¶ Internet archive link: https://archive.org/details/Tape_Land_Video_165-The_Compleat_Inramble-2008

Tape Land 166 – The Andy Kaufman Press Conference – Manny's Video (11/9/08) 30:38 [983] Welcome to Tape Land! On each episode, I'll present the audio of a cassette tape or historic material from my personal archives. ¶ This episode is part of a sub-project within Tape Land called "Video Phase 2022". I recently began transferring a ton of old video tapes to digital, and have been posting selections to YouTube. Here, I'll be releasing the audio tracks of these videos, as well as linking you to the YouTube videos, and The Internet Archive. ¶ The Andy Kaufman Press Conference – Manny's Video (11/9/08) ¶ https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=1HiwD5vLlEY ¶ On Sunday, November 9, 2008, I was the host of the "Andy Kaufman Press Conference" at a hotel in New Brunswick, NJ. The creator of the press conference was a man calling himself Steve Maddox from Indianapolis, IN. He'd been working for years on the Internet to perpetuate the idea that comedian Andy Kaufman faked his death in 1984 and was still alive. ¶ A few months earlier, Steve found my podcast "The Rampler" on Twitter, and contacted me, pretending to be Andy Kaufman. While I was never the biggest Andy

Kaufman fan, I found the idea of this guy impersonating him on the Internet to be interesting, so I played along. ¶ He asked me to be the host of the press conference, which I thought would be fun. While several attendees were suspicious that I was in on the whole thing – I was as in the dark as everyone else. ¶ Afterwards, we found out he had recruited his friends and family to put on the press conference. It was meant to add more content to the Internet about Andy Kaufman faking his death, rather than providing any actual information. ¶ This video was filmed by Manny the Mailman. He uploaded it to "Yahoo! Video" – but it was lost when that service shut down. Curt Clendedin uploaded a copy of the video to Vimeo – which I thought was the only copy still available. However, I was about to find a copy of Manny's original which I downloaded from Yahoo! Video in 2014 (which seems to be slightly better quality than Curt's version). ¶ You can hear much more of the event in audio on The Rampler #113 (11/9/08). ¶ —Frank Nora, February 2023 ¶ Released 2/5/23 ¶ Internet archive link: https://archive.org/details/Tape_Land_Video_166-The_Andy_Kaufman_Press_Conference-Mannys_Video-11-9-08

Tape Land 168 – Anything But Monday 37th Anniversary Special (1986-1988) 1:37:10 [983] Welcome to Tape Land! On each episode, I'll present the audio of a cassette tape or historic material from my personal archives. ¶ 37 years ago today, on Monday, February 17, 1986, "Mad" Mike and Frank Nora "Master of the Airwaves" premiered their college comedy radio show "Anything But Monday" on WMNJ, at Drew University in Madison, New Jersey. Presented for this occasion are selections from two compilation cassettes which were distributed in very limited quantities at the time – "ABM Radio: Their Finest Hour" (circa 1987) and "ABM Radio: Their Final Hour" (circa 1988). ¶ Mike and Frank were kicked off the air in Spring 1986, and started a magazine based on the show. By Fall 1986 they were back on the air, and the show continued till Mike graduated in Spring 1988. The magazine became a nationally distributed comic book in 1988 and 1989. After that, the project ended, but has been revived from time to time, most notably as a premium podcast in Spring 2007. ¶ Released 2/17/23 ¶ P.S. Fooning bonus... here's a video of walking around an amusement park in Tokyo I was watching while listening to the audio... https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=-zy4tEYxA64 ...Synchronocities: Help!, Joe Isuzu

I made a series of tapes called "On Noyage" describing these ideas, in a deraged fever dream fashion. Amazingly, over the years, this bizarre, delusional project eventually morphed into something real and worthwhile – Onsug Radio. ¶ – Frank Edward Nora, January 5, 2025 ¶ Notes: 10:45 AM, Friday, February 23, 1990, Bridgewater, NJ, in the car, hello to myself in the future, heading to a mall in Phillipsburg, NJ, slow drivers, Noyage, Nomadi, Noyage Earth, The Hollow Fantasia, The Zope of Halfevil, should it be a game?, Interweb, Rt. 22 West, 32 miles to Phillipsburg, quadrants and maps, places I used to work, looking for coffee, Lafayette College, business plans, Bagelsmith, coffee, (Tastykake) Chocolate Junior, parking spaces, new shopping centers, Tetris, the inside network is going to be the wave of the future, computerized networks, arrival at Phillipsburg Mall, freelance, "Sgt. I tried looking for one day on which all five shows had an episode, but that didn't occur. But I did find a two-day span in which all five shows had an episode – Sunday, June 18 and Monday, June 19. Tape Land 183 – Hemisinister Review from OsoaWeek (1994–2002) [released 4/27/25] 3:30:55 [1009] Welcome to Tape Land! On each episode, I'll present the audio of a cassette tape or historic material from my personal archives. ¶ Hemisinister Review from OsoaWeek, by Frank Edward Nora, 1994–2002, recorded 4/26/25 ¶ Before Onsug Radio, my main creative outlet was OsoaWeek, "the weekly ezine of Obliviana Super Occult Amusement (Osoa)", which I published online from 1994 to 2003. It contained numerous features, one of which, Hemisinister Review, presented reviews of a wide variety of things. ¶ While much of OsoaWeek is a puzzling, self-indulgent mess, I always thought the reviews were a great snapshop of those times. I've been meaning to collect them and read them in audio for quite some time. Finally, yesterday, on a rainy Saturday, I had the time and inclination, and I sat on the porch in the rain and read all of Hemisinister Review, in what I thought of as a "90s voice". ¶ It took much longer than I thought – over 3 and a half hours. But it was a cool romp through the mind of a much-younger me. There are a lot of points of view and perspectives that I no longer agree with in my older form, but overall, it was quite amusing and informative. ¶ – Frank Edward Nora, 4/27/25 ¶ Notes: 7/28/94, Movies (Sirens, True Lies, The Lion King, Even Cowgirls Get The Blues, Surviving The Game, Forrest Gump, Backbeat, The Crow, Baby's Day Out, Clean Slate, The Flintstones, Thumbelina), Pens, Etc. On each episode, I'll present the audio of a cassette tape or historic material from my personal archives. ¶ Here's a collection of "failed" segments recorded for my show The Overnightscape in 2012, which I decided at the time to set aside and not release. ¶ In some cases, as I recall, I was just not feeling it, and figured it would be better to start over. In other cases, I must have felt I was going too far on a particular topic. ¶ In any case, it was quite fun listening to the segments, now 13 years later. Tape Land 185 – Bluffcosm.com CD: Audio Stupidity Punks (May 2000) [released 6/22/25] 1:00:02 [1011] Welcome to Tape Land! On each episode, I'll present the audio of a cassette tape or historic material from my personal archives. ¶ Back when Bluffcosm started in March 2000, some aspects of technology were very limited. For example, the amount of storage space allotted to web hosting accounts was miniscule, to the point that MP3 files, even a few minutes long, were too large to be hosted. The now long-defunct MP3.com provided a solution – they would host, for free, a handful of MP3 files. While geared towards music, this was perfect for the surreal comedy of Bluffcosm. ¶ One service they offered was to create audio CDs from the MP3s hosted on the site. These were able to be ordered and produced on-demand. ¶ I created two of these CD releases for Bluffcosm – the first of which, "Audio Stupidity Punks" – is presented here. ¶ While all of these audio tracks are already available in the archive, this is the first time they are being made available in the original CD track order. Also, in the show art are high-res photos of all parts of CD package. ¶ Track listing: ¶ Bluffcosm ID #1 [0:08] ¶ Existence [0:33] ¶ Beublin 8: Bonnie's Tarantula Farm [7:37] ¶ For Joey [6:05] ¶ The Mini Car Show [12:26] ¶ Beublin 10: Good Morning [1:57] ¶ It's a Tuck-In [2:55] ¶ Pebbles [1:50] ¶ The Hot Kestrel [8:09] ¶ Throat Ripper Scene [18:17]

Tape Land 194 – On Noyage: Part 2 (+ dreams) (2/21/90) [released 2/22/26] 1:33:25 [1019] Welcome to Tape Land! On each episode, I'll present the audio of a cassette tape or historic material from my personal archives. ¶ Back in 1990, at age 22, I was working on a system called "Noyage", which involved using the number 209 to alter reality. I made a series of tapes about the concept, often recording while driving. I've digitized and released four of these previously, and now here is the next one, from 2/21/90, where I'm driving back from Rhode Island to New Jersey in the middle of the night. It's very strange for me to listen to myself as I was back then. I was in a very weird state of mind. ¶ Notes: Part Two of "On Noyage", Wednesday, February 21, 1990, 4:07 AM, in Connecticut driving on Route 95 back to New Jersey, the numbers, the name "Thinki", in New York, Nomadi, Nomadic Velocity, motion and steering, system of reality alteration, the human body, boolean concepts, an interaction at all levels, interact directly with reality, eight specific practices, Vince Lombardi Service Area, "industry standard", 4:39 AM, OutRun, Galaga, thin crescent moon, Blamnoom, cheddar cheese, chocolate, music samples, 4:58 AM, New Jersey Turnpike South, higher concepts, travel, thrust, jargon, rivet, clash, hobby, astral projection, toll, Route 78, decks of cards, 441 miles since Pheasant Run Shopping Center, left at 1:20 AM, planning to go through the tapes, "Symboroream" / symbol from dream, 39 essays and 418 symbols, 445 miles, 5:38 AM, arrived home, Noyage plan, creating online worlds for virtual reality, Do Nomadi, good night, the next day, 4:44 AM, Thursday, 2/22/90, dreams, a meeting in a city, bookstore, Nanobooks, object shrinker, elevator, video games and pinball machines, turret, heads transformed, weird goo, digging trenches in the neighborhood, birdbath, mule and goat, castle, 6:06 AM, unemployed, another dream, office building at night, Robert Palmer, good morning, 6:01 AM, Friday, 2/23/90, sleep patterns, Zope View-Masters, parking lot, generator model, weird hobby shop, video machine, "no, it's legal, lady", stairs, LCD fish game, Tetris, Turnpike tunnel, have to go back to high school, 2009, Cherry 2000 (1988), drawer, Menlo Park Mall, car is gone, apartment, "vague fake people", sleep schedule, strange ideas. ¶ I believe there are still more On Noyage tapes to digitize. Here are the ones I previously released: On Noyage (2/14/90) [released 3/22/10] 1:34:56 ¶ Tape Land 105 – On Noyage 7 (3/23/90) [released 7/20/19] 1:34:35 ¶ Tape Land 159 – On Noyage – Tape 2 – Plus Dreams (Feb. 1990) [released 3/24/22] 1:33:40 ¶ Tape Land 176 – On Noyage – Drive to Phillipsburg Mall (2/23/90) [released 1/5/25] 1:34:30

Tape Land 195 – Thoughts on OSOA (11/9/02) [released 3/2/26] 2:29:27 [1020] Welcome to Tape Land! On each episode, I'll present the audio of a cassette tape or historic material from my personal archives. ¶ Two months before I finally gave up on OSOA (Obliviana Super Occult Amusement), and four months before I started The Overnightscape, I talk all about my projects while driving. It's very interesting how I'm pretty much predicting podcasting, two years before it emerged. Also, mentioning an "audio days" concept that would be used at the start of The Overnightscape Underground five years later in 2007. Also, talking about an unrealized idea for "audio worlds" that I'd detail ten years later in 2012 (in "Audioworlders"). And the final part of the tape (two tapes, actually), is epic semi-coherent rambling while driving in the middle of the night. ¶ Notes: Saturday, November 9, 2002, sitting in my Jeep at 7-11 in Nutley, about to go down to my grandmother's house, and then to Video Game Connections, to perhaps the last video game collector's meeting ever there, just drank a Red Bull, the purpose of this tape is for me to talk about where Obliviana is at right now, history of OSOA (Obliviana Super Occult Amusement), hello multitude of people, feeling down, Fonosta Device aspect, ad in Weird New Jersey magazine, traffic on the Parkway, the current situation, three broad aspects of the system, Dashic Deeds, 209 / Forge of Wander / Four Roads / setting Storms, Metuchen Octagon Vision, Obliviana Board Game, Storm Codex deck of cards, Field Storms, polyhedral dice, Fonjo Racing, Glyph, Your Fonosta Device, "trading up", Meta Glyphs, Yellow Denim Arcade, Friction Enhancers, Bluffcosm: The New Computerized Audio Entertainment, arrived at my grandmother's house, leaving, 5:50 PM, Chili's, I was looking for my hat but I was sitting on it, my relationship with my parents, politics,

Tape Land 197 – New Whychock Revival (5/3/26) 1:41:03 [1022] Welcome to Tape Land! On each episode, I'll present the audio of a cassette tape or historic material from my personal archives. ¶ New Whychock Revival is the latest, much streamlined version of my book of poetry, which I've been working on for nearly forty years now. This audio version is read by a computer voice, "Azure Sonia Dragon HD Latest". I was quite impressed at how this voice approached the material. ¶ Download a PDF of the book at thinkfang.com ¶ License for this track: Creative Commons Attribution-NonCommercial-NoDerivatives 4.0 International (CC BY-NC-ND 4.0) (https://creativecommons.org/licenses/by-nc-nd/4.0/). Tape Land 198 – Polar Lion Compendium (5/16/26) 2:02:45 [1022] Welcome to Tape Land! On each episode, I'll present the audio of a cassette tape or historic material from my personal archives. ¶ My synthesizer versions of old ragtime songs are finally collected in one place! ¶ Polar Lion (an anagram of "piano roll") began when I discovered the website pianola.co.nz, which had a huge collection of old piano rolls, from over 100 years ago, converted to MIDI files. I was able to load the MIDI files into the music program Reason to create a unique sound for the music, and the Polar Lion project was born. ¶ I released the first 14 songs directly on Onsug.com, and after that I presented the songs on The Overnightscape. I would work on the project on and off over the years, producing 38 songs. I figured it was time to collect them all in one place, and here they all are, in Polar Lion Compendium. ¶ The final track in the collection, A Bunch of Rags, is brand new, and presented here for the first time. I was very happy with how that one came out. ¶ Polar Lion has such a unique sound, I really hope more people can listen to and enjoy the songs. And of course, a big thank you to the Pianola site for converting the songs to digital form – not to mention all the composers and performers who originally created the music way back when! ¶ Download the songs individually: Polar_Lion_Compendium.zip

It's a way to help motivate me to release more of my archives. ¶ It's been nearly six years since I recorded Part 1 of the audiobook version of my "failed science fiction novel" Severe Repair. Overnightscape Music

Check out this compilation of music that Frank had a hand in creating or curating. In Fuzzy Daupner, Frank wrote lyrics and co-produced. Frank created his own music under various names like Polar Lion, Little Frankie Nora, Tree Bag Ask, Midnight Cassette Ststem, and Choston Bands & Junkard Sane. He collected songs for Trash Am Records and Music for Night Driving in VR, and archived songs for a defunct website, MyVirtualBand. It's an eclectic collection of tunes, most of which you'll find only here.

Fuzzy Daupner - All The Songs (1998-2001) 2:13:29

Fuzzy Daupner was an obscure New Jersey rock band which, in the brief span of 3 years (1998-2001), created a catalog of 32 amazing songs. You can here all of these songs right here, along with complete lyrics, below.

Fuzzy Daupner began in 1998 when Carrie Engdahl began collaborating with her sister Denice and Denice's husband Frank on creating songs. Awhile later, they joined forces with Rob DiCaterino on drums and formed the band Fuzzy Daupner. The final member, Phil Mould on bass, joined a little later.

They produced two home-recorded, Internet-distributed albums, and played many shows around New Jersey and NYC. But they never got signed and they broke up in November 2001.

As you will hear, there is something rather unique about these 32 songs. This audio release will hopefully help in keeping the songs alive - it is intended as a reference source for the songs.

FUZZY DAUPNER

You were there in that college
And you like this god Frey

You were there in that college
And you like this god Loki

You said this was all you were waiting for I gave you my heart, I told you my soul

You were there in that college
And you like this god Frey
You were there in that college
And you like this god Loki

I gave you everything that I possibly could
But you just stood there with your hands wide open
I guess I should have expected that you would

You were there in that college
And you like this god Frey
You were there in that college
And you like this god Loki

What about what I want?
Were you ever gonna give me that?

So, if I gave you what you wanted
Would you really be happy?
And if I gave you what you wanted
Would I have been loved?

LITTLE FAN

I'm a pretty cool chick
I like to laugh, I'm not too serious
maybe just a little mysterious doesn't that make you curious

I've got my own dot com
I play guitar, I write you songs
I even have my own car
I'll let you take it for a ride

Let me make you feel like a man
you don't gotta be my biggest fan
I could do so many things to you
and you could say you're with the band
you could say you're with the band

My candle's not lit hot wax could be naughty when I use my voice like this

I'll see you in the morning, little fan

Let me make you feel like a man
you don't gotta be my biggest fan

I'm a pretty cool chick
I like to laugh, I'm not too serious
maybe just a little mysterious
doesn't that make you curious
doesn't that make you curious

THE MEXICAN HOVERCRAFT

Montana Kentucky Bermuda Maine
Hovercraft race and the dreamer Lorraine
Won the Mexican Hovercraft in a backgammon game
The first to Bar Harbor wins a trip into space

And the Mexican Hovercraft is ready for speed
Shields and Yarnell and J. Appleseed
The heck with nostalgia there can be a new dawning Lorraine at the wheel is still sneering and yawning

Give it sweet attention
An incense on interstate rain
Appomatox is buzzing again

Give it sweet attention
An incense on interstate rain
Give it sweet attention
Appomatox is buzzing again

October train stations as dark as can be Thoughts from Cape May are numbingly clean
Racing stripes in an autumn scheme
Bolt Wintercindie and the Laser Bee

Kentucky is chill and the contest is fading
The Lippizan Stallions are ready for mating
The Halma Club geeks are bitter and jaded Lorraine hits the brakes with a pepper elation

An incense on interstate rain

Appomatox is buzzing again

Give it sweet attention
An incense on interstate rain
Give it sweet attention

MONSTER NOW

So how you been my crazy monster head?
Are you lonely?
I know I haven't been myself,
I thought I was OK on my own,
But sometimes you just need your
Crazy monster
Sometimes you just need your monster

Somethings very very very wrong
You're my Easter
And someday this will get easier

Look at the sky
And say good-bye Feelings don't last Licorice goes bad
And children sometimes cry and

Somethings very very very wrong
You're my Easter
And someday this will get easier

"Have another cigarette,"
I say to myself
What else is there to do?
I convince my monster

Somethings very very very wrong
You're my Easter
And someday this will get easier

So how you been my crazy monster head?
Are you lonely?
I know I haven't been myself
I thought I was okay on my own,
But sometimes you just need your
Crazy monster
Sometimes you just need your monster
Sometimes I just need my monster

Sometimes you just need your monster
Sometimes I just need my monster

ONLY SAW TRUCKS

The slower the warning here is building
And a slow travel down weird sideways
No fortress here nothing
Otherside and faraway something

Dreaming by the hotel check-in
He should be here any second
A glance and a look
I'm waiting for a car
But I only saw trucks
I only saw trucks

Detours to a row of vending machines
Hearing their voices trying to make my choices
Next time I'll wear long sleeves

Dreaming by the hotel check-in
He should be here any second
A glance and a look
I'm waiting for a car
But i only saw trucks
I mantra slam all

My dreaming has changed to wondering
Many seconds have gone by Pulling into my face with a smile
He has arrived and I told him that I was

Knowing you'd be here any second
Looking for your car but I only saw trucks
I only saw trucks

No wind no warning the desert is beat
Hopefully he'll be back quick
Standing alone near a red rock plateau
The air is downy like thunder
In my pocket no keys or money
Just dice and fax and phone numbers
Wrench and bolt 3 2 1 contact
One way is loosen one way is damn tighten

Baby I wanna get moving

But I only saw trucks

PENT BREEZE

Funnier and comfier, responsive and sane
Looping in imperfection space
Aukwise vinegars we're tinting slake
Terrarium daycare and the random sleep

You could be mine
In the early 90s
I'll find the time

You could be mine
In the early 90s
I'll find the time

Yo shrinkwrapped CD open it up
Climaxing and flaxen
A falconer attention
Change...
Rebel yanking my braid
Snarled stress gets unmade
A spy store gets rearranged
The days...
Are getting colder

Information please
I can't go to Europe right now

Pent Breeze
Maybe space is east
Garage sale signs are old

Frivolarctango's the focus pretty motorhome Millheel Chamille's the focus pretty van
It's okay to fantasize

In an unbuilt building night
All mimsy were the slot machines
Cheap maple syrup is cheap

Yo shrinkwrapped CD open it up
Climaxing and flaxen
Change...
Rebel yanking my braid
The days...

The flowers breathe
Concepts are so lame

POSSIBLE CALHOUN

Well here's the van, hop on in There's still some fun in the world, y'know
So come along my friend

It's the time of day to open your mind
In other words it's anytime of the night or day

Don't believe in a starlight squeeze
Don't be the realistic one, oh jeez
Feel the morning slapping your frown
For a number of hours to come We'll be hanging around

And singing around and playing around
And horsing and horsing
Around and around and around and AROUND

It's a wildering drifted gown
Licking freshly minted weeks
Oh...
Licking freshly minted weeks

Via va va vo and
Via va va vay
Toll plaza dragonflies
Wake up uh get up uh

Via va va vo and
Via va va vay
Wake up uh get up uh

Well hello space camp stepsister
Have you had that smile on long
Say you oughtta might honey feel the night
It's got a raven's nest and hero's hall

Oh...
Licking freshly minted weeks

So let's go now my
Happy sleepy amigos
So let's go now my
Happy sleepy amigos
So let's go now my
Happy sleepy amigos

There's more of all this revelry
It will not go sour
Don't be a drag with all of your counting the hours
Let us love a fair time of slush in the flowers

Via va va vo and
Via va va vay
Wake up uh get up uh
Possible Calhoun

PREGNANT SKATEBOARD

Car wash canals clearly doesn't make sense,
But smiles live with me behind that fence
Chocolate and vanilla are quite complimentary
You and I seem so contradictory
Picture perfect places only exist in pictures
And nothing is guaranteed as a permanent fixture

You and me, maybe not
Just a thought, that's all I've got
You and me, maybe not
Just a thought, that's all I've got

In the cards and on the dice,
Take your chance, it might be nice
Waiting for nothing and playing the game
Waiting for you is just the same as Waiting for nothing and playing the game

Just a thought, that's all Ive got
You and me, maybe not
Just a thought, that's all I've got

I'm okay with you here,
Acting silly, shimmering smiles
Looking like lavender after a while,
But you better bet both hands now mister ‘Cause flounders are flying faster that you can

You and me, maybe not
Just a thought, that's all I've got
You and me, maybe not

RIDICULOUS FORTUNE

Sunflower Slow Drag 2
Lingerie in a suitcase in ice
A little mandolin gesture
Of a primitive pinball spice

I have agreed
Perhaps stupidly
To embark on a Hyper Mission

Out of a phase
The fading telecast age
With the in-flight dungeon games
In the flickety flames

I have agreed

Savage FFM
Ocelot vibe
Bad Scoville in again

Out of a phase
The fading telecast age

I have agreed
I have agreed

This fiery Spring is a Fine and naughty daydream
And strife is for erasing with Skinny dipping into things amazing

I have agreed
Perhaps stupidly
To embark on a Hyper Mission

Out of a phase

Savage Far Field Monitor
Forgotten windshear friend
Lulling me the ramping lyre
Telecasting as the tundra falls Away... Away... Away...

Ocelot vibe
Bad Scoville in again

I have agreed
Out of a phase

I have agreed
Out of a phase

I have agreed

SIGN OF THE MALLS

At a loser's house she sought the sign of the malls
People are insane towards her
What do you want

At a loser's house she sought the sign of the malls
People are insane towards her
What do you want

Sign of the malls
Going where I want to go
It's not a song for the insane people to sing

Sign of the malls

At the new york mercantile exchange
Lightning teen walk
What do you want

What do you want

Sign of the malls
Going where I want to go

Going where I want to go

Do not keep throwing oranges at me
It's not what I want
So unlock the storm

SLIDING GARDENS

And can I say we are Crazy crossing a rocky stream
Kissing hills and air and dreams
Coltishly beaucoup in our mysteries

Bathing cool in a stimulating rio
Tiki and arctic phase at nanticoko
Singing folk space rock at the top of our lungs
Winding down in the wow fluff of the treetops

We can walk together
Under the moon or whatever
And our nasty predawn jive
Will even make the scorpions cry

We can walk together
Under the moon or whatever
And our nasty predawn jive
Will even make the scorpions cry

Humpback dude with jackdaw steed
Whale and bird on a new kind of trip
Motors and lights and audio delights
Rubber bands are pumping energy

The treasure of me is stalking away
At the whining dusk of day
Your mental aggression craft is called Attack-type dog

Under the moon or whatever
And our nasty predawn jive
Will even make the scorpions cry

We can walk together
Under the moon or whatever
And our nasty predawn jive
Will even make the scorpions cry

Above the primly introspective waste
The Rover is the tune
As we skydive in new wave ruins
She make weird animal dolls

Pogs were not a lasting trend
The new age it just came and went
The humans we're all stuck in are The leftovers of an obvious recall

We can walk together
Under the moon or whatever

And our nasty predawn jive
Will even make the scorpions cry

We can walk together
Under the moon or whatever
And our nasty predawn jive
Will even make the scorpions cry

SOME IN THE WOODS

Though it wouldn't compute today
There were some in the woods
Detergent like misty May go away
Sunglasses like that she's no bank employee

The airport one of the grasslands
Has a nuclear weapon
There's a reptile that's almost here
And on carpet he ain't steppin'

Seen the white phosphorus braids
Of the jingle bell maker of the breeze
Erotically wasted
On the leaves of hidden trees

There's an elevator on the train
Of windmill and waterwheel
Saw a dryad with anthracite Cuckoo clock's cold, gotta heat that steel

Bold and bright and savage hammer
From a field of silly flowers
Dark artwork of a corporation
Snowy and ruined, my night hours

Of the jingle bell maker of the breeze
Erotically wasted
On the leaves of hidden trees

Though it wouldn't compute today
There were some in the woods
Sunglasses like that she's no park ranger

The airport one of the grasslands
Has a nuclear weapon
There's a reptile that's almost here
And he's got my full attention

The grizzlycorn with the copper horn
In the light of digital clocks was born
Jesse and Sasha wore their outfits torn
And those in the woods, they hit their foghorn

Yes those in the woods, they hit their foghorn
Yes those in the woods, they hit their foghorn
Yes those in the woods, they hit their foghorn

TAKE A NAP

When this happens I feel trapped
When this happens I feel trapped
I need to run away to a place I can relax ‘Cause when this happens
I feel trapped
I need a nap

When this happens I take a nap
When this happens I take a nap
Wrap me in a blanket and throw me in the sack
‘Cause when all this stuff happens
I take a nap
I feel trapped

James K. Polk and his hamster Zack
Are playing out in the back
When this stuff happens I take a nap
When that happens I take a nap
When that happens I take a nap <<<CHANGE line added
I feel trapped
I'm on attack

Let me shut off with my pillow nice and soft
‘Cause when all this stuff happens
I take a nap
When this happens I take a nap
I feel trapped
I feel trapped

I'm too big for daddy's lap these days he just gives me a pat so these days stuff happens
I take a nap
When that happens I take a nap
When this happens I take a nap

I feel trapped
I'm on attack

Don't wake me up or I'll give you a whack

If that happened I'd take a nap

If you don't let me nap
I'll be on a Feral Kid attack

If that happened I'd take a nap
I'd play with Zack

When I wake from my nap
I can then deal with the crap but when all this stuff happens
In Carbonite I'm trapped
I need a nap

Can I fathom this darkling drape?

Can I fathom this darkling drape?

Can I fathom this darkling drape?

TEN MINUTES CAT

I always forget to water my plants
New clothes make me dance
I always forget to tell you how I feel

Always waiting for that second chance
Look at me with that long time glane
So I'm sure that you feel the same

Ten minutes cat, you better call
Ten minutes cat, until I fall
You've got ten minutes cat, that's all

I can't help feeling pissed
Why does no matter what this Romance is such a game

Why do I leave it up to Whether or not I feel blue
I don't know what else to say or do

Ten minutes cat, I'm waiting no more
Ten minutes cat, this is such a chore
Ten minutes to call, that's all

Ten minutes cat, you better call
Ten minutes cat, until I fall
You've got ten minutes cat, thats all.

TRANSIT SHIVERS
---
note: there are two versions of this song - the long version (below), and the short version, which is a subset of the long version
---

A thousand years ago, I was so alone
I had three horses, Bob, Jake and Fred
I made my money by making bread
Those horses were my only friends and you said I was weird cause, I talked to them, but I knew, that you knew, that you loved me anyway

But, I was disruptive, I was untrusted, I was destructive with your heart
I was disruptive, I was untrusted, I was destructive with my heart
Transit shivers make me quiver
Transit shivers always make me quiver

Five hundred years ago, I was so alone
I had three plants, Daisy, Dead and Petal
I made my money by making metal
Those plants were my only friends and you said I was crazy because, I talked to them, but I knew, that you knew, that you loved me anyway

But, I was disruptive, I was untrusted, I was destructive with your heart
I was disruptive, I was untrusted, I was destructive with my heart
Transit shivers make me quiver
Transit shivers always make me quiver

One hundred years ago, I was so alone
I had three frogs, George, Blair, and Cope
I made my money by making soap
Those frogs were my only friends and you said I was strange because, I talked to them
but I knew, that you knew, that you loved me anyway

But, I was disruptive, I was untrusted, I was destructive with your heart
I was disruptive, I was untrusted, I was destructive with my heart
Transit shivers make me quiver
Transit shivers always make me quiver

This year, I am so alone
I have three cuckoos, Mappy, Reese, and Kitty
I make my money by making old woman pretty These cuckoos are my only friends and you think I'm insane because, I talk to them but I know, that you know, that you love me anyway

I'll try not being so disruptive, or untrusted, or destructive with your heart
So disruptive, or untrusted, or destructive with my heart
Transit shivers make me quiver
Transit shivers always make me quiver
And maybe someday I won't be so alone, so solo, so solo

THE US HOUNDS

Us Hound Control, to The Us Hounds below
All aboard for action, we're ready to go!

Welcome to the new world of passenger trains
Choo choo to gardens and plains,
yellow volcanoes in the rain
Their goal is no more than to entertain
Yet if passengers are threatened,
they will intervene

All that youth in media culture
Is daydream fodder for grandfathers and fathers
The Weather Channel frail honchos

All that youth in media culture

Welcome to the new world of passenger trains
Choo choo to gardens and plains,
yellow volcanoes in the rain
Their goal is no more than to entertain
Yet if passengers are threatened,
they will intervene

Myra's on the synthesizer, in The Us Hounds
Enter the milieu, if you please, of The Us Hounds
Hildebad is on electric guitar, and Harla is on acoustic Trace is on the bass guitar, and Bruckner plays the drums
They're rocking out on the rails of the world, The Us Hounds!

We are awfully proud of spring
And then again
Awfully bored of prance
Awfully proud of spring
Awfully bored of prance
And then again

All that youth in media culture

WEIRD HIGHWAY

I can't say this song is called dial
Get telepathic with gecko and skink for awhile Steel wool crossfire is grand a thousand years old, drawn on a goddess's hand

The subject of a company of dust
Dance rants laugh
On the Nordenskjold Line of my mind
Imbibing the stripes of industrial signs

Apartment pepper December fire coze

Clash of blasted slack with sudden pose Like lemonglass walls of fulsome of those Total envy as Tixe-a is the one I chose

Cruisin' down a weird highway
on a Himalayan kitten's couch
Truckin' the dance of flying thru windows
is the only thing that counts

That Barchetta isn't red
It's gunmetal gray instead Stumbling down Mediocre Lane
Some hatters are still sane

on a Himalayan kitten's couch

And took an immediate liking to this type of percussion
Wearing denim from head to toe
He doesn't know who to like
And he doesn't know where to stand

Another Universe Southland
The Delicious Potential of Spencer
Honk Towers is the town where he met her

Of startings over, hello
Dollhouse checkerboards in the black & tan
He's in the air, And her name is Flare
And they are going over there

Well it's official, it's night
And it's officially wet
As jesters from head to toe
The new games fresh in the memory

Another Universe Southland
The Delicious Potential of Spencer
Honk Towers is the town where he met her

When summer plant feathers flock in air
Spencer's a rock-climbing marketing hack
She puts in glass fragile artifacts

From semi-fictional mad shipwrecks Flare's not gonna deal like that Conrad's in the Indian paddywhack

BACK TO CIRCLES

Love is all around me
Just not in me
Sometimes I'm wrapped in plastic it seems Someone else's shoes is more appealing to me

Maybe if I just start spinning

Circles
Everything leads
Back to circles
Back to circles
Back to circles

Sometimes I try to speak
But I choke
Sometimes I laugh
When there's no joke
Now you see me
Now you don't Sometimes I would Most times I won't

Maybe if I just start spinning

Circles
Everything leads
Back to circles
Back to circles
Back to circles

Love is all around me
Just not in me
I'm wrapped in plastic again today
Someone else's shoes could help me run away

Maybe if I just start spinning

Circles
Everything leads
Back to circles
Back to circles

THE BROWN AND BLUE

Why do kids color lobsters red?
They're only red when they're dead
Why are these crustaceans dead?
‘Cause people with butter are waiting for them

Lobsters red
When they're dead
Lobsters red
When they're dead
And sometimes crabs are victims too
They should stay brown and blue

Lobsters red
When they're dead
Lobsters red
When they're dead
And sometimes crabs are victims too

Why do kids color lobsters red?

BUILT-IN BOOKSHELVES

Black old shoes
And a dusty knife
I supinely rose, late last night
I did not succeed, ‘cause the moment you sneezed
You blew all my courage away

You always find something to ruin my plans
You always found some way to serif my sans
But it's okay ‘cause I've got...

Built-in bookshelves baby
Go get your reading glasses ‘Cause I wanna teach you a lesson about me

I thought I was easy to read
I thought I made it easy for you to read
I gave you the bait, but I guess you never bit
Could you really be this illiterate?

Go get those grinded lenses ‘Cause I'm gonna teach you lesson
about me

I could've been the book you can't put down
Your neverending story
But I finally found
These built-in bookshelves inside me
I finally found these built-in bookshelves
Right here, inside me

Lissomeness, a creek, this geometric peace
Came so close to crashing, clean by not touching you at all
In your rockness, you made... me... see...
The flowers and fireworks in me
In your rockness, you made me see
And I learned a lesson about me

CATAMARAN WALKER

How could you let it come to this?
How could you let this take place?

The woman above me holds herself together with aerosol cans
The mirror seems to be her best friend
And I think this may change my plans
Since I'm starting to learn how to bend

Let me be who I am meant to be Let me see how I can actually be

The woman below me tries to act drunk
Because she feels somewhat invisible
And I try to fathom the reason
But it's really not so hard to see

Let me learn from other women's mistakes
Let me learn so my heart will never break

The woman inside me is only a fantasy,
And the little girl that possesses me is only thinking about Screaming and breaking free
The woman inside me is only a fantasy,
And the little girl that possesses me is only thinking
She's only thinking

Let me learn from other women's mistakes
Let me learn so my heart will never break

The person in the mirror is always a bit intrigued,
She is lonely, she is fearful, and not willing to receive
She imagines possibilities occuring from something only to realize
She still has nothing
So, she pretends to be okay and pretends to be alive, because she won't be responsible for letting herself die
Is there a man out there who is able to fix this?
For some reason I doubt that he even exists

How could you let it come to this?
How could you let this take place?

Your time is up, it's time to stand up and face this problem
That began long before you started to run,
Lost in space too far behind to ever catch up,
Losing my mind don't tell me again to shut up, ‘Cause last time I listened and now look at me,
No really look...

Can you see me?...
Can you see me?

CHRISTIAN ROCK

Early in the concrete cement
Sheet metal whatever center
The seeping enterprise washing
I wish this snow was unrelenting

I bore a hole in the Nunavut springtime
My misery isn't interesting at all

I bore a hole in the Nunavut springtime
My misery isn't interesting at all

Overnight cable got the
Beanies and the Christian Rock
And all the puppets there
Are constructed outta socks

Beanies and the Christian Rock
And all the puppets there
Are constructed outta socks

The they and the temperature level

Black trees, his antimatter sneeze
Selected slash of casino ash
Lass in the pedways of Halifax

I bore a hole in the Nunavut springtime
My misery isn't interesting at all

I bore a hole in the Nunavut springtime
My misery isn't interesting at all

Beanies and the Christian Rock
And all the puppets there
Are constructed outta socks

Beanies and the Christian Rock
And all the puppets there
Are constructed outta socks

I prepared all last night
To rip the waterfall to shreds
Deemrose Bonnie crossbow humid Pedway ankh the breeze is in shock

I bore a hole in the Nunavut springtime
My misery isn't interesting at all

I bore a hole in the Nunavut springtime
My misery isn't interesting at all

Beanies and the Christian Rock
And all the puppets there
Are constructed outta socks

Beanies and the Christian Rock
And all the puppets there
Are constructed outta socks

Early in the sheetrock day
My chocolate factory is in no way
Hershey or Wonka but it's quite okay
Its effect keeps my childhood erect

I bore a hole in the Nunavut springtime
My misery isn't interesting at all

I bore a hole in the Nunavut springtime
My misery isn't interesting at all

Beanies and the Christian Rock

COPING SAW SUNSET ROADS

Each morning I sleep in your family room
Sunshine in the raw clamps your terra cotta
Somewhat perfect I attend to marshes in dreams
And your cat is nice to me

Driving your truck to a home architecture place
My headband is giving out 65 messages
Tears on the yellow credit card receipt
And the scowls of dour teens aplenty

Searching the tippy tops of your many closets
Boardgames from the seventies often lurk there
And I brew that deep peppermint tea
Having missed 15 minutes of Quincy

I was not happy with your E-mail from the airport
I got a pile of magazines and a collage to create
I might walk in the night, some festivals are near
I have a cougar's soul, that's what I'll tell myself

So I'll read my newsgroup and try to learn a song
So I can play for you, when you get home

CRAZY PLONTO

Calling all you tricky nothingnessess
A Crazy Plonto clockiful morning is storming
Seekling goes to store, vases on her mind
Pawn of the Ago Quartz, Crazy Plonto, Episode 5

Wanting the clop clop antique Baby, as baby hawks are near Three stupid things we got in here
Nostalgia, karate, and a sponge

Yeah Vulcan, that is me
Young, outcast, yeah I failed
Forging away, forming facades
Yeah I failed, yeah so now what?

Superscience needed, she loves muddy bay
Polluting the minds with ballet
Art in museum, doesn't mean a thing
A cat god robot on film she likes to see

A freckle and a burn, side by side
I would think that skeeball's your game
Pretty please play tetherball with me
Tonight you're cool, you're a fortieth century schoolgirl

Yeah Vulcan, that is me
Young, outcast, yeah I failed
Forging away, forming facades
Yeah I failed, yeah so now what?

Blue Jay Earth Phone
Bicentennial Quarter Maniac
Interthimble, erasing candles
Gaga Scirroco, I gather you're fumbling

Don Jay Maxfield plays the role
Time travel action hero, it's fantastic
She claims she's gonna marry him someday
And be in a Crazy Plonto movie

Yeah Vulcan, that is me
Young, outcast, yeah I failed
Forging away, forming facades
Yeah I failed, yeah so now what?

Yeah Vulcan, that is me
Young, outcast, yeah I failed
Forging away, forming facades
Yeah I failed, yeah...
Let's get outta here
Let's get outta here...

CUP OF JOE

I'm kind of in the mood for a cup of joe
I'm kind of in the mood for a cup of joe
I'm feeling kinda scared and I don't think it's fair
I'm feeling kinda scared and I don't think he cares

So, I'll hold in my thoughts
And I'll hold in my fears
Holden teach me how to be real

I'm kind of in the mood for a cup of joe
I'm kind of in the mood for a cup of joe

It's sort of strange, but it's classified as sane
It's sort of strange, and I know he thinks the same

An uncommon friendship that's lasted a few years
An uncommon friendship caused by my own fears

I'm kind of in the mood for a cup of joe
Kind of in the mood for a cup of joe

DEAR ANYONE

I think my heart needs a jump start
I feel the need, I feel the want, but i never learned how to flaunt
I'm a blessing in disguise, I promise you that
So come on, come on let me try on your hat

Dear Anyone, I'm lonely but I'm to blame
Dear Anyone, Show me my flame

Dear Anyone, you don't know how lucky you could be
Dear Anyone, I dare you to set me free

Dear Anyone, I'm lonely but I'm to blame
Dear Anyone, I'm begging show me my flame
Dear Anyone, you don't know how lucky you would be
Dear Anyone, I dare you to set me free

I think my heart needs a jump start
I feel the need, I feel the want, but i never learned how to flaunt
I'm a blessing in disguise, I promise you that
So, come on, come on, let me try on your hat

Dear Anyone, I'm lonely buy I'm to blame
Dear Anyone, I want a better flame
Dear Anyone, you don't know how lucky you would be
Dear Anyone, I dare you to set me free

DELUGE OF PRIMACY

Eight o'clock to sound in a peal
Her brunette crown through the window
A darkling intersection in between his things
Unfirm and awesome
She felt his eyes on her
Unfirm and awesome
She felt his eyes on her

A night in the city
Washington Square Park
Commencing on church steps in the dark
Still there and it's morning
Something keeping them awake
Unfirm and awesome
She felt his eyes on her
Unfirm and awesome
She felt his eyes on her

True Lies it's a snow cone maker
Syd Barrett sing Late Night
Deluge of Primacy dripping wax
She was still amazed
He continued to gaze
Unfirm and awesome
She felt his eyes on her
Unfirm and awesome
She felt his eyes on her

He only has eyes for her

He only has eyes for her

To thrash around uselessly

Calming the nerves of everyone

FEAR NUMBER ONE

If I told you a story would you want to hear the end?
‘Cause it's kinda long and it's awfully stupid
So just let me begin

It started on Michael's porch in 1984
He stuck his tongue in my mouth and I fell to the floor

He said we were playing make-believe
But pretending was never that real
And since that day, I've been afraid
Of the real thing
I'm afraid of the real thing
I'm afraid of the real thing
I'm afraid of the real thing

His mom saw us and she called to tell mine
My mom stood there in the kitchen and asked what's on my mind
And I said nothing
I said nothing
I said nothing
I said nothing

She asked if what she heard was true
I didn't know what to say
I wanted to tell the truth
That Michael made me play
But I said nothing
I said nothing and I lied
and I lied

And I'm not sure why, I let this control my mind
And I'm not sure how I became such a coward

I'm not sure why, I let this control my mind
I'm not sure how, it made me such a coward
I'm such a coward
I'm such a coward
I'm such a coward
I'm such a coward

And you loved to climb my tree
And you loved to watch me pee
Always asking how it works
How am I supposed know?
I'm only seven years old
How could you expect me know?
I'm only seven years old
Seven years old

And I'm not sure if that's the reason
But it keeps my wonder sane
And maybe if this didn't happen
I'd still turn out the same
Afraid of the real thing
I'm afraid of the real thing
I'm afraid of the real thing
I'm afraid of the real thing

And I wonder what would happen if the real thing came my way
What kind of excuses could I think of to say
Maybe I'd start to sing to help you understand
That I really don't want to leave it's just the way I am Afraid of the real thing
I'm afraid of the real thing
I'm afraid of the real thing

THE FILMOGRAPHY OF ANN B. DAVIS

Boring books that other people read
About adults and their infidelities
And travelling to romantic places
These readers are wanting of sleeves with aces

Paper plates with the cartoon stars of the day
Inelegant remains of some kind of ice cream cake
As relatives are lazing the tension is phasing
And phone calls at night's-end are hoped to be pleasing

Loving life can take more juice
Than the air conditioning at a mall
Rows and columns of bitches from college
Her place in the scheme of things is just idiotic

Than the air conditioning at a mall
Rows and columns of bitches from college
Her place in the scheme of things is just idiotic

As lame as a fast food no-left-turn sign
Dirty fingers that prod in the produce lane
Pirates adored as the dudes of pop culture
Real ones caused misery and torture

This place is construction zones and shoe store blues
The mentally scrambled at facade-craft are ample
The toys of the ‘80s are ready and waiting Sweaty clothes are stripped and the shower is dreaming

Than the air conditioning at a mall
Rows and columns of bitches from college
Her place in the scheme of things is just idiotic

Than the air conditioning at a mall
Rows and columns of bitches from college
Her place in the scheme of things is just idiotic

This place has crap from the past that better not last
The razor wire friends that talk empty and fresh Loving life is a rock guitar haunting
The mall is so cold that I gotta keep running

Rows and columns of bitches from college
Rows and columns of bitches from college
Her place in the scheme of things is changing just slightly

Little Frankie Nora

1987
Produced by Frank Edward Nora

In 1987, at age 19, I set up a rudimentary recording studio in my parents' basementm and created music as "Little Frankie Nora". The main instruments I used were a Casio SK-1 sampling keyboard and a small black-and-white TV set.

When I was cleaning up The Overnightscape Studio a few weeks ago, I discovered that I had a brand new MadPlayer that had never been used. I decided that I would use it to record lots of music that anyone can use for whatever they want. This is the Midnight Cassette System.

New Midnight Cassette System

2012
Produced by Frank Edward Nora

Public domain music that Frank created on a MadPlayer.

License: CC0 (http://creativecommons.org/publicdomain/zero/1.0/) To the extent possible under law, Frank Nora has waived all copyright and related or neighboring rights to Midnight Cassette System. This work is published from United States.

New Midnight Cassette System is 55 hours of public domain music you can use any way you want, with no strings attached.

I'm Frank Edward Nora, host of The Overnightscape, and I produced all this music on a MadPlayer in the Summer of 2012 in New Jersey, USA. The MadPlayer was a "generative music" device that creates random music based on algorithms. It was released in 2002, but is now long discontinued.

Music created on the MadPlayer is the creative work of the artist using it. Therefore, as the producer of this set of music, I have the right to release it into the public domain.

In order to make this public domain declaration even stronger, I am releasing this music under the Creative Commons CC0 1.0 Universal (CC0 1.0) Public Domain Dedication (http://creativecommons.org/publicdomain/zero/1.0/).

I've been doing Internet radio and podcasting for well over a decade now, and I have spent a huge amount of time searching for music I could use on my shows. The MadPlayer was a wonderful discovery for me, because I was able to use it for background music on my shows - legally and without any strings attached.

Since the MadPlayer is no longer available, I wanted to to make some of this music available to anyone who wants to use it. This is exactly the kind of resource I would have loved to have discovered in the past, so I am more than happy to make it available.

You can use the music of New Midnight Cassette System in any way you like, with absolutely no strings attached. It can be used for commercial or non-commercial purposes. It can be edited, cut, sliced, and derived without limitation. You do not have to give me credit or attribution at all. This music is free and clear for any use.

If you do want to include attribution, you can use: "Music from New Midnight Cassette System by Frank Edward Nora (host of The Overnightscape)." But again, no attribution is required. You could use this music in a feature film that makes hundreds of millions of dollars and you would still not need to get any further permission, give me credit, or pay me anything. It is my pleasure to make this music freely available.

The music itself is electronic, in a variety of different genres. For this project, I used a MadPlayer with software version P1.29.06, which has 34 different genres. I recorded 90+ minutes of each genre onto my Roland R-05 recorder as MP3s at 192 kbps stereo.

I produced the original Midnight Cassette System back in June 2010, with the same public domain license. It was done on a different MadPlayer, with software version P1.22.28, with less genres, each recording under an hour, at 128 kbps stereo MP3.

It was always my intention to release more Midnight Cassette System, and that's why I decided to do this project. It was quite time-consuming, but I am pleased with it, and hope you all enjoy using the music!

First Four Trash Am Records (2011) 5:13:57 [231]

Here's a 4-CD box set of amazing music - all combined into a single convenient MP3 file! It's like a cool little radio station in your pocket with an abundant supply of addictive tunes!

Trash Am Records came about because I think it's time to start paying more attention to music released under Creative Commons licenses - which allow the music to be downloaded and shared freely, including being able to play the songs on podcasts.

Most of the commercial music we all know and love is shackled under an outdated copyright and music licensing system, which makes it illegal to play on podcasts - or to share the songs with your friends. It really is a sad state of affairs.

So thank goodness so many talented musicians are releasing their songs under Creative Commons! I have been spending a huge amount of time lately on Jamendo.com to find great songs and to sequence them into compilation albums - and the result is Trash Am Records (a completely non-commercial project).

The first four records:

Trash Am #1 - Trash The Airport Meadow
Trash Am #2 - Needed The Tea Am Flimsy's
Trash Am #3 - Tribal Caffeine Mazes
Trash Am #4 - Billiard Winter Drink

The album titles, cover art, and song sequences are by me. Otherwise, I had nothing to do with the creation of these songs. Please support these artists in any way you can! (I have not contacted the artists telling them they have been included, because the time and energy that would require is beyond the scope of this project, and they have already given permission for this type of non-commercial compilation by using Creative Commons licenses).

I do plan on releasing the albums separately, but for now, enjoy this huge slab of satisfying music. My goal was to create records that I myself would crave and enjoy listening to over and over again - and in that I have succeeded. The music genres included are generally rock, pop, electronic, and eclectic.

I released the first record, Trash The Airport Meadow, on June 9, 2011. I loved it so much I decided to make a sequel - a project which began to take up more and more time and eventually lead to these three additional albums - which I am very excited about. Enjoy!

Trash Am #5 - Highwayside's Edge (April 2012) 1:16:28 [231]

"Highwayside's Edge" is the fifth collection of Creative Commons music compiled by me, Frank Edward Nora, and released on Trash Am Records (a completely non-commercial project).

The songs featured here have been collected from a number of different sites, chief among them Jamendo.com.

For this collection, the artists have not been contacted about their songs being included, due to the time and energy that would be involved in doing so. By releasing a song under a Creative Commons license, an artist gives permission for the song to be re-distributed on a non-commercial compilation like this.

This is a set of fantastic songs, and I hope it increases awareness of the high quality of Creative Commons music available today. I feel that Creative Commons is a much healthier form of copyright for our society, moving forward.

Trash Am #6 - Venom of the Best (April 2012) 1:19:01 [231]

"Venom of the Best" is the sixth collection of Creative Commons music compiled by me, Frank Edward Nora, and released on Trash Am Records (a completely non-commercial project).

The songs featured here have been collected from a number of different sites.

For this collection, the artists have not been contacted about their songs being included, due to the time and energy that would be involved in doing so. By releasing a song under a Creative Commons license, an artist gives permission for the song to be re-distributed on a non-commercial compilation like this.

This is a set of fantastic songs, and I hope it increases awareness of the high quality of Creative Commons music available today. I feel that Creative Commons is a much healthier form of copyright for our society, moving forward.

MyVirtualBand Featured Songs
113 tracks / 6:52:58

MyVirtualBand.com was a music collaboration website that existed circa 2004-2006.

On the site, musicians worked together to create songs. All audio created on the site was licensed under a Creative Commons Attribution 2.0 License.

In late 2006, it was announced that MyVirtualBand.com was acquired by NetMusicMakers.com. Unfortunately, this led to MyVirtualBand being completely shut down, circa 2007.

There were 113 "featured songs" on MVB. They're all included here, along with detailed attribution info.

I love this music, and I don't think anyone else has shared this archive since the demise of MVB, so here it is for your listening pleasure!

Onsug Music - Misc

2009-2011
Curated by Frank Edward Nora

Two more compilations, and two songs that had previously gotten lost in the shuffle.

World Gateway Area Loop (11/25/09) 1:00:00 [231]

Background music loop for an imaginary theme park land called "World Gateway". This idea was inspired by the the "world music" trend of the 1990s, and generic "world" themes such as video game levels, Rainforest Cafe, etc. My initial idea was of "world laser tag" - like laser tag, but with the "world" theme instead of the generic sci-fi theme. Then I thought about some kind of indoor theme park with such a theme... or it could be one "land" of a much larger theme park... anyway, it's still a very vague idea, but I love the idea of making background music for an imaginary place like this...

This one-hour music loop consists of 27 tracks created by Kevin MacLeod, and released on his website, incompetech.com. The songs are licensed under Creative Commons "Attribution 3.0" - which means he gives permission for people to use the music in just about any way as long as they give him credit. I chose the set of songs and the sequence. I have to say, I was amazed to find such perfect music for this whimsical little project - Kevin is incredibly talented - I suggest you check out his site if you are looking for music!

List of songs used: AngloZulu, Folk Round, Baltic Levity, Kumasi Groove Flugelhorn, Cambodean Odessy, Thunderhead, Bama Country, Desert City, Tango de Manzana, Artifact, Parisian, Beach Party, Monkoto, Miri's Magic Dance, Ishikari Lore, Padanaya Blokov, Night of the Owl, Confused State, The North, Double Polka, Chanter, Whimsy Groove, Rhythm 2005, Netherworld Shanty, Night Cave, Celtic Impulse, Flutey Sting.

song: Remember November (from MyVirtualBand.com, 2005) 4:35 [948] Originally released on The Overnightscape Underground (onsug.com) on Sunday, November 2, 2008, it was discovered in March 2020 that this song never made it onto Onsug Radio (the new archive system, launched in 2016). So it is being added now. ¶ Original notes: A rock song by Jerry Collins (GTRman4040) and Bobshock, released 11/27/05 on MyVirtualBand.com ¶ MyVirtualBand.com was a website that began in late 2004 and closed in early 2007. On the site, musicians collaborated to create songs by uploading and downloading audio tracks. All the audio tracks on the site were released under the Creative Commons Attribution 2.0 license, which means that you can do pretty much what you want with the audio as long as you give credit to those who created it. There were 113 “featured songs” on the site, and a much greater number of songs “in progress”. Even though the site has shut down, the music from the site is still under the same license – which allows the songs to be re-released here in The Overnightscape Underground! ¶ Lyrics: You’re going through a phase you’re lost in a zone, You want the sun rays and its time to go home, It didnt really hit you its like a cartoon, Out in the market with your brand new goon / I grow old in age as you follow that dream, Living in rage with your boyfriend schemes, I’m tired of the lies that you put me through, I wont even bother with unfaithful you / A month to remember but it’s not a good thing, Remember November is the song to sing, You always need change a new distraction, Your choice is so lame and you blow attraction / Resistance is futile nothing left to say, Flirting with the locals one wrong day, November with a punch inspired this tune, Remembering the month a shadowing gloom / I say that you’re too loose you say that you’re adored, Nothing but the truth your choice to explore, Far from November memories of the past, Into December and I only look back / I grow old in age as you follow that dream, Living in rage with your boyfriend schemes, I’m tired of the lies that you put me through, I wont even bother with unfaithful you / A month to remember but it’s not a good thing, Remember November is the song to sing, You always need change a new distraction, Your choice is so lame and you blow attraction / Far from November memories of the past, Into December and I only look back, And since it’s December there’s nothing left for you, lost in November when somebody got screwed ¶ More info at onsug.com. License for this track: Creative Commons Attribution 2.0 (http://creativecommons.org/licenses/by/2.0/) Attribution: by Jerry Collins (GTRman4040) and Bobshock, released 11/27/05 on MyVirtualBand.com ¶ Here’s a comment that was made on the original post: ¶ Hey, Myself and some other guys and hundreds more are still collaborating at V-band.com – Alex (Crazyalex), Jerry (GTRman4040), and myself started the site when MVB shut down. ¶ Bobshock is at V-band.com too along with a couple of hundreds more. Our featured song page has hundres of completed projects and grows every week. ¶ Good to see some old tunes kicking Around. ¶ Lukas Adro (Luke from MVB) ¶ Comment by Lukas Adro — November 12, 2008 @ 2:56 am

Leisure Cassette System

by Tree Bag Ask

Sit back, relax, and chill out with Leisure Cassette System. Featuring 500 songs for over 25 hours of music, this set was created to be background music for Onsug Radio, but it can be used far beyond that. Just set it on shuffle and feel your troubles slipping away with the late night groove. Produced on a MadPlayer with software version P1.29.06, on the Cool Mix setting, by Tree Bag Ask (aka Frank Edward Nora). Mastered in Reason, with songs named in semi-random fashion using Oren Tirosh's mnemonic word list. See also Frank's previous similar projects, Midnight Cassette System (2010), New Midnight Cassette System (2012), and 500 Song Trip (2012). Released 7/20/23.

Just Say No To Politics – lyrics (c) 2010 Conspiracy of the Insignificant
Just say no to politics – Just a bunch of parlour tricks
When You See them Urging Voters – They're Just Trying to Meet Their Quotas
They Just Wanna Be In Power – They Will Make your stomach sour
Just Say no to politics – Isnt this a ton of bricks?
Bibble babble wasting time – Just another Party Line Rising up into a station – Representing corporations
Just Say No to Politics – Give you candles, sell you wicks
Tell you one thing then they switch – Kiss the asses of the rich
They are just a bunch a wankers – They will bail out all the bankers
Just say no to politics
They are on their best behaviour - They will owe too many favors
Funds from folks with such a hard-on – for a Presidential Pardon
Just say no to politics – Somethings voting just cant fix
Turning fiction into fact – Selling you the Patriot act
Emptiness in Legislation – Diplomatic Masturbation
Just say no to politics – Heaven is a lot like this Conspiracy of the Insignificant - Tasty Yeast - (8/11/10) 9:59 [401] Tell the truth: Did you ever imagine you would listen to a program that talks about a defunct and frightening failed food product like TASTYEAST? It had to happen. Also: another track from the lost vault, the first ONSUG host mix/collaboration is on the way (Bob LeMent of Morning Commute and Static Radio and PQ), and the usual babble that is integral to the Full Effect of the Universe's Greatest 10 Minute Broadcast.

Quaquaversal Satellite – Sanctum (10/16/13) 51:32 [407] Carrie Michel on Mystery – a follow-up to this week's Overnightscape Central!! Baby Secret Musics!! PQ reads a classic and unique 1933 Vic and Sade episode, and MORE! ¶ Further Info (courtesy Jimbo at vicandsade.blogspot.com): ¶ The Vic and Sade episode, Vic Has a Sore Knee, was actually one of the first 75 or so Vic and Sade episodes to ever be on the radio. It was first done in 1932 and (somewhat miraculously) re-done the next year. ¶ The script is one the strangest you will find in the whole of old-time radio. This is far beyond the famous "Adam and Eve" skit that somehow banned Mae West from radio for a good 10 years or more. It is way beyond "The War of the Worlds" or any of that ilk. I do not consider myself an expert of old-time radio as there are just far too many episodes to hear out there but of the 10,000 or shows I have heard, nothing comes close to this particular Vic and Sade episode. ¶ Was it funny? I'm not really sure if it was funny or not. It does not read "funny." As a matter of fact, it reads several different ways. ¶ In the beginning, it must have been quite somber. A two year child has died. Not even in the soapiest of soap operas did authors dare take a two year old baby and "kill" it, even or especially in 1932. Yet, this is what happens in this episode. ¶ Then was have Rush joking with his mother about how good she looks as she is about to go to the baby's funeral. I'm not suggesting in way, shape or form there is anything wrong with this but a look at the script when this happens shows clearly that Rush is prodding his mother almost to a blushing point with compliments about her beauty as she is about to step out the door for the baby's funeral. If nothing else, it's quite odd. ¶ The oddities continue as Rush prods his father with questions about the afterlife. Vic is uncomfortable with these questions ¶ Then there is the whole racial matter. I'm not sure hoe to approach it or even how I see it. It all boils down to 1932 being a far different time than 2013. Rush wants to help his less-fortunate neighbors, but even the most open-hearted person can see that simply does it the wrong way in the script. He doesn't ask ahead of time, he's got people sleeping in the bed behind the backs of his mother and father and most importantly, his mother is going to be shocked when she comes home to find them there (Sade is not the easiest person to trick nor appease. Sade will be a bear when she finds out and Vic KNOWS this.) ¶ So while this off script doesn't really seem to be funny, it probably was very, very funny – so funny in fact that Rhymer chose to have the cast do it again less than a year after the first run on the air. ¶ There's no doubt that this script wouldn't today and might even cause a controversy. But it shows you just how far ahead of his time that Rhymer was and always has been.

B for Breakfast [BP055] (March 21, 2010)
Cagey House creates ethereal and energetic instrumental music. Cagey House music has been featured on over one hundred alternative-oriented music podcasts, and also used as background, bumper, and theme music on many other non-music-oriented shows. Have had a couple of net-releases through Nishi, Umor-rex, Dog Eared, bumpfoot, and a few other netlabels.
B for Breakfast is Cagey House's latest production. The album has varied between being kind of pop/rock-ish and instrumental experiments. All the tracks focused on melody and rhythm, but with lots of unexpected twists and turns, and with some dada-style vocal samples mutually interacting.

Batavia EP (2010)

At Sea Music
This companion EP to “It Is Glorious to Make Electricity for Socialism” is about the British commercial war against the Dutch in the 18th century, Dutch colonialism in Indonesia and the amazing synergies between British and Indonesian folk songs. I’ve been having these ideas for over 20 years, so here are my musical thoughts over time. I’m not celebrating colonialism, I’m celebrating the connections between people made evident through music.

I Am Drunk
Alle basi della roncola (ca365)
Clinical Archives Collection
SAKEE SED The band was born as DE SEEKAS Letters turned upside-down, like in a mirror. The Sakee Sed are Marco Grezzi and Gianluca Perucchini, guys from Bergamo, Italy, born between 1984 and 1986, grown in the nearby of the “Roncola”, a grey mount in Bergamo. After a two-years experience with the band De Seekas, a band with a stoner-rock attitude, the two guys began to deal with Howard, a piano from the beginning of the century, which drives them to turn letterally upside-down their style and name.
“Alle basi della Roncola” (At the feet of the Roncola) is the title of their debut album as Sakee Sed, coloured and dark at the same time, compact and multifaceted but of great impact. The album contains 13 tracks that blend a sense of lightness with paranoia, friendship and hate, fairy and frenzy, everything hanging by a grey rural dimension and a coloured world soaked in LSD.
Old and vintage instruments, very simple and low-fi recording characterize the album. On the Howard’s tunes and on a dancing drumming, we find ourselves catapulted back to the old saloons of the 50s and we can even smell tobacco. Everything is surrounded by harmonies of acoustic and electric guitars, vibraphones, banjo, ukulele, horgans, basses, chorus, melted with Marco, just awake, voice.
Puns, metaphores and allusions characterize the lyrics. The reality of some images fits in novels that remind of a melancholy fairy.
Sakee Sed still seem to be able to listen to the children novels, the sound of nature and its becoming human, and involve all: introspective sound and stories of drugs and alchool, medicines, fears, everyday life and love.
Sakee Sed usually change their live sets, sometimes unplugged, sometimes loud and electric, and they are supported on stage by “the family”, some friends and musicians of them, like Roberta Sammarelli (Verdena), Nicolas Restivo [n!], Martina Togni e Thomas Maffi.

Logan Whitehurst and The Jr. Science Club
“Buckaroo Bonzai Is Not Just a Movie”
“An Introduction to...”
Logan Whitehurst (November 15, 1977 – December 3, 2006), was an American musician. His career began as the drummer for the band Little Tin Frog from 1995 until 2000, although he is best known as a founding member of Californian indie rock band The Velvet Teen[1] and as a solo artist performing under the name Logan Whitehurst and the Junior Science Club.
From November 2003 onward Logan battled fatigue, headaches, dizziness, and stomach illness. In May, 2004 it was discovered that the ailments he was suffering were due to a cancerous brain tumor. Deciding to focus on his recovery, he left The Velvet Teen[12] and put his solo career on hiatus. He spent the better part of a year and a half in treatments for the recurring brain cancer. On December 3, 2006, Logan Whitehurst succumbed to his illness at his home in Los Banos, California.

Hogan Grip – Stance Gives You Balance [foot156] (October 10, 2010)
To Henry Picard – An Outstanding Teacher, An Oustanding Player And An Outstanding Man
Junior85 formed a tag team with DeclanQKelly, that is Hogan Grip. Their description is as shown below.
There followed an intense fortnight or so of recording, mixing, the addition of various horns and and much golf tee painting to bring into existence the Hogan Grip EP "Stance Gives You Balance", which was launched on the 20th of August 2010 with much fanfare and free golf tees at the CitÃ³g free music night in Galway, within walking/golf carting distance of that same fateful charity shop. The music is based mostly on hurried improvisation, with the main parts of the songs composed and recorded in Tony's sitting room – DeclanQKelly played keys and guitar and Tony Higgins played drums, bass and keys. Additional magic occurred in Tony's bedroom where he made the songs go whoosh with extra instrumentation and magical masterering.
All the song titles for the EP were taken from phrases or chapter titles in Ben Hogan's seminal instructional golf book "Power Golf" (Corgi Press, 1958) (except "Stance Gives You Power", which was merely Tony's mis-remembering of "Stance Gives You Balance" that just stuck around). Though the resulting music bears little direct relation to "Power Golf", we believe it was conceived and executed in the spirit of the book, summed up in the last chapter "Now it's up to you". It contained "Eight hints on how to lower your score", which include such golden tips as "PLAY SAFE IF YOU CAN'T GET A CLEAN SHOT"; "COMMON SENSE" and "DON'T BE AFRAID". "LEARN TO PLAY THE SAND WEDGE" and "USE A CLUB WITH ENOUGH LOFT" were perhaps not so relevant to our cause but were duly noted and applied vigourously to other areas of our lives.
Most importantly, we learned that most people hit the outside of the ball instead of the back of it. Armed with this knowledge we are, admittedly, no better off generally, but feel there is at least something about ourselves we ought to be in some way improving. Which is as good a reason as any to go on living.

Spin Drive Smasher is a new 8-bit-infused chiptune artist from Milwaukee, Wisconsin. While many modern chiptune artists like to focus on club-style music, Spin Drive Smasher takes its cue from Final Fantasy, Megaman and other NES-era classics. Superman Fan Podcast Episode #146: It Was 50 Years Ago Today!*

As I celebrate my 50th birthday this week, on this episode I feature the Superman stories that were published the month I was born: September, 1960! Thanks to MIKE'S AMAZING WORLD OF DC COMICS at http://dcindexes.com for being an invaluable resource for this episode, as always!

DC published 27 titles during the month of September 1960, five of them Superman titles. They carried the cover date of November or November / December 1960, and a few carried the cover date of December 1960. All of the Superman titles that were published this month carried the November 1960 cover date.

- WORLD'S FINEST COMICS 113: published on September 6, 1960 and edited by Jack Schiff. The cover was pencilled by Curt Swan and inked by Stan Kaye. It featured the Superman / Batman story, BAT-MITE MEETS MR. MXYZPTLK, written by Jerry Coleman, pencilled by Dick Sprang and inked by Sheldon Moldoff. This story was reprinted in BATMAN FROM THE THIRTIES TO THE SEVENTIES, WORLD'S FINEST COMICS ARCHIVES vol. III and SHOWCASE PRESENTS: WORLD'S FINEST vol. II. (I may have mistakenly said vol. III. That's what I had written in my notes.)

The remaining Superman related titles were edited by Mort Weisinger.

- SUPERMAN 141: published on September 15, 1960. The cover was pencilled by Curt Swan and inked by Stan Kaye. SUPERMAN'S RETURN TO KRYPTON was written by Jerry Siegel, pencilled by Wayne Boring and inked by Stan Kaye. It was reprinted in SUPERMAN IN THE SIXTIES, SUPERMAN: THE GREATEST STORIES EVER TOLD vol. II and SHOWCASE PRESENTS: SUPERMAN vol. II.

- SUPERMAN'S GIRL FRIEND LOIS LANE 21 was published on September 22, 1960. The cover featured the second story in the issue, and was pencilled by Curt Swan and Kurt Schaffenberger (who inked Lois Lane and maybe Lana Lang). the rest of the cover was inked by Stan Kaye. THE LOIS LANE DOLL was written by Edmond Hamiltonand drawn by Kurt Schaffenberger. It was reprinted in SUPERMAN: THE BOTTLE CITY OF KANDOR. THE BATTLE BETWEEN SUPER LOIS AND SUPER LANA was drawn by Kurt Schaffenberger. The writer credit was unknown. It was only reprinted in 80 PAGE GIANT #3, with the cover date of September 1964.

I was disappointed to learn that no Superman titles were published on my birthday of September 27, 1960. The final two Superman related titles were published on September 29, 1960.

- ACTION COMICS 270: The cover was drawn by Curt Swan and inked by Stan Kaye. THE OLD MAN OF METROPOLIS was written by Otto Binder, pencilled by Curt Swan and inked by John Forte. It was reprinted in SHOWCASE PRESENTS: SUPERMAN vol. II and SHOWCASE PRESENTS: SUPERGIRL vol. I. SUPERGIRL'S BUSIEST DAY was written by Jerry Siegel and drawn by Jim Mooney. This story was reprinted in SUPERGIRL ARCHIVES vol. II and SHOWCASE PRESENTS: SUPERGIRL vol. I.

- ADVENTURE COMICS 278: The cover was drawn by Curt Swan and inked by Stan Kaye. SUPERGIRL IN SMALLVILLE was written by Otto Binder and drawn by Al Plastino. It was reprinted in SHOWCASE PRESENTS: SUPERGIRL vol. I.

Citizen Reporter ctrp352 Landing as a Journalist in Kabul, 1996*

In Sept. 1996 the Taliban had just taken over Kabul and Jeremy Wagstaff was working as a journalist for Reuters in Hong Kong when the unexpected happened. He was told they needed him in Kabul, without much preperation or explanation he eventually found his way there and found his way to the front lines of the war in Afghanistan.

In this podcast, recorded one calm sunny afternoon in Kabul, Jeremy recalls what the city was like in those days, what you could and couldn't do, and what dealing with the Taliban was like for a foreign journalist.

The Bikecast Episode #40: Giving Up on Politics*

Another element of Getting from Here to There is giving up on politics. The theatrics and drama of politics, along with the ever appealing us vs. them dynamic involved, freezes people for years and decades in the mistaken belief that the state can effect a reversal of social ills. Endless energy and resources are expended in the pursuit of political solutions and are thereby diverted from alternative efforts. This starving of effective, decentralized, and sustainable non-governmental approaches to social problems insulates and protects the existing power structures from the threat of any substantive change.

example of an otherworldly journey apocalypse as a type of literature, 1 Enoch (which most likely dates to about 225-200 BCE). The next episode examines the so called “Book of Watchers” in 1 Enoch chapters 1-36 in more detail.

Shadows in the Dark – Lost Cosmonauts (January 20, 2008)

Olav Phillips returned to the show to discuss the secret Soviet space program and the Lost Cosmonauts. In 1961, The Judica-Cordiglia brothers, after setting up a listening post which probed the cosmos and successfully tracked all the early american and soviet unmanned satellites, heard the beat of a failing heart and the last gasping breaths of a dying cosmonaut weeks before Yuri Gagarin’s epic space flight. It is believed that the Soviets tried to launch 2 men in to outer space before Gargarin.

"Next Time I See You Remind Me Not To Talk To You" (by Stealing Orchestra)
from Wikipedia entry for Stealing Orchestra:
A review by Cool and Strange Music Magazine back in 2000 gives a general idea of the music by Stealing Orchestra even if there were many changes in the line-up or musical creation.
"No matter how off the map Mascarenhas' musical funhouse gets, with things running backward and jumping in at the most inappropriate spots, there is always the semblance of a song. His mixed madness has a definite lounge and pop bent to it – yet there is also a strong Portuguese/Spanish flavor. Think of all faux Spanish music that exists out there, then try to imagine what would happen if someone from the area began lampooning American culture with that inherent style. It's like a soundtrack a spy movie ran through a blender."

“When I Snap My Fingers You’ll Wake Up” (by Eusebio)
These are 9 tracks testifying together about the way Bucharest is and feels like today. The album, simply called ONE, marks Eusebio’s debut and it doesn’t just play the capital’s soundscape. Its purpose is to make you feel like you are taking a walk through it: full blown human chaos with sound chaos and traffic chaos for the middle of the day and deep, deep clam punctuated by a vagrant dog or car for the middle of the night. The album contains reworked night time street ambient recordings and for any of the song there is a corresponding particular state of mind or moment in time.
It took Eusebio a full year to finish ONE, a full year of fine tuning to achieve minute details that you are aware of after two or three listening sessions. The more sessions, the more details. Synths, flutes, guitars, drums and drum effects and drum machines plus traffic signs turned drum kits, plates and glasses turned to chimes and bells, and above all these, the mighty PC, used as a recording, editing and mixing tool. Part of the songs are produced by Waar, Eusebio wingman in the High Jet project, an electronica extravaganza endeavor, a musical fresh mint designed to refresh you.

“Destroy She Says” (by Zoe.LeelA)
Queendom Come is some of the finest electronic urban soul I’ve heard on the internet. The Berlin artist has a silky smooth sound that rides a fine line between naughty and sexy. Her voice is casual yet seductive. The production values on her album are almost impeccable. Yet it is her vocals and breathy persona that tempts me into each replay. “Bridges” and “Destroy She Says” are two excellent examples of her alchemy. Download this and surrender to the temptation. -Marvin / Free Albums

How "Santa Claus Vs. The Devil" Came To America
Artist/Composer: Michael Edward Miller
Turner Classic Movies is getting ready to air one of the strangest Christmas films ever made. Created in 1959, its officially called "Santa Claus," but it's better known as "Santa Claus Vs. The Devil." You might remember seeing it in Chattanooga theaters–it used get re-released every few years at Christmas. You might remember seeing it lampooned on Mystery Science Theater 3000. The film was originally created in Mexico. A promoter named K. Gordon Murray brought it to the United States and dubbed it into English. Today, we will discover who K. Gordon Murray was, and why he brought this film to American children. In the 1960's, Murray was known as the "King of the Kiddie Matinee."
Daniel Griffith joins us. Griffith is a Chattanooga filmmaker and an expert on the subject. Griffith has been working on a documentary about Murray's life, called the Wonder World of K. Gordon Murray.

Very few people knew the fact that Makunouchi Bento have scored one of the most obscure imaginary movies in the history of VHS exclusives: Millano Brothers IV. The magnetic tapes (thought to be permanently lost) were accidentaly found by one of the guys' grandmother in an old macaroni box in her attic, and are now brought to your attention. Out of the 10 hours of original material, we've selected 3 songs, marking 3 important moments in the movie.

Hey Everybody, it's Jimbo!

2015-2017
Hosted by Jimbo

Making his way from being a guest/co-host on the Quaquaversal Satellite, Jimbo tries hard to perfect his shtick, which is mostly "comedic" in tone and is sometimes combined with his own original music.

Jimbo passed away in November 2017, but his voice lives on in these archives.
